TAKE KURSK; PERIL NAZI LINE

PRO-NAZI DUTCH GENERAL SLAIN; FEAR REPRISALS

Search for Killer; Advance Curfew.

LONDON, Feb. 8 (AP).—Gen. Hendrik Alexander Seyffardt, long known for pro-Nazi activities, died Saturday after being shot before his home in The Hague, and tonight the Netherlands news agency Aneta said the Germans were planning "drastic reprisals" against the population.

Lt. Gen. H. A. Seyffardt.

Both Aneta and the Berlin radio announced the death of Lt. Gen. Seyffardt, who was chief of the Netherlands army staff for five years before his retirement in 1934. Berlin said there were no details regarding the assassin or his arrest.

The 70 year old general had been appointed Feb. 1 by the Dutch Nazi leader, Anton A. Mussert, to raise an army for service on the Russian front. Aneta declared Seyffardt had been unpopular for several years because of his pro-Nazi leanings.

Fear Mass Executions.

Aneta said the curfew had been advanced from 11 p. m. to 9 p. m. in two provinces to facilitate the search for the killer.

The Netherlands government in London frequently had warned the Dutch population against overt acts that might lead to reprisals by German authorities, and Dutch officials here expressed fear the reprisals might lead to mass executions.

Radio Orange, the Netherlands station here, said tonight it was not known whether the slaying was "the case of a patriot acting from misdirected patriotism, or whether it was the relative of a deceased or possibly mutilated and disillusioned volunteer who avenged himself on this crimp."

Formed Dutch Legion.

The general had previously formed a volunteer legion called the "Vrijkorps" of a few thousand men and Aneta said most of these had been killed in Russia.

Gen. Seyffardt was born in Breda on Nov. 1, 1872, and was graduated from the Royal Military academy there. He advanced to major general in 1928 and to lieutenant general in 1930. He was married in the fall of 1941 in a German church in The Hague because Dutch clergymen refused to perform the ceremony.

11 DAY SEA FIGHT AT GUADALCANAL STILL RAGING ON

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8 (AP).—Japanese and American air and sea forces are continuing operations in the southwest Pacific in the vicinity of the Solomon Islands, a navy spokesman indicated today.

"The situation remains unchanged," he said. This was interpreted to mean the activities which began 11 days ago are still in progress, with neither side having forced a decisive engagement.

The activities have been variously described by the navy as "sporadic actions" and "recurrent encounters" between the opposing forces.

[A Japanese broadcast quoted a Domei (Japanese) News agency correspondent as reviewing the battle of the Solomons and New Guinea as "most pathetic and tragic incidents," saying that in New Guinea "attacks by the enemy air force were very great. The first day we landed the enemy carried out 19 raids. The problem of supply was so difficult in the Solomons and New Guinea that Japanese troops went for 20 days without even a grain of rice."]

Mrs. Wright, U. S.-Born M. P., Expecting Baby

LONDON, Feb. 8 (AP).—Mrs. Beatrice Wright, who succeeded her first husband as a Conservative member in the British house of commons, and so became the second American-born woman to hold a seat there, announced today that she is going to have a baby. The birth of this child will accredit Mrs. Wright as being the first woman in the history of the house of commons to become a mother while a member of parliament.

REDS WIN PIVOT OF FOE'S '41-'42 WINTER FRONT

Pressure Increased on Rostov.

MOSCOW, Feb. 9 [Tuesday]—(AP).—Sweeping westward with unprecedented speed, the Red army has recaptured the pivotal city of Kursk, a major bastion in the Nazis' 1941-'42 winter defense line, has fanned out over a tremendous area and is threatening vital objectives both to the northwest and south.

Kursk was one of the biggest German bases in all Russia, and the Red army in its offensive last winter, altho able to push to the immediate area, failed to take it then, and it remained in German hands to become an important springboard for the Nazi 1942 spring and summer onslaught.

Now, however, the triumphant soviet army has toppled the city quickly. Maj. Gen. Chernyakovsky led the occupation, a special communique announced last night, making an advance of 24 miles from Zolotukhino and other towns north and west of the city.

Threat of Encirclement.

With the fall of this strongpoint, more of the same kind of operations may be expected, and Kharkov and Rostov both are now in imminent danger and appear to be under threat of encirclement—as other Germans were trapped and wiped out at Stalingrad.

Kursk, 280 miles south of Moscow and 125 miles north of Kharkov, ranked with Orel, Bryansk, Kharkov, and Rostov as key points of the German 1941-'42 winter line. Its capture imperiled the entire German defensive line in Russia.

The announcement came as a surprise. Previous Russian communiques had not indicated that Kursk was under direct attack. It had been outflanked with the capture of Fatezh, 35 miles to the northwest, announced on Sunday, and other soviet columns had been moving up from the southeast and east, and down from the north.

Kursk was occupied after "a violent attack" assisted by "an encircling movement from the northwest," said the special communique as recorded here by the soviet radio monitor. The operation was under the command of Maj. Gen. Chernyakovsky.

New Threat to Kharkov.

The communique also said that "northeast of Belgorod our troops after a stubborn engagement occupied the town of Korocha." The places are southeast of Kursk in the direction of Kharkov.

The fall of Kursk increased the peril of Kharkov, regarded as the kingpin of the Nazi line. It freed more soviet forces for such an attack. Soviet spearpoints aimed at Kharkov already stand within 65 miles to the northeast and 43 miles to the southeast.

In turn, this crumbling of the Germans in this vital Ukraine front gave added weight to the Russian threat to the rear of Rostov. An army under Col. Gen. N. F. Vatutin was reported continuing its drive toward Mariupol on the Sea of Azov to cut off any retreat for the enemy at Rostov. Mariupol is 100 miles west of Rostov.

Threatens 250,000 Troops.

Vatutin's southward drive from the Donetz river threatens a quarter million or more Germans with another "Stalingrad death trap." His force captured Kramatorsk, 22 miles southwest of Barvenkovo, on Sunday, and was said to be still gaining in the area. His offensive has been jumping ahead at a rate of 20 to 25 miles a day. The extreme Russian advance had driven 125 miles into the Ukraine, Russia's principal breadbasket.

Rostov, on the high north bank of the Don river, was being shelled by masses of Russian artillery on the south shore of the 1,400 foot wide river, now covered with 19 to 27 inches of ice. The midnight communique said Red infantry units "broke into a large town" in the Rostov area "and are clearing it of Hitlerites."

The only Germans left south of the Don were clustered around the Kuban capital of Krasnodar and Novorossisk. Dispatches suggested Krasnodar was surrounded.

[The German communique sought to minimize the threat by saying fighting was relatively light in the great Donetz bend, in the estuary area of the Don, and in the western Caucasus. The Germans said 31 Russian tanks landed at the Black sea base of Novorossisk were destroyed.]

IOWA SENATORS CUT 50 PCT. OFF 1943-'44 STATE INCOME TAXES

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 8 [Special].—A bill giving the state income taxpayers a 50 per cent cut during 1943 and 1944 was passed today by the senate of the Iowa legislature by a vote of 47 to 0. A vigorous fight over the method of making the reduction preceded the voting.

The bill was sent to the house of representatives, where it will be brought up as soon as a fight over local option on state liquor stores is ended.

The senate first killed an amendment offered by Sen. Albert Shaw [R., Pocahontas], which would have increased the credits and deductions instead of a flat 50 per cent cut.

Another amendment sponsored by the Iowa Farm Bureau federation and offered by Sen. J. Kendall Lynes [R., Plainfield] would have given property owners only a 50 per cent credit on their property taxes. It was defeated. Sen. Frank Byres [R., Cedar Rapids] in opposing the amendment declared the farm bureau was representing the wealthy farm owners in the state.

CEILING PLANNED FOR MILK PRICES PAID TO FARMER

The office of price administration announced last night that it will place nation-wide ceilings on the prices paid farmers for fluid milk, but dairy industry spokesmen saw little immediate effect on milk prices in the Chicago area.

The Washington announcement said the first ceiling will be temporary, set in a few days, and will be replaced by permanent milk price orders on April 9.

The OPA said the action will be taken to prevent retail milk price increases and that the Chicago area ceiling price to farmers will be $3.30 a hundredweight [46.5 quarts], reflecting the January level.

The producer price here has jumped 66 cents since last March when retail milk price ceilings were based, and the OPA has permitted two retail price increases since Jan. 1, totaling about 1¼ cents a quart.

Ceilings thruout the nation will vary from $2.75 to $4.80 a hundredweight, depending on locality, the OPA said.

Dairy representatives warned that while the ceiling price order might not alter the present situation, a serious dislocation would follow if farmers are required to pay still higher prices for labor and for the goods they consume.

Paul A. Potter, executive secretary of the Associated Milk Dealers, Inc., said that his organization mailed notices yesterday to all its dealers of an OPA announcement extending the Chicago area retail milk ceiling to the suburban area comprising the balance of Cook county, the southern two townships of Lake county and all but two townships of Du Page county.

Coupon No. 17 Is Shoe Rush Ticket Today

BY RITA FITZPATRICK.

Armed with ration ticket No. 17 and a grim determination to get the best pair of shoes both can buy, women will throng shoe shops thruout the city today.

This was the forecast yesterday by shoe merchants who spent the day answering numerous questions for customers and endeavoring to locate extra help for the promised rush today. Envisioning a shortage of the luxury line of shoes with their subtly blended shades, sculptured heels, and whimsical doodads, women shoppers will cash their ration tickets [and probably those of the men in the family] for the last of flattering footwear for the duration. One pair of shoes may be purchased for each ration ticket held in the family. Only one pair of shoes per ration ticket may be purchased up to June 15.

Rehearsal for Real Buying.

Altho stocks appear to be ample for the present, a run on high quality merchandise is indicated, merchants and shoe buyers for large department stores contended. Preparing for purchases today, women shoppers yesterday requested to see soft, expensive calf skins, patent leather sandals and delicate hued pumps. Women in shabby winter coats were seen pirouetting in $13.50 shoes before foot mirrors.

[Glencoe shoe exchange gets off to busy start; may include clothing. Story on page 8.]

All in all, it was a heyday yesterday for women who wore out a lot of shoe leather going from store to store shopping for shoes without money. By late afternoon shoe clerks began to suspect that the long standing joke about women trying on every shoe in the place was coming true. Shoe boxes made mounds of confusion in most of the stores.

Just Like a Matinée.

"Women kept coming in all day and saying, 'Put this pair of shoes away, and that, too,'" one clerk commented. "Most of them were just window shoppers and the majority of them won't be back to call for the shoes. I think I pulled down more boxes of shoes today than I have in my entire life. It seems to me that women have a better time shopping for shoes they don't buy than they do at a matinée."

[In Washington OPA officials shrugged off the news that leak of information caused runs on shoe stores last Sunday. Details on page 8.]

Many of the shops continued to lay aside selections for customers and their back rooms began to resemble inventory day. Fancy patent leather sandals, high-toned pumps that are soon to go off the market, "wedgies," and other platform numbers were much in demand.

Quiet in "Health" Stores.

"The shoe ration program will be an advantage to retailers of high priced merchandise," a manager of one salon contended. "From all indications, women are going to buy shoes that will last a long time. It is the shopkeeper who specializes in high-styled, cheaper merchandise that will be hit the hardest."

The greatest calm prevailed in the shops specializing in "health" shoes. "The type of health shoe we sell is not a high styled product," the manager of one shop explained. "They are sturdy, durable, and fitted to the foot. Most of our customers wear our shoes for years. We are not worried in the slightest about the rationing program."

Men Take It Calmly.

A normal shopping day also was experienced by clerks in shops which cater to men only. The only variance noticed was the great number of black pumps that were requested to be put aside. Peculiarly enough, two-toned shoes, which will soon be off the market, were not selected in most of the men's stores.

Questioned on all sides by clerks and customers, one manager of a woman's shoe shop closed his store in the face of a throng of women. "It's a good thing this rationing program was not announced six weeks in advance," he said, wiping his forehead. "We couldn't have put up with the three ring circus we're having today. Women just love to shop for shoes. I think I'll have to call out the state militia or civilian defense tomorrow."

OFFICER'S SON KILLS SOLDIER ATTEMPTING ATTACK ON MOTHER

San Miguel, Cal., Feb. 8 (AP).—A 15 year old son of an army officer, using a .22 caliber rifle given him as a Christmas present, early today shot and killed an army private who was trying to attack his mother, Capt. Frank H. Jacobs, Camp Roberts provost marshal, announced.

Capt. Jacobs said the boy, Daniel Glecier, fired one shot at Pvt. Forrest I. Gibbs, 36, of Danville, Va.

The provost said the shooting occurred at 4:15 a. m. in an auto camp in San Miguel, three miles from Camp Roberts, when Gibbs broke into the cabin in which the boy and his mother, Mrs. Nathalie Bertha Glecier, 34, were alone. The boy's father, Lt. Lewis Glecier, field artillery officer, was away on emergency leave.

District Atty. Herbert C. Grundell of San Luis Obispo county said that the boy would not be arrested by civil authorities unless the military requested such action. He added that there was no indication such a request would be made.

U. S. Magazine Called Decoy for 4th Term

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—A charge was made today on the senate floor that the administration is trying to drum up a fourth term for President Roosevelt thru propaganda activities among troops.

Sen. R. C. Holman.

Sen. Rufus C. Holman [R., Ore.] described government movies prepared for showing to the fighting men—"prospective voters," he said—and entertained the senate with excerpts from the new government magazine, Victory, in which glowing tributes were paid to President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

The magazine, with an initial issue of 540,000 copies, is published in six languages for distribution abroad and was described by Holman as "a new federal venture in personal political propaganda." He introduced a resolution for a senate investigation into the government's movie and magazine enterprises.

Democrats Squirm in Seats.

Republicans chuckled and Democrats squirmed in their seats as Holman delivered his discourse on fourth term aspirations as he discerned them from the magazine's colorful descriptions of the President.

"I should like to read," he told the senate, "a few paragraphs in this publication which are intended to strike terror to our enemies, to cause the Japanese to retreat, and the followers of Hitler to lay down their arms. I read:

"There are really two Franklin Delano Roosevelts. There is the forceful war leader of his country in the most perilous period of its history; a brilliant statesman of great sincerity, of deep perception, and a visionary whose social and economic philosophies once before saved his country in a crisis. The second Roosevelt is a warm hearted, kindly and companionable man, whose personal charm has won him the love of millions of his loyal countrymen, and a man who in overcoming a serious attack of infantile paralysis in adult life proved his own insurmountable personal courage."

A "True Democrat" Hailed.

Holman read also a quotation in the article attributed to one of the President's "closest friends," which said:

"Both the President and Mrs. Roosevelt are instinctively the kindest people I have ever known. . . . Franklin Roosevelt is a true aristocrat because he is a true Democrat [laughter] and time and time again I have watched Mrs. Roosevelt at a big reception break away from a group that held especial interest for her and join some one who seemed alone and out of it on the sidelines. . . ."

"How terrifying that must be to the Japs!" remarked Holman.

Sen. John A. Danaher [R., Conn.] asked who was the author of the remarks appearing in the magazine.

"There is no name signed to it," replied Holman, "altho the pronoun 'I' is used in it. I cannot find out who the 'I' is."

"Terrifying" to Nazis.

Danaher asked Holman whether he would yield for another question, to which Holman remarked, "Would the senator rather have me yield than terrify the Germans with some more of this?"

"This entire magazine is merely window dressing for a personal political campaign," Holman charged.

When Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley inquired into the purport of Holman's resolution, Holman offered to show him the colored illustrations in the magazine. One was a full page color portrait of the President with a silk American flag as the background.

Holman said perusal of the pages and reading of the "vainglorious text" gave him the impression that the President was seeking a fourth term. He also told the senate of seeing a government movie, "A Prelude to War," which he described as "window dressing" for the campaign.

GET BACK TO WASH TUBS, WPB TELLS ALL HOUSEWIVES

New York, Feb. 8 [Special].—Housewives today were advised to get out their wash tubs and accustom themselves to washing their husbands' shirts and other domestic laundry as a means of conserving fuel oil. The suggestion was made at a joint press conference of the war production board and the petroleum administration for war.

BILLS ASK DRAFT TO WAR JOBS OF MEN AND WOMEN

Compulsory Plan Is Introduced.

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—Bills were introduced in congress today for compulsory drafting of men and women for war work, backed by the original interventionist sponsors of the legislation for drafting men for military service.

An administration spokesman, Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the war man power commission, whose "work or fight" by April 1 edict hurried introduction of the legislation, promptly declared there is no need for compulsory legislation at this time for drafting war labor.

Disclaimed by Party Leaders.

The bills were introduced simultaneously in the senate by Sen. Warren R. Austin [R., Vt.] and in the house by Rep. James W. Wadsworth [R., N. Y.], both ardent interventionists and supporters of President Roosevelt's foreign policy.

Republicans privately disclaimed any responsibility for the draft legislation as a party measure and said Austin and Wadsworth sponsored the legislation as individuals rather than in behalf of the party.

The legislation would compel men between 18 and 65 years old and women between 18 and 50 to accept any job to which they would be assigned by the federal government. Selection for jobs would be handled thru the selective service boards now handling the drafting of men for military service.

McNutt Prefers Volunteers.

McNutt told a press conference that he felt "voluntary" methods of getting war labor should be given a complete trial before resorting to compulsory legislation.

McNutt said the man power commission was "under obligation" to find other work for men stripped of dependency draft deferment by the rating of their present work as nonessential.

Furthermore, he said, if such men are capable of filling essential job openings and fail to obtain those jobs only because the WMC fails to meet its "obligation," local draft boards would have discretionary authority to postpone their induction.

McNutt said it would be up to the federal employment service to find a job for "those who are employable" when there was a demand in essential activity for man power and that if the service failed local draft boards should credit registrants with "making an honest effort."

Origin of Support.

The labor draft legislation is supported by an organization called the "Citizens Committee for a National War Service Act," which admits having the same membership as the "National Emergency committee" which in 1940 aided in the drafting and advocacy of the Burke-Wadsworth military draft bill.

Grenville Clark, member of the New York law firm of Root, Clark, Buckner & Ballentine, who was active in developing the original draft bill, is secretary-treasurer of the new committee.

COMPANY RENTS HONEYMOON ISLE FOR VACATIONS

Cleveland, O., Feb. 8 (AP).—Honeymoon Isle—where newlyweds once started married life at the expense of a New York real estate promoter—is going to become a war workers' "paradise."

President William S. Jack of Jack & Heintz, Inc., announced today his company had leased the 50 thatch roofed cottages on the 335 acre island in the Gulf of Mexico for the associates' [Jack's term for his employés] vacations.

The concern's 4,500 associates, who are working 12 hours a day, seven days a week producing war plane parts, will be given the choice of a holiday in the south during the next few months or at Harbor Island in Georgian bay next summer, with expenses paid.

Jack said the company's agreement with the AFL machinists' union calls for a two week vacation with pay and that the honeymoon isle plan replaces a former one of giving each associate $100 for vacation expenses. He reported not a single working hour had been lost by the company so far this month.

1,375 BOATLOADS OF 'LEND' GOODS SENT TO BRITAIN

Disclose 304 Sailed for Russia, 66 for China.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8 (AP)—Rear Adm. Emory S. Land, war shipping administrator, disclosed today that American controlled vessels, in the year ending Oct. 31, 1942, had made 1,745 sailings loaded with lend lease material—1,375 for Britain, 304 for Russia, and 66 for China.

"Unfortunately, not every vessel that sailed arrived at her destination, but by far the largest portion of them did," he told the house foreign affairs committee in urging continuance of the lend lease act for another year.

Land's figures, giving the public for the first time some idea of the distribution of lend lease shipments except in terms of millions or billions of dollars, were revealed as it was learned that at least four members of the committee planned to press for an explanation of how much help was going to China.

Curley Pleads for China.

Later Rep. James M. Curley [D., Mass.] told the house that he had written President Roosevelt suggesting that 10 per cent of all lend-lease funds be earmarked for aid to China.

Maintaining that the Chinese forces, properly equipped, could defeat Japan in six months, the former governor of Massachusetts said the far Pacific battlefields were in a "yellow man's country."

He argued that concentration on furnishing the Chinese with military equipment would save the lives of 500,000 American men.

"In the current year," Land reported, "lend lease sailings of American vessels will greatly increase, and may even double the 1942 volume."

Simultaneously, he said that "we are planning to build 18,890,000 deadweight tons of new shipping during 1943.

Fleet to Surpass Britain's.

"On the basis of building statistics, and the estimated sinkings which may occur in 1943, our dry cargo fleet should surpass Britain's about the middle of the year, and by the end of the year, our fleet may be as much as 25 per cent greater that theirs."

He told the committee that lend lease had proved "A two way passage so far as shipping is concerned."

He cited as an example, the case of ships under the American flag carrying supplies for the British to the middle east, while the British "on the other hand have run their own middle east ships into our ports with bauxite for us, taking the long way home, and then loading out of the United States with lend lease goods for the United Kingdom."

Land disclosed that in the year ending Oct. 31, 1942, the maritime commission, first, and later the war shipping administration, had repaired 1,482 allied nations' vessels in American yards in addition to its own flag vessels.

Favors Extending Lend-Lease.

"I favor the extension of the lend-lease act," Land declared. "Lend-lease and lend-lease in reverse should not be abandoned. The lend-lease act is a flexible instrument, which has proven that in time of emergency a democracy can meet and outmatch the challenge of so-called Fascist efficiency."

He reported that approximately 41 per cent of all war shipping administration controled dry cargo tonnage in active service is engaged in army operations.

Another 13 per cent is being used by the navy, while 30 per cent is making lend-lease voyages to Great Britain, the middle east, the Indian ocean area, and China. The balance carries "a large amount" of army and navy cargo, he reported, "but operates mainly in other necessary services to maintain the essential civilian economy."

Lincoln's Birthday to Open Americanism Observance

The period from Feb. 12, Lincoln's birthday, to Feb. 22, Washington's birthday, was proclaimed "Americanism week in Chicago" by Mayor Kelly yesterday. The proclamation, urging all citizens to give thought to their duties and privileges as Americans, was made in connection with National Americanism week, sponsored by the United States Junior Association of Commerce.

FIND STOLEN MEAT INTACT.

A truck loaded with 20,000 pounds of meat, stolen from in front of the Takin Brothers' Freight Lines, 1912 Jourdan court, yesterday, was found abandoned a few minutes later at Halsted and 19th streets, a half block away, its contents intact, Charles Mason, a shipping clerk, reported.

ENVOY SAYS 5TH OF CANADA'S WAR GOODS GO TO U.S.

McCarthy Says Guns Flown West in 1941.

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 8 (AP).—Leighton McCarthy, Canadian minister to the United States, told the Canadian club today that Bren guns, "in some quantity," were flown from Toronto to "a distant point in the Pacific" in December, 1941, after the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor.

The attack on Pearl Harbor, meant by the Japanese as a "knockout blow," became the rallying cry for "the most tremendous war effort ever made," he said.

"Where we had been seeking an outlet for Canadian supplies, we were now faced with an urgent demand. . . . Joint defense also assumed a new and very lively aspect, and we had reason to appreciate the months of preparation that the Ogdensburg agreement had given us."

Defense Alliance.

[The Ogdensburg agreement provided for the establishment of a defensive alliance between the United States and Canada on a continental scale.]

Both the Ogdensburg and the Hyde Park agreements required machinery. To carry out the former, the joint defense board was established and in the case of the Hyde Park agreement joint United States-Canadian committees were organized to control and integrate industrial production and the supply of essential raw materials.

"Beyond a doubt," the minister said, "the combined war output of the two countries is considerably greater today than it could possibly have been without the Hyde Park agreement.

Now Can Pay Cash.

"Significantly, about one-fifth of Canada's war output now moves to the United States. As a result we are able to pay cash for the war materials we must import from her for our own use.

"Let me assure you," he added, "that this war ecort of ours is appreciated in Washington."

"In 1492 Columbus discovered America—in 1942 America discovered Canada. . . . We are a small and scattered and not fully developed people of 11½ millions, but there is no single phase of this war in which we have not played an effective part. We should have no inferiority complex—not even alongside the might and majesty of the United States of America."

U-BOATS SINK 14 BRITAIN-BOUND SHIPS, SAY NAZIS

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The German high command claimed in a special bulletin yesterday that a Nazi submarine pack, striking day after day at an allied convoy eastbound to Britain, had sunk 14 vessels totaling 109,000 tons—including five tankers—and damaged another with a torpedo hit.

The communique was broadcast by the Berlin radio 24 hours after the Germans had reported that their U-boats had sunk a British cruiser of the 5,450 ton Dido class in the eastern Mediterranean and 20 merchant vessels in convoys bound for England.

1 BILLION DOLLAR GIFT LEND-LEASE ASKED IN CANADA

Ilsley Outlines Debtless Plan to Commons.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 8 (AP).—Creation of a billion dollar program to send, by outright gift, loan, or reciprocal agreements, surplus Canadian war materials directly to allied countries was proposed in the house of commons today by Finance Minister J. L. Ilsley.

The proposal is analagous to the United States lend-lease program, with the principal difference that reciprocal arrangements would not be asked or sought in every instance.

"No financial impediment would be allowed to interfere with this sensible sharing of our war production," Ilsley said.

Would Act with Free Hand.

"It is proposed . . . to reserve the right to transfer goods on such terms and conditions as the government may deem appropriate, so that in certain cases Canada may receive the benefit of such reciprocal arrangements as may be practicable.

"However, the government believes that the conditions under which Canadian war supplies are made available to the other united nations should not be such as to burden postwar commerce or lead to the imposition of trade restrictions or otherwise prejudice a just and enduring peace.

"An essential feature of this proposal is that it shall be good and sufficient consideration for transferring war supplies to other united nations that such supplies are to be used in the joint and effective prosecution of the war."

Canada Would Control Output.

Much of Canada's production has gone to areas other than those in which Canadian forces are fighting, but it has gone thru the United States or Britain. Under Ilsley's proposal, the material would go directly to countries where they would do the most good.

Distribution would be handled by a five-man war supplies allocation board. The billion dollar appropriation would cover the board's operations for the next fiscal year beginning April 1.

Ilsley also announced that under a proposed bill Canada would take over all United Kingdom interests in war plants and equipment in Canada, valued at about $200,000,000.

These plants and equipment were provided under the joint Canada-United Kingdom capital assistance program administered by the Canadian munitions department.

WOMAN ROBBED AND SLUGGED.

Miss Francine Kalise, 2129 North Rockwell street, reported to police yesterday that a man robbed her of a purse containing $5 at Elbridge and Wellington avenues, then struck her on the head.

CANADA PRICE CHIEF TO ADDRESS CHICAGO BUSINESS LEADERS

Donald Gordon.

Donald Gordon, chairman of Canada's war time prices and trade board, will speak at the 16th annual dinner of the Better Business Bureau of Chicago this evening at the Palmer House. His address, the first before an American audience, will deal with Canada's planning of war controls.

The board Gordon heads is similar to the OPA. Many of the measures now in operation in the United States are patterned after the procedures Gordon put into effect in Canada. He is described as a critic of burocratic methods, believing in a minimum of red tape.

Before taking his present office he was a leader in Canadian banking and a member of the dominion's foreign exchange control board. He is credited with making Canada's war time exchange control effective. He is 41 years old and a native of Scotland.

Gordon will be the guest of Hughston M. McBain, president of Marshall Field & Co., at a luncheon this noon at the Chicago club.

W. B. RUTLEDGE CONFIRMED FOR SUPREME COURT

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8 (AP).—The senate confirmed the nomination of Wiley B. Rutledge to the Supreme court today to restore the court's full strength of nine justices following the resignation of James F. Byrnes to be stabilization director.

Rutledge, Roosevelt's eighth appointee to the court, probably will take his seat by next Monday.

Sen. William Langer [R., N. D.] made the only speech against Rutledge, formerly a justice of the District of Columbia Court of Appeals. Langer contended that a lawyer of wide practical experience rather than a "second best" justice should be appointed to the court.

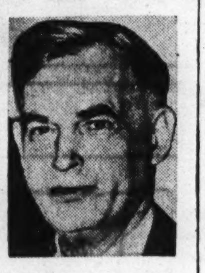
"Why he was chosen as a member of the District of Columbia Court of Appeals I am at a loss to understand," Langer added, "unless it is because he comes from Iowa City, which is the home of Harry Hopkins."

Lt. John Roosevelt Sent to Oakland by Navy

Coronado, Cal., Feb. 8 (AP).— Lt. [j. g.] John Roosevelt, the President's youngest son, said today he and his family will move to Oakland next week where he will report for navy duty. He has been stationed here more than a year. The Roosevelts have two children. Mrs. Roosevelt was the former Anne Lindsay Clark of Boston.

NEW TRIAL GIVEN ATTORNEY GUILTY IN SEDITION CASE

Judge Believes He Erred; 2 Others Sentenced.



Newell Mecartney.

Judge William H. Holly in federal District court said yesterday he believed he should have instructed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty against Newell Mecartney, 52 years old, a Chicago attorney who was convicted of sedition Jan. 14. With this comment, Judge Holly granted the lawyer a new trial.

Judge Holly said the evidence failed to show that Mecartney, who lives at 1304 Darrow avenue, Evanston, helped to distribute the pamphlets.

Gets Five Year Term.

Mecartney's two co-defendants, Elmer Hartzel, 51, of 21 West 110th street, and Elmer W. Soller, 39, of 4233 North Moody avenue, who were convicted with him in the first sedition trial in the Chicago district since World War I., were sentenced to prison after Judge Holly overruled their pleas for a new trial.

Hartzel was sentenced to five years' imprisonment for writing pamphlets intended to destroy the morale of the fighting forces and provoke insubordination, and mailing them to 600 service men and others.

Soller, a mimeographer who printed Hartzel's articles on a machine in an office he shared with the lawyer at 800 North avenue, and whom Judge Holly termed a "dupe," was sentenced to a year and a day.

Mecartney, who was quoted as having said that the Pearl Harbor attack was "well deserved punishment for the United States," steadfastly declared he did not know the contents of the pamphlets which Soller printed.

Calls Verdict Correct.

Before he pronounced the prison sentences, Judge Holly said that it was the jury's duty to decide whether Hartzel and Soller committed sedition, adding: "I think they decided correctly."

"Thruout these pamphlets," he said, "runs the theme that the United States was led into war needlessly by a diseased President, whom he [Hartzel] called Rosenfelt, for his own glory on behalf of the Jews.

"Their sole purpose was to interfere with the prosecution of the war."

More Mail, Fewer Kicks, Says Postmaster Here

Altho the postoffice in this war is handling a larger volume of mail to members of the fighting forces than in World War I., fewer complaints have been received concerning delays or lost pieces, Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen said yesterday.

PUBLIC SERVICES IN HAWAII GIVEN BACK TO CIVILIANS

18 Functions Restored by Army Command.

Lt. Gen. D. C. Emmons.

HONOLULU, T. H., Feb. 8 (AP).—Restoration of 18 functions of government from military to civil rule in Hawaii was proclaimed today, effective in 30 days, by Lt. Gen. Delos C. Emmons, military governor, and the territorial governor, Ingram Stainback.

Under this modification of military rule, which has been in effect since Pearl Harbor, Gov. Stainback proclaimed that "the state of martial law remains in effect and the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus remains suspended."

Restored Functions Listed.

Functions restored to civil authorities included most public services such as price control and rationing, public health, food control and distribution, traffic and transportation, regulation of hours of business, judicial proceedings, public schools, garbage collection, censorship of civilian mails, and wages and working conditions.

Banking and the securities trade also were exempted from military rule, with the provision that the commanding general may prescribe measures to prevent the enemy from profiting by them. The war and navy departments also were left in control of hours, wages, and working conditions of employés of the United States on docks and similar projects.

Will Name Committee.

The proclamations provide that the commanding general and governor will appoint a joint advisory committee to consult and advise with regard to labor matters in their respective fields.

The proclamations also provide that whenever the general considers it necessary for the security of the islands or their use as a military or naval base, he may take over functions and jurisdictions restored to the civil authorities. Such action would come after consultation with the territorial governor.

BRITAIN'S FOOD CHIEF PREDICTS SUMMER CRISIS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Food Minister Woolton again warned tonight that food supplies may decrease by August and said that when he was urging people to eat potatoes instead of bread he was thinking six months ahead.

There were signs in the market today that food supplies were none too plentiful. Fish was difficult to find. Lines for canned fruit were formed at 9 a. m. and by midday many shops were sold out.

The public was warned over the radio tonight to utilize every possible inch of ground to grow vegetables which are likely to become exceedingly short next winter.

Fighting General

Brig. Gen. Hanford MacNider giving first aid to his feet after a march thru rugged New Guinea country. Gen. MacNider was wounded during the campaign, and the incident was related to W-G-N listeners last night by E. R. Noderer, Tribune war correspondent now in Chicago.

WALKING ARSENAL SEIZED BY POLICE IN STREET BATTLE

Two detectives, aided by three squads of police, subdued and arrested a man last night at Morgan and Hubbard streets after a half hour battle.

The detectives said they believe he is a demented man, who escaped from an institution. He gave his name as Marvin Peterson, 31 years old. He was armed with a .22 caliber rifle, 46 rounds of ammunition, a dagger, an axe, and a straight razor. He also wore shoes with steel cleats. The arsenal was concealed in his clothing.

Detectives Edward Kennedy and Joseph Ponicki became suspicious of him when they saw he wore a brown cap with a sharp peak, similar to those worn by convicts. When Kennedy started to question him, he struck the detective and broke his glasses. Kennedy and Ponicki subdued him momentarily, but he broke away.

Several spectators helped the detectives and the three police squads to capture him again. He was held in the Racine avenue station while police checked his finger prints.

BRITISH WOMEN ASK WAR WORK BEFORE CALL-UP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Thousands of women all over the country are applying at employment exchanges for war time jobs before the compulsory call-up on Feb. 22 of those in the 31 to 40 age group.

They have already registered and been interviewed except for those with families of young children or with heavy household responsibilities. Women belonging to this age group, if employed on nonessential work, will on Feb. 22 be directed into essential war work. Some businesses may close due to the wholesale resignation of women employés trying to get places before the call-up.

Married women with certain household duties will be directed into part time work after Feb. 22. This applies to women with no children under 14 years old. They will be required to take part time work near their homes to release single women for transfer to other districts.

HOW MACNIDER WAS WOUNDED IS TOLD BY NODERER

First Account of Incident Described Over W-G-N.

How Brig. Gen. Hanford MacNider was wounded in action while leading his troops in New Guinea on Nov. 24 was revealed to the public for the first time by E. R. Noderer, Chicago Tribune war correspondent, in a talk last night over W-G-N.

In the fourth and last of a series of exclusive radio interviews describing his experiences in the South Pacific war zone, from which he has just returned, the veteran correspondent said that MacNider's wounds came from a Japanese rifle grenade which exploded as the general was directing mortar fire in an advanced front position.

MacNider, who has a distinguished record for gallantry under fire in the first World war, is a former assistant secretary of war, minister to Canada, and national commander of the American Legion. Opposed to American involvement in hostilities prior to Pearl Harbor, he sought active army service immediately after the Jap attack.

Time Out for a Youngster.

"MacNider was at the front supervising a mortar barrage on two Jap machine gun nests," Noderer said. "The Nips retaliated with mortar, machine gun, and rifle grenade fire. MacNider took time out from his mortars for a second to walk over and talk to a dazed youngster leaning against a tree.

"As he was talking a rifle grenade exploded," the correspondent related. "Five fragments hit the general. The concussion knocked a half dozen men down, but the general was the only one wounded. He was carried back to the head of the jeep trail and taken by jeep to a portable hospital. He kept insisting he was all right and wanted to get back to the lines.

Noderer said that MacNider made a rapid recovery from his wounds and was able to join the American correspondents for mess on Christmas day.

Arrives Ahead of Troops.

Stating that "generals are expendable in this war," Noderer described how MacNider arrived several hours in advance of his own troops to set up headquarters within half a mile of Japanese positions on Nov. 16. Noderer and other correspondents were with the general on this occasion.

"Late in the afternoon a pair of jeeps showed up dragging two Australian 3.7 mountain guns along the beach," Noderer said. "The Australians couldn't wait to fire their guns. When nobody was looking they lined them up and let drive in the general direction of Buna.

"Our native carriers took off in beautiful running dives into the bush. Gen. MacNider boiled out of his grass hut yelling, 'Who ordered those guns fired?' The gun crew declined comment. The general went back into his hut."

Noderer said that Jap planes arrived to bomb the next boats arriving from the American base at the village of Embogu, 15 miles down the coast from Buna. Two generals arriving for a conference with MacNider were aboard these boats and both "shucked off their clothes" and swam—a matter of half a mile.

"Now we had Gen. MacNider in his grass hut and two other generals in their shorts," Noderer said. "The three generals stood around watching the ammunition on the boats explode. Since the two seagoing generals were only there for a conference they returned by the next boat to their headquarters. The attack was delayed until more ammunition could be brought up."

Noderer identified the visiting generals as Maj. Gen. Edwin F. Harding of Franklin, O., and Brig. Gen. Albert Waldron of Rochester, N. Y.

Before the attack started, MacNider told the correspondents they could go anywhere they wanted to and see whatever they could see. He outlined the plan of attack and warned them they would have to live on their own emergency rations from then on.

Noderer said that when the attack was launched the correspondents took up a position on the beach from which they could see mortars and shells bursting on the Japanese held area.

General Under Fire.

"Gen. MacNider crossed the river and moved right up in the fighting," he said. "He was constantly under enemy fire. He had a way of moving around on his own to see for himself how things were going.

"To this day I think the general was lucky not to stop a bullet. He was lucky that he didn't stay in his headquarters, too, because a Jap dive bomber blew that up before the show was over."

Noderer said that on the first day of the assault, MacNider led the advance for 700 yards in the face of fanatical resistance, and that at the end of the day the Japs had fallen back into prepared positions. From this point, he said, the battle turned into a siege.

"Every day following, MacNider was in the front lines directing our fire and cheering our infantry," he said.

Discussing the attitude of the native populations in the areas invaded by the Japanese, Noderer said fifth column activity was most evident in Malaya.

"I wouldn't say the Malayans were pro-Japanese," he said, "but they were definitely disinterested in the war and went out of their way to be uncoöperative with the imperial [British] troops."

He said Malayan fifth columnists cut out directing arrows in the rice paddy fields and signaled Jap planes over Singapore with lights.

"Fifth column activity wasn't nearly so widespread in Java," Noderer said, explaining that intermarriage between Dutch colonists and natives had brought the races much closer together than in the British colonies. "The Javanese peasant, howver, felt it wasn't his war and he saw no reason to stick his neck out. Native Javanese troops offered some resistance, but they were overwhelmed in a week."

Noderer said the natives in the Philippines never wavered in their loyalty to the American cause.

"The Philippine scouts fought shoulder to shoulder with their American comrades," he said. "They helped hold Bataan with desperate courage. The Philippine people were unarmed and couldn't resist."

FAST SHIPS FARE BETTER AGAINST SUBS, SAYS STARK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Adm. Harold R. Stark, commanding United States naval forces in the European theater who has just returned from America, took a definite stand tonight in the controversy over the effectiveness of fast or slow ships in defeating submarines.

"It stands to reason," Adm. Stark said, "that ships taking less time in crossing the Atlantic can handle more cargoes than those spending a longer time at sea. Moreover, the faster ships spend less time in a danger area. A slow ship can be overtaken by submarines while the faster ones cannot. That is the answer."

He pointed out that these considerations have been taken into account in shipbuilding and that if slow ships are being built, it is because it is impossible to produce better and faster ships with the existing man power and materials.

MANY SHOUTERS KEPT FROM WAR BY DRAFT SHIFT

Others Given Desk Jobs by Administration.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—Altho married men with children are about to be called to the colors, the draft net will catch few of the pre-war interventionists. Most of them acquired immunity from military service when the top limit draft age was lowered from 44 to 37 years. Many others who still are subject to conscription have obtained army and navy commissions thru influence with the administration and are holding down desk jobs in government departments. Still others have government jobs without commissions.

Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, grandson of the late Vice President Stevenson, who is 42 years old, is the top ranking special assistant to Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox. Young Stevenson was a leading shouter for war right up to the time of Pearl Harbor. He was chairman of the Chicago chapter on the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies.

Editor Gets Press Post.

Herbert Agar, formerly editor of the Louisville [Ky.] Courier Journal, had just turned 44 when the United States was plunged into the war. He had been an active intervention propagandist in the Committee to Defend America, but found that organization too mild and joined with others in forming the more militant Fight for Freedom committee. After we got into the war he obtained a commission as lieutenant commander in the navy and is now detailed to the navy press office in London.

Barry Bingham, 37 years old, son of the late American ambassador to Great Britain, Robert W. Bingham, and now publisher of the Louisville Courier Journal, was one of the leading lights of the committees to Defend America and Fight for Freedom. He now holds a commission in the navy and is stationed in London.

Nelson A. Rockefeller, coördinator of inter-American affairs, an office functioning directly under the President, was a pre-war supporter of the Roosevelt intervention policy. He is 34 years old, has five children, and a large fortune. Whether he is drafted depends on whether his services in his present job are classed as indispensable.

Sen. Claude Pepper [left], Nelson A. Rockefeller, and Sen. B. R. Maybank [right].

Pepper 42 Years Old.

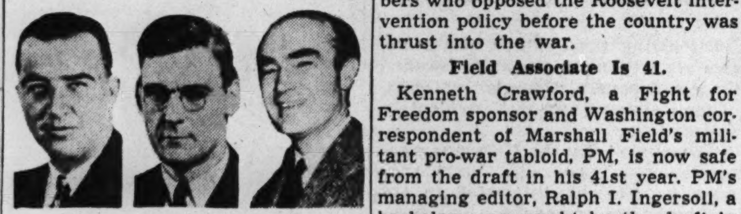
Sen. Claude Pepper [D., Fla.], 42, was a fiery war shouter before Pearl Harbor. In a senate speech May 6, 1940, he urged the dispatch of enough American bombing planes to China to "make a shambles out of Tokio." Asked after Pearl Harbor whether he would enlist he replied: "I don't care to make any comment on that. The records will show that at any time it may become important." Other pre-war interventionist senators, now over draft age are A. B. Chandler [D., Ky.], 44, and B. R. Maybank [D., S. C.], 43.

Within the draft age but deferred from service as a national legislator under the terms of the selective service act is Sen. Joseph H. Ball [R., Minn.], a pre-war interventionist. He is 37 years old.

Gardner Cowles Jr., 40, associate publisher of the Des Moines [Ia.] Register and Tribune, is a disciple of Wendell Willkie, pre-war interventionist.

Willkie Aid Given Job.

Cowles and Willkie raised the isolationist issue against Gov. George A. Wilson when the governor was a candidate for the Republican nomination for senator last spring. They supported a pre-war interventionist candidate whom Wilson decisively defeated. The issue raised by Cowles was further repudiated by the people of Iowa in the November election in which Wilson defeated Sen. Clyde Herring [D.] by a majority of landslide proportions. Cowles holds the job of director of domestic operations in the office of war information. As press liaison officer he accompanied Willkie on his tour of allied capitals last year. His brother-in-law, J. D. Lecron, has an $8,000 a year job as director of the food supply and nutrition division of the office of the coordinator of inter-American affairs.



Sen. A. B. Chandler [left], Sen. Joseph H. Ball, and Henry R. Luce [right].

Stassen to Be Officer.

Another Willkie pre-war interventionist is Gardner Cowles' brother, John, 44, publisher of the Minneapolis Star-Journal and Tribune, who is an assistant to lend-lease Administrator E. R. Stettinius. He accompanied Willkie to England in 1941.

Cowles is a close political associate of another pre-war interventionist, Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, who was Willkie's floor manager in the Philadelphia convention. As governor, Stassen, who is 35 years old, is deferred from military service but he intends to resign in the spring and enter the navy in which he obtained a commission after training for a couple of months at Great Lakes naval training station last year.

One of the loudest war shouters before Pearl Harbor, Henry R. Luce, fuehrer of the Life-Time-Fortune periodical axis, has kept himself a safe distance from the firing line and now has been saved from the draft by the reduction of the top age limit from 44 to 37. He will be 45 next April. In addition to propagandizing for war before Pearl Harbor, Luce has specialized in smearing pre-war isolationists. He was active in the ill-fated campaign to purge congress of members who opposed the Roosevelt intervention policy before the country was thrust into the war.

Field Associate Is 41.

Kenneth Crawford, a Fight for Freedom sponsor and Washington correspondent of Marshall Field's militant pro-war tabloid, PM, is now safe from the draft in his 41st year. PM's managing editor, Ralph I. Ingersoll, a bachelor, was caught by the draft in his 41st year a few months before the top age limit was lowered to 37. He fought the call to the colors but the draft board rejected his appeals for exemption and he is now in the army.

Another Washington correspondent of PM, Isidor Feinstein Stone, also associate editor of the Nation, was an ardent pre-war interventionist who has manifested no eagerness to fight but, tho married, with children, he is now facing the draft in his 36th year.

Wayne Coy, a pre-war interventionist who is now special assistant to the President and liaison officer, office of emergency management, is another now safe from the draft. He is 39.

Joseph P. Lash, a Fight for Freedom sponsor and leader of youth organizations of Communist tinge, tried to get a commission in the navy but failed, tho he had the assistance of Mrs. Roosevelt. A protest in congress balked this effort. The draft then got him, but he is still far from the firing line. He is an army weather observer at Bolling field in the District of Columbia.

FLYNN PLANNING ON COMEBACK TO POLITICAL POWER

Discovers 'Great Demand' for His Return.

New York, Feb. 8 [Special].—Edward J. [Paving Blocks] Flynn, who was unable to win senate approval of his nomination as minister to Australia, has now discovered a "practically unanimous demand which could not be ignored" that he seek to regain the political power he gave up when he thought he was going to be President Roosevelt's roving ambassador in the southwest Pacific.

He modestly announced today that he will attempt to win back his place as Democratic national committeeman from New York and that he will accept reëlection tomorrow as chairman of the Bronx county Democratic executive committee, both of which titles he previously held.

Recalls Political Maneuvers.

His announcements served to confirm contentions that the entire ambassadorial proceedings were tainted with political maneuvering. In the expectation of obtaining the diplomatic post, Flynn had resigned as national Democratic chairman and as Bronx leader and he gave up the national committeemanship to satisfy two senators who opposed his holding it and the appointment in violation of the Hatch clean politics act.

But when he didn't get the diplomatic appointment, Flynn hurried back to the old political stand to pick up what he had dropped. He was elected tonight as Democratic leader of the 8th New York assembly district, which he first had to hold before he could get on the Bronx county executive committee.

Congressman Aids Plan.

This was arranged by Rep. Charles A. Buckley stepping out of the assembly district leadership so Flynn could succeed him temporarily. It is expected that after Flynn is named chairman of the county executive committee at a meeting scheduled for tomorrow, he will return the assembly district leadership to Buckley.

In respect to his decision to accept redesignation as Democratic boss of the Bronx, Flynn said he had received many letters urging him to return, adding: "I do not feel that a demand which is practically unanimous, such as this, could be ignored."

He said he also had received a large number of telegrams from senators, Tammany hall leaders and many others urging him to resume his membership in the Democratic national committee.

Say Farley Is Agreeable.

A significant phase of this matter is Flynn's comment that he has been told that Democratic State Chairman Jim Farley favors him for the committee post and the assertion of Farley associates that the chairman is unlikely to oppose Flynn. Farley is out of town on a business trip.

Redesignation of Flynn for the national committee vacancy with the consent of the Farley group would avert a threatened contest, at least between these factions, for control of the state organization. Farley has been at odds with the New Deal wing ever since he opposed a third term for President Roosevelt in 1940.

IT'S TOO BAD SOME PARENTS ARE CREAM SNITCHERS

MILK PASTEURIZER NO. 1

YOURS SINCERELY

Bud Bowman

DO YOU WONDER where I got the idea that some, parents are cream snitchers? I got it from a little boy, a brown-eyed skinny little boy. That's what he said his parents are. They take the cream off the milk bottle and then say "Johnny, drink your milk." Milk? Bah!

NOW I SUSPECT that's just a habit in a lot of homes, a "bad times" habit that could be broken these days. If it can it should be. The kind of milk that Uncle Sam wants children to get a quart of every day is rich, delicious milk like Bowman's with all the cream left in.

PEOPLE CAN GET cream from Bowman in a half-pint bottle that costs very little when they consider how many bowls of cereal and dishes of pudding and precious cups of coffee it will make extra-extra good. Yeah, and when they consider their kids' good health.

BY GETTING A PINT or a quart of Bowman's Cream they can cut the cost way down. Cream that's this fine and fresh "keeps" good. Please notice that I've just been passing along information. I did not say you are a cream snitcher.

BOWMAN CREAM IN STORES OR DELIVERED ....DELICIOUS!

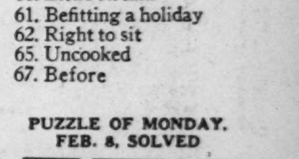
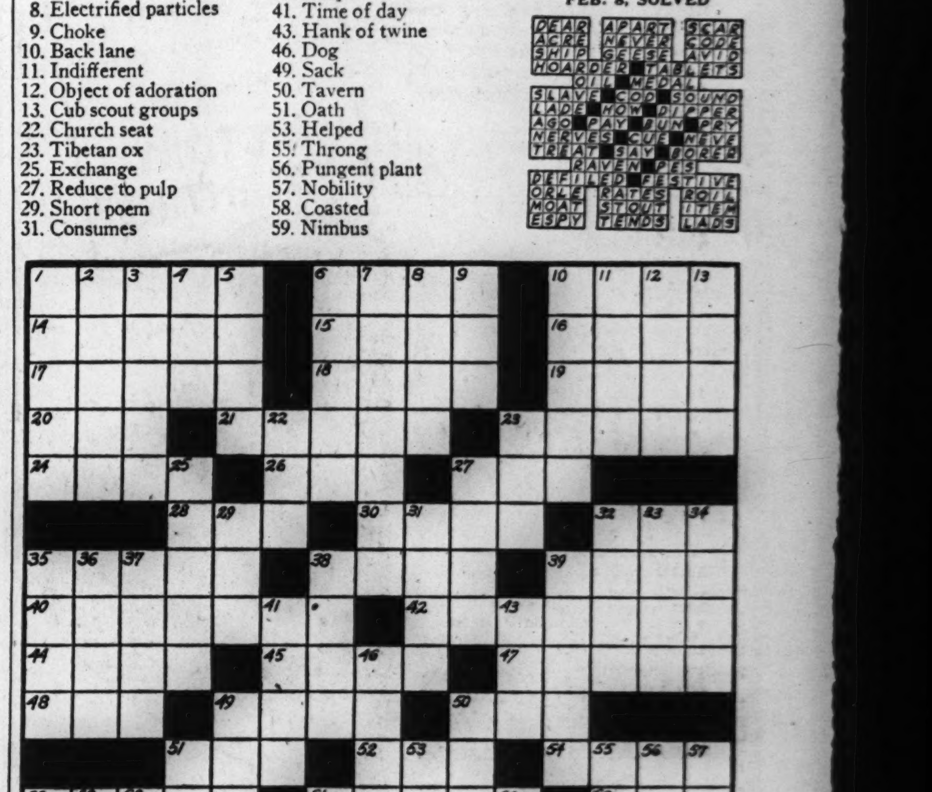
PUZZLE OF MONDAY, FEB. 8, SOLVED





ROSTOV CALLED TOUGH CITY, BUT HARD TO DEFEND

Shipping Port and Outlet of Caucasus Oil.

Kursk in Rich Area

The city of Kursk, which the Russians recaptured yesterday from the Germans, has upwards of 120,000 population and is built on two hills. It is an important railway junction on the Moscow-Crimea and Voronezh-Kiev lines.

Among the Kursk industries normally are flour mills, oil processing, tobacco manufacture, sugar refining, brewing and distilling and manufacture of rope and machinery.

The city is the capital of Kursk province, a region of 43,166 square miles lying just north of the eastern Ukraine. It has rich black farming land, some of the most productive in the soviet union. Orel and Bryansk provinces bound it on the north and Voronezh province, now completely cleared of the German invaders, lies to the east. The chief products in peacetime are rye, oats, millet, potatoes, sugar beets, wheat, sunflower seed, and hemp.

"The toughest city in soviet Russia."

That's the way travelers used to describe Rostov-on-the-Don, Russia's third most important harbor and a thriving industrial center. But Rostov fell to Nazi forces last July 27.

Rostov, gateway to Russia's northern Caucasus region, is situated on the Don river at the confluence of the Temernik river, about 25 miles above the mouth of the Don on the Sea of Azov.

Before the war Rostov boomed. Its already established shipbuilding yards, fishing, dyeing, and zinc industries were important in Russia's attempts to industrialize itself.

Wheat Shipping Port.

Wheat and wool from the Ukraine and coal from nearby mines were shipped from Rostov. One of Russia's largest shoe factories was there, and five miles away was an agricultural implement factory which employed 12,000 workers and was converted to plane and tank production when war broke out.

Population soared from 350,000 in 1915 to more than 520,000 in 1933, and at the same time Rostov maintained a reputation of being one of Russia's best planned cities.

Most important of all, Rostov was what the German press called "The spigot of the Russian oil barrel." Fields of the Caucasus fed their oil thru a pipeline to Rostov and thence to the Russian war machine, making the city a prime military objective. Its location also required a land army attempting to invade the Caucasus to pivot around that point.

Difficult to Hold.

Defense forces have not found the city easy to hold. German invaders captured Rostov on Nov. 21, 1941, but failed to hold it. The Nazis said opposition by the civilian population of the city made necessary the withdrawal of Nazi troops 140 miles westward to Taganrog.

Russian forces last summer sought to hold the city by utilizing its major natural defense, the Don river, and man-made fortresses. Thousands of attacking Germans were slain, Russians reported, before the Germans closed in from the west, north and east.

German reporters said the Russians had turned the city into "one gigantic system of small fortresses." "Barricades were erected at street crossings, some of bricks. There were small pillboxes for machine guns. Machine gun nests were installed in cellars," they said. But the defense and forts were broken.

200,000 Stay Under Nazis.

An estimated 200,000 residents remained in Rostov under German occupation while the Nazi army rolled on into the Caucasus.

What efforts have been made to utilize Rostov's industrial facilities, and what measures have been taken meanwhile, to defend the city and port from Russian attack, have not been revealed.

If retaken by the Russians, however, it will mean that Germany will have lost one of the important anchors of her defense line, while transport and oil gateway facilities of the city should help Russia's war communications and supply problem immeasurably.

BID ON THURSDAY FOR WRECKING OF SUBWAY SITES

The department of subways and superhighways will open bids at 2 p. m. Thursday on the wrecking of the first two buildings for the Dearborn street subway and the Congress street superhighway.

One is a seven story vacant structure at 513-15 South Wells street, the other, a four story structure, with only one tenant, at 512-20 South Wells street. They are part of the 45 parcels of real estate acquired by the city for 5 million dollars for the proposed highway and subway.

KILLED IN TWO STORY FALL.

George Bell, 44 years old, a Negro, 2342 South Dearborn street, was killed yesterday when he fell from the second story into an elevator shaft at the Monroe-Wabash garage.

BRIDGES LOSES ROUND IN FIGHT TO HALT EVICTION

Judge Denies Writ for His Release.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 8 [Special].—Harry R. Bridges, alien leader of the west coast longshoremen, today lost the first round of his legal battle to block execution of an order for his deportation issued last May 28 by Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle.

United States District Judge Martin I. Welsh ruled that the deportation order was issued "after a fair hearing on substantial evidence, and no error of law occurred which operated to deprive petitioner of due process of law or any other of his constitutional rights." The judge rejected Bridges' plea for release from technical custody on a writ of habeas corpus.

90 Days for Appeal.

George Wilson, executive secretary of the Harry Bridges Victory committee, said after examining Judge Welsh's opinion that the case will be carried to the Circuit Court of Appeals. Bridges has 90 days to file notice of appeal and an additional 40 days to prepare the record for the Circuit court. A further appeal to the United States Supreme court is possible.

The deportation order was based on a finding that Bridges had been affiliated with organizations advocating overthrow of the United States government by force and violence. These were the Communist party and the Marine Workers' Industrial union.

"Aliens who by their associations have evidenced belief in the forcible and violent overthrow of our government become none the more desirable material for residents or citizens of this country because their views do not embrace the conception of immediate revolution but are directed rather to forcible and violent overthrow of organized government at some indefinite period in the future when the opportune moment may present itself," Judge Welsh wrote.

Issue Is Altered.

Judge Welsh said that when deportation proceedings were first conducted against Bridges in 1939 the issue was limited to Bridges' possible membership in the Communist party at the time of the institution of proceedings.

At the second deportation hearing in 1941, the question had been broadened by a change in law to include membership or affiliation at any time since entry into the United States, he said.

REED SAYS BLACK MARKETS RIVAL BOOTLEGGING ERA

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8 (AP).—Sen. C. M. Reed [R., Kas.] charged in the senate today that price administration ceilings had brought "black markets" in meat which threatened to equal the "bootlegging" of the "twenties."

He offered a resolution directing a broad investigation by the senate agriculture committee into OPA operations which he contended had caught bakers and meat packers in a price "squeeze" which raised the threat of bankruptcy for many.

Adversity Helps German Spirit, Hitler Tells Aids

LONDON, Feb. 8 (AP).—A Berlin broadcast recorded by Reuter's today said Adolf Hitler, receiving Nazi gauleiters [governors] at his headquarters "expressed his certainty that the severity of the times and the spirit of the German people arising out of it will give the German nation gigantic strength and will make it invincible."

RIBBONS ORDERED FOR TROOPS THAT OCCUPY GERMANY

New York, Feb. 8 [Special].—A campaign ribbon to be worn by American troops occupying Germany when the war closes is being manufactured in quantities by the Rex Products corporation of New Rochelle, it was revealed today.

The ribbon is a narrow bar predominately black, with a narrow white band at each end. One of the ribbons is in a display of military insignia on exhibit at the First National Bank of New Rochelle.

Arthur Rosenberg, president of the Rex firm, said he received the order from the army quartermaster at Philadelphia about two months ago, and believes his company is the only one making them. The size of the order is a military secret.

The Whys and Hows of Rationing

WHY—War time demands for leather and manpower have slowed down the production of civilian shoes to a point where rationing must be introduced to insure everyone in America will have enough shoes.

WHEN—Beginning February 9, 1943, ALL shoes and hard sole moccasin slippers (except infants' shoes) are rationed REGARDLESS OF PRICE, MAKE, GRADE OR QUALITY.

HOW—*Stamp 17 from War Ration Book One entitles a consumer to buy one pair of shoes during the period beginning February 9 and ending June 15, 1943. Such Stamps may be used by any member of a family living in same household. A family of five is entitled to purchase five pairs of shoes during the period, but if advisable all five pairs could be purchased for one member.

*Members of the armed forces must present either Stamp 17 from War Ration Book 1, or secure Shoe Purchase Certificate from their Commanding Officer.

ALLIED BOMBERS RANGE FOUR SEAS TO HAMMER AXIS

Copenhagen, Naples, and Lorient Raided.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Feb. 9 (Tuesday)—(AP).—The R. A. F. was reported early today to have blasted the big Danish shipyards at Copenhagen. Explosions heard on the Swedish side of the Skaggerak indicated that the home of the world's largest Diesel engine works was attacked three times.

Soaring over four of the world's seas, the Atlantic, the Pacific, the Mediterranean and the Arafura Sea, United States and British bombers delivered a series of devastating blows at all three of their axis enemies Sunday and Monday.

On the Pacific battlefront, allied airmen, including Dutch pilots flying American Billy Mitchells, heaped destruction on Japanese bases, and virtually destroyed enemy-occupied Dobo in the Aroe Islands, in the Arafura Sea west of New Guinea.

Fully three-quarters of the town was left in burning ruins in an attack yesterday, allied headquarters in Australia reported. Other planes destroyed a 2,000 ton merchant ship near Buin on Bougainville in the Solomons, and plastered the Japanese at Gasmata in New Britain and Finschhafen and Lae in Northern New Guinea.

Explode Ammunition Dump.

The raid on Dobo was carried out in coördinated attacks by medium bombers. "The first wave of our planes caused heavy explosions and started fires visible for 40 miles," the communique said. "These fires were still raging when the second eschelon arrived and the second flight showered the town with demolition bombs and incendiaries."

In a prolonged night raid, the communique said, medium bombers effectively bombed the Kahili airdrome at Buin.

"Explosions from an ammunition dump near the beach violently rocked one of our aircraft flying at 9,000 feet," the war bulletin added. "Fires started were visible for 60 miles. Several large aircraft were set on fire in Olast bay and searchlights and buildings were destroyed."

Terrific Raid on Lorient.

The biggest raid probably was that made by the RAF against Lorient, the German submarine base on the Bay of Biscay in France. Two ton "block-busters" left the target area a mass of flames, wreaking so much havoc that the Berlin government ordered the complete evacuation of the town and eight surrounding districts. The evacuation, said the Berlin radio, will be completed by tomorrow.

"Only persons whose presence is urgently required for economic reasons are expempted from the evacuation," the Berlin radio said. Lorient has been raided 65 times.

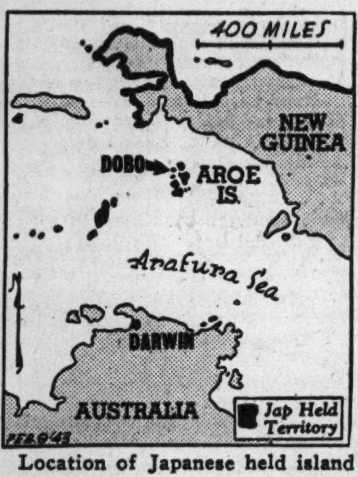
Flying on into western Germany, the British bombers attacked the industrial Ruhr valley. Seven British bombers failed to return from these two excursions.

Naples Left in Flames.

The Toulouse radio in southern France went off the air last night, suggesting that the around-the-clock bombardment was being continued. A British broadcast said air raid sirens sounded in Copenhagen, Denmark, during the afternoon. A Stockholm dispatch said the Danish capital was bombed three times Monday night.

Jap Port Bombed

(Story in adjoining column.)



Location of Japanese held island port blasted by Gen. MacArthur's bombers.

Along the Mediterranean American bombers left the Italian port of Naples in flames in a powerful daylight attack Sunday, and also spread destruction over Sicily and the Italian air base at Cagliari in Sardinia. Only two allied planes were lost in these raids.

The attack on Naples was characterized by Brig. Gen. Patrick W. Timberlake, chief of the United States bomber command, as one of the most successful ever made by American forces in that theater.

The Italian high command acknowledged that damage to Naples was heavy. It claimed nine raiders were shot down—four at Naples, four at Cagliari, and one in Sicily.

Theree Ships are Hit.

"Great fires the length of the Naples harbor area sent up high a heavy pall of black smoke," said the allied communique. "Heavy anti-aircraft fire and a large formation of fighters were encountered directly over the target area, but failed to interfere with bombing operations."

The formation attacked in two waves, six minutes apart, scoring direct hits on three merchant vessels and groups all along the waterfront.

Several axis air fields were attacked on Sardina. Forty to fifty axis planes were caught on the ground at Cagliari, many of them destroyed. Five German planes were destroyed in combat without loss to the Americans.

The German radio broadcast a claim that six American bombers and six fighter planes were shot down by German airmen in what was described as an ineffective American raid aimed at Gabes on the Tunisian coast.

United States fighter planes attacked Japanese columns in eastern Burma and along the Burma-Yunnan frontier in support of Chinese ground forces opposing the enemy's attempts to drive into Yunnan province. About 20 troop laden trucks or buses were destroyed or damaged.

R. A. F. Liberator bombers dropped nearly 30 tons of heavy bombs on Japanese occupied Rangoon Sunday.

STATE SURVEY BEGUN TO CLEAR DRAFT RECORDS

Eighteen newly trained selective service auditors started yesterday a survey of local draft board records that eventually will include every board in Illinois. Eleven of the auditors will work in Cook county and seven will work out of state headquarters in Springfield.

INDIANA YOUTH GETS HIS WISH IN GUINEA SKIES

Downs Zero as Yanks Halt Jap Air Fleet.

Eugene C. De Boer, 22 years old, of Munster, Ind., who, according to his mother "always wanted to fly and always wanted to work for the government" is getting his chance to do both as a combat pilot for the army air forces in New Guinea.

Young De Boer, who left Thornton Junior college at Harvey Sept. 29, 1941, to join the air forces, has been mentioned in dispatches as one of the American pilots who fought a Japanese air fleet to a standstill over Wau air field without the loss of a man or a plane.

De Boer won a lieutenant's commission after six months' training at Fort Benjamin Harrison and Visalia, Cal.

Held Civilian License.

He held a civilian pilot's license before joining the army, receiving it after training at Rubinkam airport, Harvey.

He lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luke De Boer, at 1615 Ridge road, Munster. His father formerly was a farmer.

Lt. De Boer is credited with downing a Jap Zero and possibly another Zero as he took part in the aerial action over Wau air field. He was flying an Airacobra in a squadron headed by Capt. Thomas Winburn of San Antonio, Tex.

Lt. De Boer told how he saw Capt. Winburn shoot down two Zeros and then he himself came upon three Japs while flying at 15,000 feet.

Sees Zero Below.

Two of them spotted him as he left formation. He followed the second, firing at it. He saw flames shooting out of the fuselage and smoke envelop the Jap. He followed the stricken enemy down, but turned off because he thought the third Zero might be on his tail.

He climbed to 10,000 feet and spotted another Zero in an ideal position, below him. He dived upon it, and the Jap circled into his range of fire. Tracer bullets pierced the Zero from engine to tail.

Another flight of three Zeros hove into view, and one of them attacked him. He left the fight when his engine gave him trouble and he thought cannon fire was striking his plane.

Lt. De Boer returned safely to his base.

In his last letter to his mother, written Jan. 19, he said he was enjoying life and feeling fine and asked about two of his local girl friends.

42 Pounds Lighter

Sergt. Leroy R. Armstrong greeted by his wife as he returned home yesterday.

REPORTS $1,000 JEWELRY GONE.

Joseph D. Mason, 11038 Bell avenue, a retired druggist, reported to police yesterday that thieves entered his home and stole jewelry valued at $1,000.

SERGEANT COMES HOME TO REGAIN LOST 42 POUNDS

Sergt. LeRoy R. Armstrong, 23 years old, who was in the marines' first invasion force in the Solomon Islands, returned home to Chicago yesterday after 21 weeks of jungle struggle, unscathed but 42 pounds thinner.

Armstrong weighed 176 pounds when his outfit left the United States in June, 1942. Yesterday he was a slim 134 when he stepped from the train at the Dearborn station into the eager arms of his pretty brunette wife, Margaret, 20. She took him right home, to 4352 Grace street, "to put some fat back on you," as she told him.

"I got my share of Japs on Guadalcanal," Armstrong said. "I killed them on the ground and shot them out of trees. Sometimes they took cover in holes in the coral and you had to blast them out with grenades."

Armstrong has medals as an expert marksman with rifle and pistol, and a band of campaign and good conduct ribbons on his chest. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. August A. Armstrong, 1608 North Sawyer avenue, and his brother, George, 20, is also a marine in San Diego.

LOSES $8,180 FROM CACHE.

Harry Hansel, 55 years old, a real estate dealer living at 1307 South Washtenaw avenue, reported to police yesterday that burglars stole a $5,000 war savings bond and $3,180 in cash he had hidden under a bed.

PATROLS OF ALLIED AND AXIS ARMIES ACTIVE IN TUNISIA

ALLIED HDQ., North Africa, Feb. 8 (AP).—An allied spokesman today said there had been patrol activity "over the entire land front" of Tunisia. Both sides apparently were probing for information.

A French high command communique said French troops had occupied an important height "in the region of the high valley of the Kebir river" [not further identifying the site of the operation]. "In the region east of Ousseltia [in the highlands between Pont du Fahs and Pichon] our patrols have been active and have taken some prisoners."

A dispatch from a correspondent with the British 8th army at the Tunisian frontier said the last axis soldier left Tripolitania yesterday shortly ahead of an armored British column rolling along the coastal road. The last defenders were not Mussolini's Italian soldiers but a German rear guard, which withdrew methodically, leaving mines, booby traps, and other impediments up to the last inch of Libya. Farther inland, British patrols had crossed the border several days ago.

HOOVER ADVISES EASING DRAFT TO SAVE MAN POWER

Calls Shipping Inadequate for Growing Army.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—Ex-President Herbert Hoover today warned that the nation is faced with from three to five more years of war and that attempts to do "too much, too fast" may produce an economic breakdown on the home front.

He expressed the opinion that not more than 2½ million men can be transported abroad by the end of 1943 and said plans should be adjusted accordingly, due to the shortage of adequate shipping to transport and maintain them, and that for the same reason we may be producing more munitions than can be transported in the near future.

Invited to Testify.

The former President appeared before a subcommittee of the senate appropriations committee, at its invitation, to provide the senators in secret session with his advice on man power and food problems. Later Mr. Hoover held a press conference in the appropriations committee room in the capitol.

Mr. Hoover said that present goals of approximately 11 million men in the army and navy by the end of 1943 must be revised downward, and farmers must be spared the loss of additional labor to the military services and war industries if food production is to be maintained, much less to be expanded.

"The figure of 11 million men may not be too high for military purposes but it is too high for 1943," Mr. Hoover asserted. "From such information as I have, it does not seem that it is necessary to call up all of these 11 million men in 1943 either to provide the men that can be shipped, or to be trained for 1944."

Importance of Food.

He greatly emphasized the importance of food in winning the war and determining the peace.

At least a million more persons are needed for production of food, oil, and minerals, he told the press conference, and said it may require furloughs from the army of some men experienced in these lines in order to produce the commodities needed for ourselves and the allies.

"If we attempt too much on the military side, we may commit the fatal error of overstrain on the home front and thus damage our effectiveness in ultimate victory," he said.

We have only experienced one year of war so far and even now strains on the home front are evident, he continued. He cited the decrease in production of meats and fats, while a great increase is needed to feed our own people as well as the allies and the 350 million people under German domination after war. The proposed expenditure of 100 billion dollars a year on the war is alone a great strain, he said.

"It would seem at least warranted to study a revision of our whole program of national production and supply based on the bottleneck limitation," Mr. Hoover said. "It is possible that this would reduce the financial as well as the mineral, the agricultural, the food and other home front strains. In any event we must have more labor in these fields if we are to maintain all national strength.

Expects Military Opposition.

"Such a program might not meet the views of the generals or admirals who, of necessity, look only to the maximum military activity, but it is a serious consideration that we might break the back of our people on the home front and start internal degeneration, such as is now the fate of Germany. We should not imperil it by doing too much too fast."

The former president, now 68 years old and 10 years out of service, appeared to be in good health and was in fine spirits. Senators both Republicans and Democrats, came away from the meeting impressed by his statements and expressing their regrets that the administration has not made use of his experience and expert knowledge in wartime economy. About 20 senators attended the conference in addition to the subcommittee of 8 members. The subcommittee is headed by Sen. John H. Bankhead [D., Ala.] and includes Sen. Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.].

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Mares McKeand, 1341 East 89th street.]

THE QUESTION.

Did you ever set a trap for a snoop?

WHERE ASKED.

Medinah Temple building, Ohio street and Wabash avenue.

THE ANSWERS.

Norman Kissick, recorder, La Grange—I thought it was going to be embarrassing to say something to the boys who were helping themselves to cigars from my desk. One day I put a loaded one with the others. Shortly after I left I heard the small explosion. I never again had any worries about disappearing cigars.

Marian Yost, switchboard operator, 5314 Argyle street—There was no doubt in my mind that one of my former office workers was reading my mail. I censored an interesting part of the letter to see if I could arouse her curiosity. The next day she questioned me about that very subject that I had deleted.

Irvin J. Wonders, boxoffice treasurer, 8127 Ellis avenue—Every time the milkman delivered the milk he complained that the ticket was missing. I was sure I wasn't forgetting it and decided to watch. A robin landed on the step and was ready to fly away with the ticket when I opened the door.

Leonard Elsman, tool steel engineer, 6540 Minerva avenue—It seemed that my bottle of very fine liquor was disappearing much faster than it should have. I poured several ounces of castor oil in it. A couple of days later the hotel clerk said he didn't feel so well and my liquor lasted ever after.

Theresa Kaphusman, stenographer, 2925 Loomis street—Small bits of change were disappearing from on top of my dresser. I was quite sure that the little boy who was running errands for me was responsible but I couldn't prove it. One day I put a little swab of fresh varnish right under the spot where the coins were and I caught him.

A. James Rison, press agent, Marion, O.—I left a note in my desk at the hotel requesting the party to please refrain from reading my mail and to knock before entering the room. The next day the man in the adjoining room knocked for the first time, then was embarrassed to realize he had given himself away.

Fred Lindstrom Nominated as Evanston Postal Chief

The nomination of Fred C. Lindstrom to be acting postmaster in Evanston, was submitted to the senate yesterday in Washington by Sen. Scott W Lucas [D., Ill.] A former third baseman for the New York Giants, Lindstrom would fill the vacancy created by the departure of Postmaster George N. Taylor to the army. Taylor holds a commission as captain.

U. S. 'CRACKPOT' DRIVE AROUSES STORM IN HOUSE

Special Group Proposed to Consider Cases.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—The movement to drive the 40 pay rollers branded "crackpot burocrats" from the government service brought fiery debate in the house today.

While members demanded that those accused be left no loophole, Rep. Clarence Cannon [D., Mo.], chairman of the appropriations committee, promised he will ask authority tomorrow for the creation of an appropriations subcommittee to consider the cases of all 40 and to take summary action.

Today's tumultuous session was concerned with all of the 40 who were listed and denounced by Rep. Martin Dies [D., Tex.], chairman of the committee to investigate un-American activities. Members predicted, however, that hundreds of federal pay rollers would come before the dismissal subcommittee if it is formed.

Debates Praise Race.

Despite the scope of the debate, several speakers pictured the entire controversy toda; as centering on William Pickens, Negro, a treasury department promotion specialist who was ordered fired Friday by the house, sitting as a committee of the whole.

Other speakers joined with them in praising the colored people and scoffed at the suggestion that Pickens' status is any different from the other 39 on Dies' list.

Dies protested the suggestion in a eulogy of the colored people.

Today Dies charged that Pickens has been associated with no less than 21 subversive organizations. Dies also told the house that an organization which ran a full page advertisment today in the Washington Post, calling for the abolition of the Dies committee, is subversive. The advertisment was signed by the National Federation for Constitutional Liberties.

The debate broke out while the house, sitting as a committee of the whole, was considering the treasury-postoffice appropriation bill. This bill was under consideration Friday when Rep. Joe Hendricks [D., Fla.] demanded the firing of all 40 of the pay rollers termed crackpot burocrats.

Proposal Voted Down.

The proposal was voted down on the ground Pickens was the only one on the list who would be paid from the appropriation. Rep. Everett Dirksen [R., Ill.] then introduced a measure under which Pickens, as a treasury department employé, was banned from receiving pay from the money appropriated.

"If you're going to keep one of these Communists in, let's keep them all in," Hendricks told the house today, "but if you're going to get them out, let's start with Pickens."

Turning on those who suggested giving Pickens a trial, he asserted it is hard to establish legal proof that a man is a Communist but that activity in many Communistic organizations is sufficient evidence.

Hendricks threw the house into uproar by likening the case to that of Errol Flynn, the movie actor, who was acquitted Saturday of three charges of statutory rape.

"In spite of Flynn's acquittal," Hendricks demanded, "how many of you members would want your daughter to take a trip with him on his yacht to Catalina Island?"

Rep. Charles S. Dewey [R., Ill.] said he had been disturbed by the house action in the Pickens case, and asked the members to let Pickens have opportunity to explain.

$110,000 in Cash, Gems Found in Pullman Cars

Pullman porters and car service employés turned in more than $80,000 in cash and $30,000 in jewelry mislaid and forgotten by travelers during 1942, the Pullman company announced yesterday. About 100,000 other items, worth several hundred thousand dollars, also were restored to travelers. A merit citation is given each employé turning in lost property.

HUNT THWARTED BANDIT WHO WOUNDED WOMAN

Woodlawn police yesterday were searching for a bandit who shot and wounded Miss Jane Mitchell, 21 years old, 1126 East 47th street, daughter of a policeman, late Monday night when the girl's escort thwarted an attempted holdup.

Roland Larsen.

Neither Miss Mitchell, who is in a "satisfactory" condition, nor her fiancé, Roland Larsen, 25, was able to describe their assailant.

Larsen, who lives at 6148 Woodlawn avenue, told police the bandit accosted them on Woodlawn avenue and then forced them into an alley at 1219 East 62d street. In the alley he demanded their money, and, when Larsen resisted, shouted: "If that is what you want, I'll shoot your girl." He fired once and fled.

OPA SHRUGS OFF LEAKS ON SHOE RATIONING EDICT

Advance Tip by La Guardia Called 'Unfortunate.'

'Brainstorm' in Capital

New York, Feb. 8 (AP). — The office of price administration has not guaranteed that each person will be able to purchase three pairs of shoes a year, W. W. Stephenson of Washington, chief of the footwear division of OPA, said tonight. Addressing 3,500 retail and wholesale shoe dealers, he said, "The OPA thus far has decreed only one pair of shoes for each person for the next four months. What happens after that depends upon production — the vital factor." Asked how the three pairs per year story became circulated, Stephenson said the statement was put out "by somebody who had a brainstorm in Washington."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—Government officials today attempted to brush off as "a minor matter" premature leaks on the shoe rationing announcement which enabled thousands of consumers to stock up on ration free shoes at the expense of those who were not in the know. In Washington and New York City, particularly, buyers took advantage of advance information.

In the capital shoe dealers said there was definite evidence that the shoe rationing plan, which was announced yesterday and goes into effect tomorrow, was widely known in advance among government pay rollers.

They reported that stores were swamped Saturday with shoe buyers, mostly women, who appeared after government offices had closed for the day.

Sworn to Secrecy, Says OPA.

Officials of the office of price administration asserted that to their knowledge the shoe rationing program was not widely known in advance by government office holders.

An OPA official said "not more than 25 employés in the agency" were informed of proposed program, and that this step was necessary because the 25 were working on the rationing order. Asked whether the 25 employés had kept the secret, the official said they were sworn to secrecy.

A premature tip on the rationing, given to residents of New York City by Mayor Fiorello La Guardia, was met only with an official "no comment" by the OPA here. Unofficially, however, OPA officials said La Guardia had pulled an "unfortunate boner."

La Guardia "Just Forgot."

In New York La Guardia said he forgot that some shoe stores were open Sunday.

"I took a little liberty," he said, "but I am sure it isn't fatal. If it hadn't been Sunday, I would not have taken the liberty I did."

La Guardia said in his broadcast that the OPA would announce the rationing of another commodity within a few hours. "It will not be food, and in the meantime do not do any unnecessary walking," he added.

OPA officials were irritated by this tipoff, but said nothing could be done about it now. They said only a few consumers took advantage of the advance hint. They denied that the OPA had given La Guardia advance information of the program.

Three Pairs Yearly Is Limit.

The shoe rationing order limits purchases to three pairs a year for each civilian. Stamp No. 17 in ration book No. 1 is good for one pair of shoes between tomorrow and June 15.

Among points clarified today by the OPA are the following:

On mail orders for shoes, shipments without ration stamps are permitted only if the shoes were packaged and wrapped for shipment before 3 p. m. yesterday.

Stamps in a ration book held for an infant are good for purchases of shoes even tho soft-soled shoes for infants are not on the ration list.

Deliveries on lay-away shoe purchases made before yesterday may be made without the surrender of ration coupons. The deadline for such deliveries is midnight Thursday, after which coupons will be required.

A customer who bought shoes before yesterday and wants to exchange them for another pair may do so without giving up a coupon.

Casualties

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8 (AP).—The navy today announced 53 casualties, including 15 dead, 22 wounded, and 16 missing. Those from Chicagoland [navy unless otherwise indicated] and their next of kin were listed as follows:

ILLINOIS.

Dead.

Austin, Robert J., marine—Mother, Mrs. Hattie E. Austin, 8040 Aberdeen street, Chicago.

Missing.

Wolshock, Jerome Joseph—Father, Edward J. Wolshock, Chester.

Wounded.

Sam S. Cosentino, marine—Mother, Mrs. Matilda Cosentino, 3556 Wells street, Chicago.

INDIANA.

Wounded.

Veach, Wesley R., marine—Father, Thomas Veach, Alexandria.

WISCONSIN.

Missing.

Zitske, Albert Jr.—Father, Albert Zitske, Mountain.

No casualties from Iowa or Michigan were announced. Today's list brought to 22,832 the total of navy, marine corps, and coast guard casualties reported to next of kin since Pearl Harbor. The total includes 6,490 dead, 4,055 wounded, and 12,287 missing.

Allied Patrol Wipes Out Jap Pocket in New Guinea

ALLIED HDQ., Australia, Feb. 9 [Tuesday] (AP).—Ground activity in New Guinea yesterday was confined to general patrol action in the Wau-Mubo area, where one patrol six miles east of the Wau airdrome wiped out a Japanese pocket.

SHOE EXCHANGE STARTS OFF ON THE RIGHT FOOT

Some difference of opinion on the merits of the Glencoe school shoe exchange was voiced yesterday, but sponsors went ahead with their plans.

The shoe exchange is an enlargement of the original exchange for children's ice skates, galoshes and rubbers. It was inspired by the government's order rationing shoes. Dozens of pairs of worn and outgrown shoes were turned in yesterday.

Calls It a "Real Job."

"Now we have a real war service job," Paul Misner, Glencoe school superintendent," said. "We're going ahead to include wool clothing, particularly snow suits. Also, we'll take adult clothing."

Misner said that on the advice of physicians, all old shoes will be sprayed with a 1 per cent lysol solution. Old clothing will be exposed to formaldehyde treatment.

School officials in general appeared to approve the Glencoe plan, but the Rev. D. F. Cunningham, superintendent of Chicago Catholic schools, said he did not think there would be many worthwhile shoes left after the average youngsters were thru with them. Some mothers were reported to have expressed fears that used shoes might mean poor fittings and potentially disabled feet.

No Plans for Chicago.

Noble J. Puffer, Cook county superintendent of schools, said he believed shoe exchanges in schools were matters for local school districts. Chicago public school officials said they had no plans to establish shoe exchanges in city schools.

Everett F. Kerr, superintendent of Homewood schools, which already have an exchange for tennis shoes and galoshes, said the Glencoe plan "looks worthwhile."

School heads in Libertyville, Highland Park, and Glen Ellyn lauded the idea. Mrs. F. Russell Lyon, 6100 North Winthrop avenue, state chairman of civilian service of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, said she has suggested the shoe exchange to P-T units in the state.

SHOE REPAIRERS GIVE 5 TIPS TO HELP YOU CONSERVE FOOTWEAR

Shoe doctors are in for plenty of headaches now that shoe rationing promises to triple their business, James Fargo, president of the Master Shoe Repair and Valet association, stated yesterday. Altho shops thruout the city are prepared to handle the pressure of business at the present time, the repair problem can be alleviated greatly if persons will give attention to the selection and care of the new shoes allowed them by the rationing program, he said.

Fargo outlined a five point plan for the preservation of shoes.

1. Buy the best quality shoes you can afford.
2. Keep them waxed and polished to preserve the upper leather.
3. Keep them in shape with shoe trees nightly and do not put them near direct heat when damp. Strong heat cracks and dries the leather.
4. When shoes show the slightest wear, have them repaired. Good shoes can be repaired three or four times; cheap shoes only once.
5. Change shoes daily if your wardrobe permits.

Because children wear out and grow out of shoes more quickly than adults, Fargo suggested that parents purchase larger sizes than necessary and pad them to fit when new.

RATIONING TASK CLOSES SCHOOLS; COST CONTINUES

And Pupils Will Lose Week's Instruction.

James B. McCahey, president of the board of education, yesterday disclosed that while Chicago's elementary school children are being deprived of a week's instruction, the board will have to spend approximately a million dollars to operate the schools so that the office of price administration can carry out its registration of Chicagoans for war ration book No. 2.

The schools will be closed the week starting Feb. 22. The registration begins the next day. Ration book No. 2 will be used in the rationing of processed fruits and vegetables, starting March 1.

McCahey said he agreed with parents and educators that it is regrettable that the schools will be closed for a week.

Won't Cancel Spring Vacation.

"We have found no other way, however," he said, "to hold the registration of 3½ million Chicagoans than by suspending classes in 333 elementary schools. We thought of compensating for the week's holiday by canceling the spring vacation, but our budget would not permit the additional expenditure of one million dollars."

McCahey said the registration could not be conducted satisfactorily after the close of the school day because the teachers would be too tired.

McCahey also said that Chicago junior colleges and teachers' colleges will be closed during the same week so that 6,500 advanced students and teachers may assist the 9,000 public school teachers and thousands of volunteers who will handle the registration.

Lower Coffee Ration Age.

Michael F. Mulcahy, Chicago metropolitan area director for the office of price administration, said that plans for an alphabetical registration of consumers had not yet been completed. Principals of each school will conduct training classes for those who will act as registrars, Mulcahy said.

Mulcahy said that the OPA has lowered the eligibility age for coffee rations to 14 years. It previously was 15.

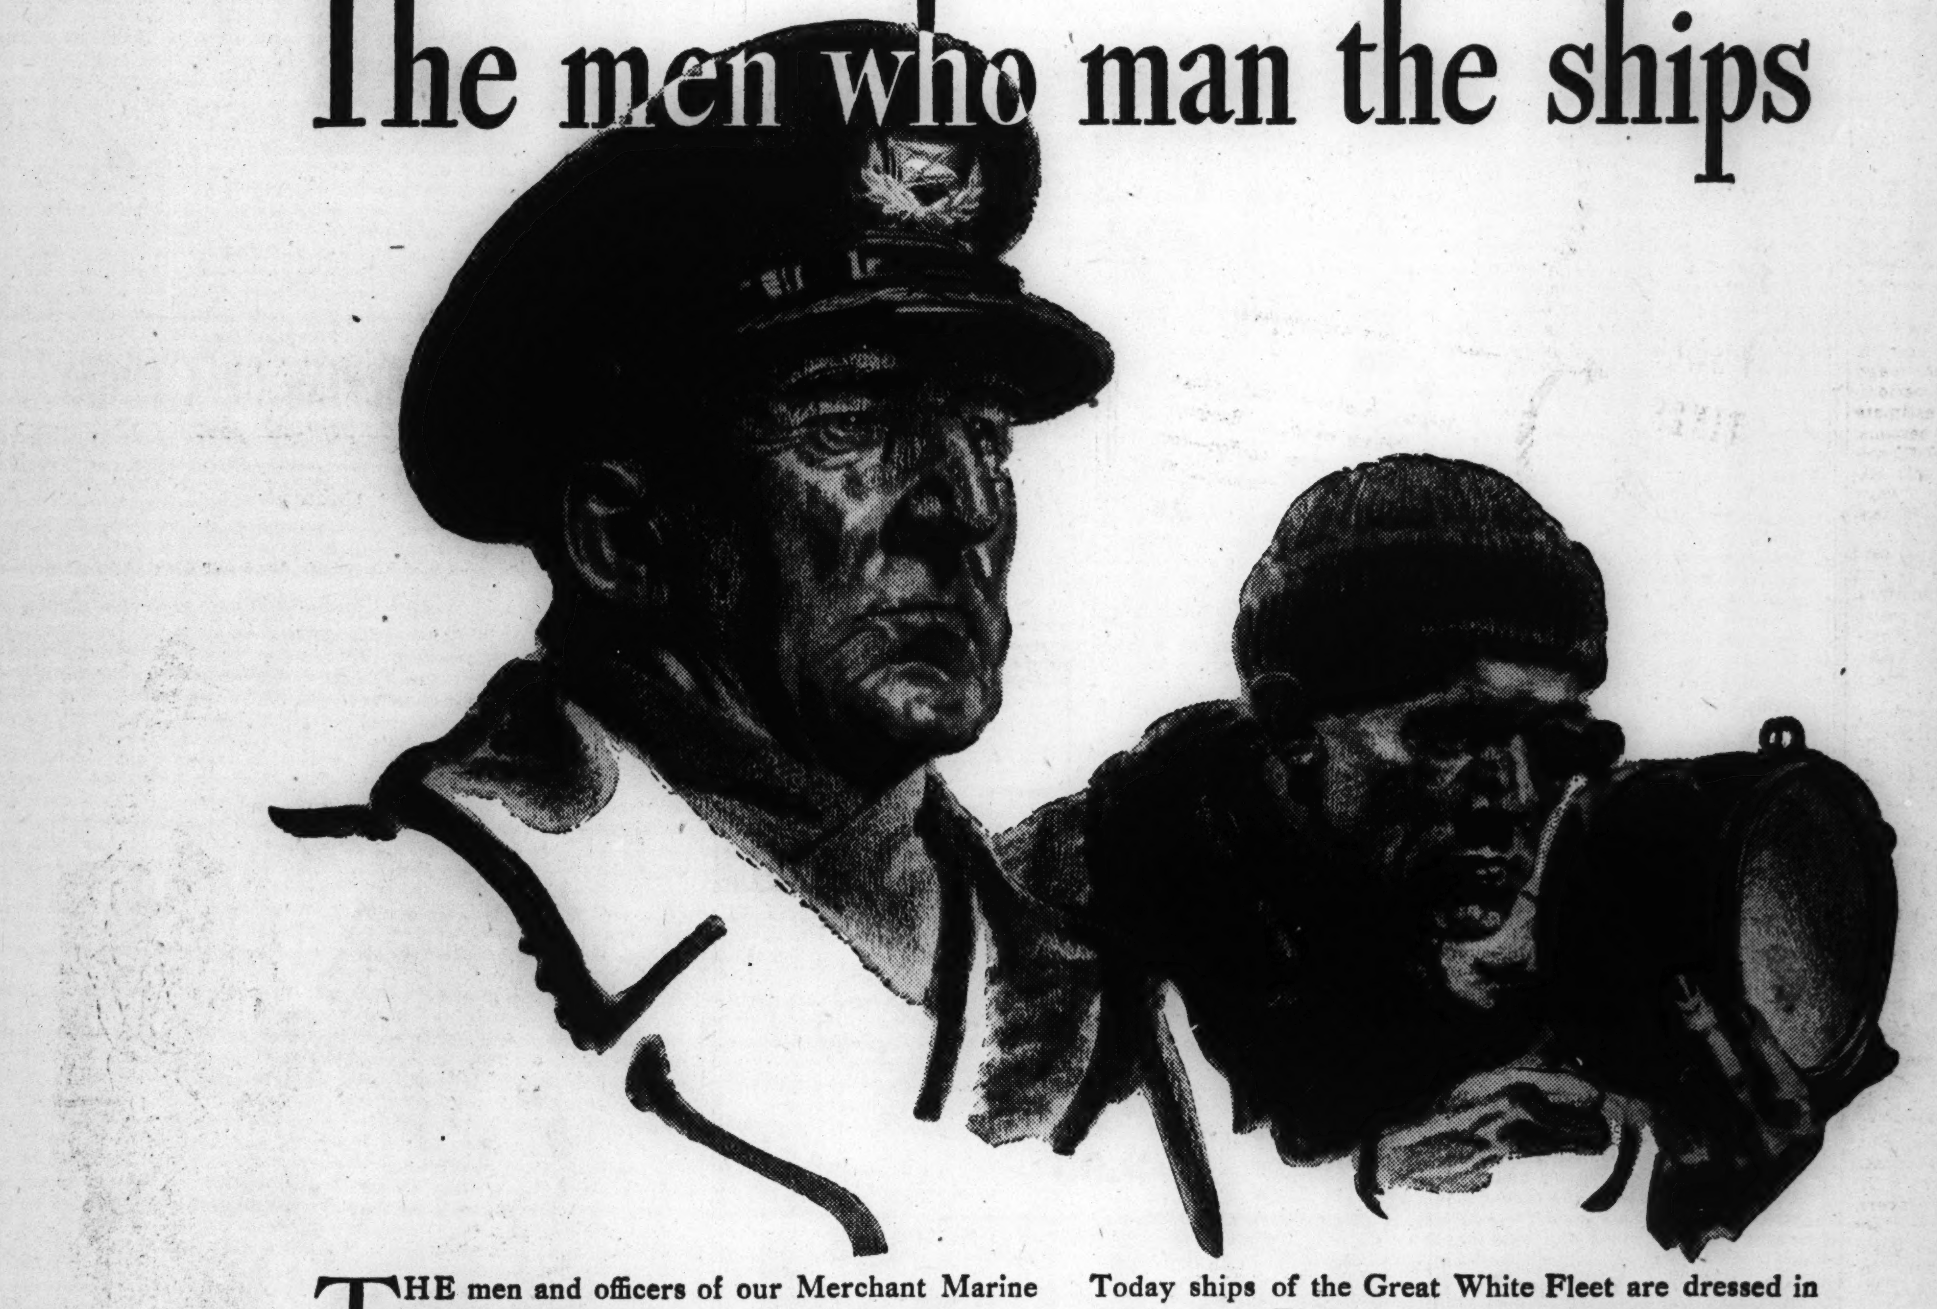
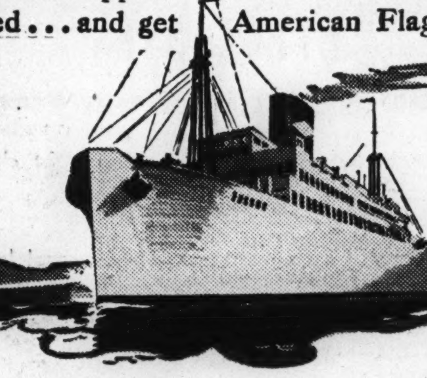
The men who man the ships



THE men and officers of our Merchant Marine are performing one of the most dangerous and indispensable jobs of this war. Quietly . . . determinedly . . . without fanfare. On voyage after voyage, they face the hazards of subs, bombers, mines and raiders. Any trip may bring sudden death or long days and nights of suffering in an open lifeboat. They know all this, yet they keep going back for more . . . keep the ships sailing . . . so that troops, planes, guns, gas and other vital supplies will get where they're so urgently needed . . . and get there on time! * * * * * *

For more than forty years ships of the Great White Fleet have been manned by staffs who combined the highest traditions of seamanship with a specialized knowledge of Caribbean waters . . . knowledge that resulted in the efficient care and prompt delivery of invaluable cargoes.



Today ships of the Great White Fleet are dressed in fighting gray. Their passenger accommodations and refrigerated holds contribute to the successful prosecution of the war. And the men who served aboard them in times of peace still tread their decks, giving to the grim war effort the same qualities of experience and steadfastness to duty as in the past.

The travel public and the merchants of the Americas alike look forward to the day when these gracious American Flag liners may once more ply a peaceful Caribbean. Meanwhile, all honor to the officers and men of the Merchant Marine. Theirs is the strength and courage that delivers the goods of war be the going ever so perilous. These men are heroes all. We of the United Fruit Company are proud of them . . . as is every red-blooded American!

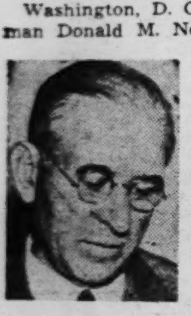
NELSON IS ASKED TO DELAY ADDED NEWSPRINT CUTS

Congressmen Seek Quiz on Attacks on Press.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]



Rep. Clarence F. Lea.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the war production board is to be asked to withhold orders for further cuts in newsprint production and consumption until congress investigates this and other curtailments on newspaper publication. Newsprint is the paper on which newspapers are printed.

The request is to be made by Rep. Clarence F. Lea [D., Cal.] as chairman of the house committee on interstate and domestic commerce. A delegation of 17 Republican congressmen from 10 woodpulp manufacturing states called upon Lea this afternoon following a meeting of half a hundred representatives who heard the sponsor, Rep. Fred Bradley [R., Mich.], charge that "long haired theorists" in the administration are seeking to control the press of America. Lea agreed to speak to Nelson.

Charges Large Cut Planned.

Rep. Paul Shafer [R., Mich.] said he had been told by Donald Sterling, WPB consultant on newspapers, that the office of civilian supply, of which Joseph Weiner is director, had proposed a "precipitous cut" in newsprint production.

Weiner has made a survey for James F. Byrnes, economic stabilization director, of the barest minimum to which the civilian economy could be cut if the most drastic curtailments prove necessary in prosecution of the war.

In the case of newsprint, Weiner's office is understood to have estimated the nation's "bed rock" needs at 40 per cent of 1939 publication levels in terms of dollar value and the minimum labor requirements of pulp and paper mills at 67 per cent of their employment for November, 1942.

The "bed rock" employment needs of newspapers and periodicals were estimated by Weiner's office at 56 per cent of November, 1942, levels; of books and job printing, 39 per cent; of lithographing, 81 per cent, and of book binding, 37 per cent.

Almost Halves Working Force.

As compared with a total force of 202,000 salaried persons and wage earners in the newspaper and periodical publishing industries, the estimate fixed a minimum of 115,000 persons. This was broken down into 50,000 salaried workers, as compared with 85,000 last November, and 65,000 wage earners as compared with 117,000 last November.

"I talked with Don Sterling," said Rep. Shafer, "and I know that he and others in WPB who want to do right will need help from congress to resist pressure from Ben Cohen [White House kitchen cabinet member] and others who are behind this movement against the press.

"Every daily newspaper in the country with circulations of less than 10,000 or 20,000 will be put out of business if there is another cut of more than 10 per cent in their newsprint allotments. Sterling said he didn't know whether this was the intent but that it would be the result."

Hits Waste by Bureaus.

"If the government would reduce its own consumption of paper, much of it useless," said Rep. Melvin J. Maas [R., Minn.], "there wouldn't be the alleged shortage of paper. This is something else for us to look into."

The house committee on interstate and foreign commerce was asked to investigate the administration's economic attack on the press in a pending resolution sponsored by Rep. Charles A. Halleck [R., Ind.]. Specifically, the inquiry would be directed at a reported proposal before the alphabetical agencies for the government to substitute its labels for trade names on merchandise. The buyer would not be able to identify the manufacturer. The seller couldn't benefit from advertising.

NEW DEAL'S RED TAPE WILL CLOSE 40 YEAR GROCERY

Storekeeper Has No Time for Books.

Niles, Mich., Feb. 8 [Special].—Harry Groshans, 55 year old grocer here, said today that when the government's new food rationing provisions go into effect Feb. 20 he will turn the key in the outer door and close his business "for the duration."

Up Half the Night!

"I don't have enough time now to do the book work in connection with government rationing reports," he explained. "I am up half of every night struggling with reports and forms and I have to spend my Sundays the same way. I am going to take a recess before it gets any worse."

Groshans said the store has been in continuous operation for 40 years and that he has been the owner and operator for 7 years. He and his wife and son did the work in the store until the son entered the service, he said, and since that time he and his wife have carried on alone.

Looking for a Farm.

"When the war is over maybe I will open up again," he said. "Meanwhile, the store can stay locked up. I am looking around for a small farm."

Groshans owns the two story brick building at the corner of St. Joseph avenue and Grant street in which the store is located.

OPA WILL PERMIT BAKERS TO RAISE PRICE OF PASTRY

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8 (AP).—The office of price administration today scrapped its price ceilings for pies, pastries, doughnuts, and cakes, and established a new pricing formula which, it estimated, will increase consumers costs 5 to 15 per cent.

Bread prices are not affected by the action. Cookies also are excluded, but the agency said another order would fix ceilings on these sweets.

The old ceilings had been based on the maximum of each retailer in March, 1942. Under the new formula, each retailer will be allowed a 25 per cent mark-up over the price he pays.

Under the regulation, each producer will be allowed the same mark-up over cost in March, 1942 as he received during varying base periods.

MARITIME UNION PLOT TO RUIN AFL RIVAL IS CHARGED

CIO Seeks to Sow Strife, Says Official.

BY ROY GIBBONS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 8. — Reds in the CIO National Maritime union are trying to smash AFL competition along the Atlantic and Gulf coast seaboards, it was charged by John Hawk, secretary-treasurer of the Seafarers' International Union of North America.

Hawk said the communist dominated organization headed by Joseph Curran, in league with Harry Bridges, west coast radical, is attempting to raise the issue of racial discrimination among Harlem Negro sailors in its latest attempt to shanghai the colored membership of the Seafarers' International, an AFL affiliate. He said Communist travelers in the National Maritime union also are attempting a silent infiltration into his organization to build cells of discontent aboard ships of operators with which his union holds contracts.

Peril in War Suggested.

"They can't hurt us," said Hawk, "but they could interfere with the smooth operation of a ship hauling vital war supplies."

Hawk said that back of the move is the secret hope by Curran's followers that if they can put enough of these maritime Quislings aboard SIU vessels they can bring Hawk's union into disrepute with ship owners by fomenting agitation among SIU crews.

He said NMU agents are cloaking their drive for racial antagonism behind an executive order by President Roosevelt calling for racial equality in war time industries. He said Curran's agents are promising mixed crews of white and Negro sailors in their attempt to raid the Negro section of the SIU, which has approximately 20,000 white and Negro members in the deck, mess, and engine departments of ships plying the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

Stand Voted by Union.

Hawk said that by a vote of its membership several years ago the SIU adopted the policy of having all white or all Negro watches for ship departments and that this practice met with the approval of its Negro membership. His union is linked with the powerful Sailors' Union of the Pacific.

"They [the NMU] would like to take us over, but they know they haven't a chance," Hawk said. "We have by far the better contracts, and our union appeals to the old time, professional seaman. The NMU, on the other hand, is able to attract only the newcomer into the business and Curran offers his men nothing after they join. They could get the same kind of contracts we have. But why don't they do it?"

Describes NMU Technique.

Hawk said one of the favorite dodges of NMU provocateurs is to get aboard a vessel operating under SIU agreement and to try to provoke the crew into making so many unreasonable demands for special privilges that the ship's captain will denounce the union as responsible for the dissension.

"We've been able to spot the trouble makers every time they've tried this ancient gag," Hawk said. "They're usually Johnnies-come-lately who have sneaked in past our guard thru the use of bogus credentials."

WILL DROP DRUNK DRIVING CHARGE AGAINST GENERAL

San Diego, Cal., Feb. 8 (AP).—District Atty. Thomas Whelan said today the "facts and circumstances" did not seem to justify issuance of a complaint against Maj. Gen. Holland M. Smith, booked Friday on a drunk-driving, hit-run charge.

"We are doubtful the drunk-driving charge could be established," said Whelan.

Gen. Smith, 61, commanding general of the fleet marine force here, was stopped by a motorcycle officer early Friday morning about three miles from a downtown San Diego street where Alvin J. Wilder, 23, navy machinist's mate second class, was injured when struck by an automobile.

"Because of the general's long military record and his value to the country I believe the ends of justice would be better served by not issuing a complaint," Whelan said.

Maj. Gen. William P. Upshur, commander of the department of the Pacific, San Francisco, arrived here today to investigate the case and report to the marine corps commandant, Washington, D. C.

Friend of the Yanks' Kin

By Sally Jay Brown.

[This department will answer questions covering problems related to the social welfare of relatives of service men, both in the column and by mail, if stamped, addressed envelopes are sent with inquiries.]

Mrs. H. writes: "I have a friend who raised her orphan nephew from infancy. He is now in the army. She has never received any money from him, but, since she was his foster mother, she feels that she is entitled to a family allowance such as other mothers receive."

ANSWER: The woman in question can receive a family allowance only if her nephew is in one of the four lowest pay grades and wishes to provide it for her. It will be necessary for her to obtain two affidavits proving that she stood in loco parentis to him, as well as affidavits proving relationship and dependency. I would suggest that she write to the service man and ask whether he will apply for an allowance for her. Financial dependency governs the payment of allowances for class "B" dependents.

M. D. writes: "In your column, I noticed that you mentioned that certain documentary evidence is required if a soldier is to apply for an allowance for his family. I expect to be inducted soon and would like to know what evidence I must have. I was married in 1941 and have three stepchildren. I have not legally adopted them, nor are there, so far as I know, any birth certificates issued for them. What can I do to get an allowance for them? Would affidavits from responsible people be sufficient? I also have a son born recently and possess a hospital certificate of his birth."

ANSWER: It is necessary to provide a birth certificate for any child in applying for a family allowance. Either a legal record of the birth or a church record will be necessary. If the children have been members of your household for a year, you should be able to obtain benefits for them, if they are under 18 years of age, but proof of the date of birth is necessary. You also must provide documentary evidence of your marriage in the form of a certified copy of your marriage record. At the time you file your official application, submit that documentary evidence. It is always wise to obtain birth certificates, since there are many occasions on which they are considered necessary evidence.

Mrs. B. writes: "When my husband enlisted in the navy, he was to receive a third class petty officer rating, because of his experience as a baker. Now his classification is baker third class. Is that one and the same, and does it pay $78 a month? Can I receive a family allowance?"

ANSWER: Your husband's rating as a baker third class is equivalent to that of a third class petty officer. His base pay is $78 a month. He is eligible to apply for a family allowance for you.

'EXPLANATIONS' IN CARGO TIEUP QUIZ QUESTIONED

Writer Doubts All Facts on Guadalcanal Told.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—The official explanation that the marines were expected to unload supply ships at Guadalcanal was questioned today at a public hearing of a house naval affairs subcommittee, which is investigating complaints that the merchant marine crew of one vessel refused to do the unloading.

Skepticism of the explanation was voiced by Mrs. Helen Waterhouse of the Akron [Ohio] Beacon Journal. Mrs. Waterhouse was the reporter who gathered the information upon which the Beacon Journal based its story that the marines had been forced to unload their own supplies at Guadalcanal after the crew had refused to work on Sunday.

Helps in Inquiry.

The account of the episode was given to Mrs. Waterhouse by Akron marines who had returned from Guadalcanal and the Pacific area. Navy, marine, and maritime officials denied it and explained that it was customary for the marines to do the unloading. Mrs. Waterhouse appeared before the subcommittee as a witness to aid in the inquiry.

"On the face of it," she told the members, "it appears that had it been the marines' duty to do it [the unloading], these young men from widely divergent areas of Akron wouldn't have thought it anything unusual that day at Guadalcanal and certainly wouldn't have brought the matter up in an interview with me.

"There were plenty of tougher things they had to do which might have been mentioned. There must have been something unusual about this incident or it would never have come to their lips in an interview."

Urges Probe of Other Reports.

Mrs. Waterhouse also suggested that the subcommittee investigate the 32 cases of infractions of rules warranting discipline of merchant marine men which were recently reported by Rear Adm. Emory S. Land, war shipping administrator. She said the incidents mentioned by Land might throw light on the Guadalcanal situation.

Land has denied the Guadalcanal incident and explained that misconduct in the merchant marine is a result of "war nerves."

Members of the subcommittee hammered away at the point that the marines with whom Mrs. Waterhouse had talked had been hesitant about telling full details. She replied that they were afraid to talk freely.

FARMERS FACING HARDEST TEST AS MANAGERS IN 1943

Restrictions Demand Careful Planning.

BY GAIL COMPTON.

Upon the farmer's ability to plan and manage depends the possibility of his meeting the enormous food goals set up for this coming season.

The farmer has lost his normal flexibility as a food producer thru machinery rationing, price ceilings, and lack of experienced labor. The fertility of his soil is a more or less static quality which cannot be changed appreciably in one season. His crops have been chosen for him to a great extent thru the war crop goals set for every farm by the department of agriculture.

Every Possible Short Cut.

As a result the farmer must turn to his own ability as a manager and supervisor to find every possible short cut which will enable him to overcome his restrictions and produce the food required.

The farmer must plan his work carefully and well in advance. He should prepare an accurate time table of his work so that he will be able to budget his labor and machinery. A list of jobs to be done on rainy days should be posted in the barn and acted upon whenever possible.

Essential jobs should be done first, and others during slack periods. All equipment should be repaired now and seed and fertilizer ordered. Live stock enterprises should be adjusted to avoid labor peaks, and the animals should be allowed to fend for themselves as much as possible.

Pooling of Help.

The pooling of labor on hauling jobs and harvesting will stretch the neighborhood's limited supply of men and equipment. If possible the work should be planned so that youngsters and inexperienced help will be able to save the time of skilled help. A wage increase for the hired hand now might encourage him to stay for the rest of the year.

Weeds should be killed early in the season to avoid unnecessary cultivation. High rates of crop and live stock production will make labor go further, experts at the University of Indiana assert.

They remind the farmer that if some acreage must be dropped because of lack of help, the least productive acres are those to let lie fallow. The weekly trip to town should be planned to take care of any requirements that might come during that week. A telephone call on needed repairs may save an unnecessary trip.

A Hopeless Tangle.

These are just a few of the things the farmer must plan before starting into his fields this year. If he foresees most of the situations that may arise during the growing season and plans his work accordingly, the farmer stands a much better chance of equaling his crop goals than if he farms "as normal."

Under the test of high production this year the good farmers and managers will show up quickly. Those who attempt to go along as they have in the past will find themselves in a hopeless tangle before the season is well under way.

DALE CARNEGIE
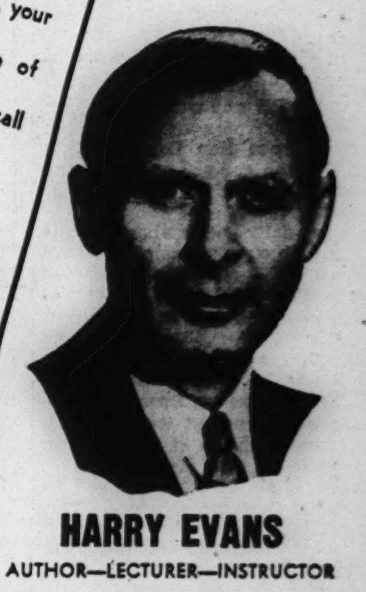
Author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People"

Dale Carnegie, through the Dale Carnegie Institute, has trained more business men and women to talk effectively than any other living man. During the past 30 years, more than 40,000 men and women have profited by Dale Carnegie courses in New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Chicago, Boston, London and Paris. Some of the most famous men in the nation have been trained by the Dale Carnegie Institute.

12 THINGS THIS TRAINING WILL HELP YOU DO . . .

1. PREPARE FOR LEADERSHIP in military and civil life.
2. THINK ON YOUR FEET and speak extemporaneously before business conferences, clubs, organizations, dinners.
3. DEVELOP COURAGE AND SELF-CONFIDENCE. Destroy fear. Cure an inferiority complex.
4. INCREASE YOUR POISE, polish and personal force both in business interviews and before groups.
5. "SELL" YOURSELF, YOUR SERVICES, your product, your enthusiasms.
6. WIN MORE FRIENDS by increasing your knowledge of practical psychology, your skill in human relations.
7. IMPROVE YOUR MEMORY, speak without notes and recall names and faces.
8. WRITE MORE EFFECTIVE LETTERS.
9. ENRICH YOUR COMMAND OF ENGLISH.
10. INSPIRE YOU WITH NEW IDEAS.
11. INCREASE YOUR INCOME. Doctor Everett Lord, founder of the College of Business Administration, Boston University, said: "I am positive that if you could persuade one thousand men to keep track of the hours they spend in any definite effort at self-improvement, these hours would show a cash value of ten dollars an hour."
12. OUR ARMED FORCES. To a man going into the armed services this training may possibly make the difference between remaining a buck private or getting an opportunity to attend an officers' training school. The Army is now emphasizing leadership training. For example, the Army Air Corps Officers' Candidate School at Miami Beach gives a course like ours, using in their training, the techniques we developed, and also using two text books we use in our classes—"Public Speaking and Influencing Men in Business" and "How to Win Friends and Influence People."



HARRY EVANS
AUTHOR—LECTURER—INSTRUCTOR

Mr. Evans' lectures and articles on selling are familiar to Sales Organizations and business men and women throughout the United States. He has been a member of the Dale Carnegie Institute faculty for many years.

"I consider Harry Evans one of the outstanding Instructors on our staff. His ability to inspire people to greater achievement is well known to thousands of men and women. He is also a convincing and forceful speaker."—Dale Carnegie.

HOW THIS COURSE IS CONDUCTED

You will meet one evening a week for sixteen weeks as one of a group of 40 business men and women.

These meetings will be held in private dining rooms of hotels or restaurants. Each group will be strictly limited to forty.

Your instructors will tell you what is right with your talk and what is wrong with it, and how to remedy and improve it. Every member of the class will write his suggestions for improving your talks; so when you finish, you will have the instructor's help and the comments of 39 of your fellow students. You will receive the helpful co-operation of your associates in the class.

As a result of this training you will soon develop courage and self-possession. You will learn to think on your feet. You will conquer fear; and "Fear," said Elbert Hubbard, "defeats more men than any other one thing in the world."

As the course progresses, you will be shown how to plan and prepare and construct your talks, how to illustrate your points, how to be clear, how to be entertaining, how to be impressive and convincing. You will be taught how to appear to advantage before a group, how to remember what you want to say, how to begin and how to end your talks.

If we described here all the things this training will do for you, it would sound like exaggeration. So we have prepared a booklet which outlines the benefits to be derived from this training, which will be given away at this meeting. In our files at 20 E. Jackson Blvd. are the names of hundreds of students who have taken this training. If you care to investigate, we will furnish you any or all of these names. You are invited to write or telephone them and discover for yourself precisely how they have profited by it.

MAKE YOURSELF QUICKLY AND FAVORABLY KNOWN

Theodore Alvy, Chief Engineer of La Cour Iron Works, attended monthly meetings of the American Association of Engineers for twelve years without being able to say a word. After completing this training, he arose at one of their meetings and spoke for twelve minutes.

"I made more friends," said Mr. Alvy, "and acquired more prestige by one twelve-minute talk than I had been able to do in a dozen years as a silent, inarticulate member."

Hundreds of other students have had similar experiences. So can you at meetings in your business or community.

79 W. MADISON ST., between Dearborn and Clark
Wednesday, February 10, at 8:00 P. M.

Harry Evans will explain Dale Carnegie's unique system of training, and you will hear several business men and women talk on how they have profited by this training. This meeting will be intensely interesting.

At similar meetings held last year throughout the country thousands were turned away; so come early. Both men and women will be welcome. No cost. No obligation. Those who have already taken this training are invited to bring their friends to this meeting.

These coupons will be honored in the order in which they are presented until the seating capacity of the Hall is exhausted.

OPA PROMISES TO END RED TAPE ON TIRE RECAPS

Plans Order to Call Off Ration Restriction.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8 [Special]. —After about March 1 motorists will be able to get their tires recapped with reclaimed rubber without rationing restrictions, it was learned tonight from an office of price administration spokesman.

An order to this effect is being prepared and its primary result will be that lack of tires will not cause the stoppage of any of the country's approximately 27,000,000 passenger cars.

Under present procedure a person who wishes to have a tire recapped must have it inspected and the proposed recapping approved by a tire inspector. Then he must go to his ration board, which may supply a certificate to present to the recapper.

Under the new procedure any driver, whether he be an A, B, or C gasoline card holder, may get a recap job done without any inspection, certificate, or other red tape.

Expected to Save Rubber.

The car owner will simply take his tire to a recapper, get the job done, and pay for it. The spokesman did not go into the matter of whether the recapper will have sufficient rubber to handle all calls. It is believed more rubber will be saved under the new plan than is possible under the scheme of requiring inspection and certificate for a recapping.

OPA officials stressed that an important part in rubber conservation is the preservation of tire carcasses. Present rules cause many persons to drive tires beyond the stage where they can be saved by recapping.

Saving of New Tires.

This necessitates the allotment to them of a new "war tire." A recapping job takes two and a half times less the rubber needed for a "war tire."

In addition OPA believes that gasoline rationing is strict enough to prevent unnesessary waste of rubber thru excessive driving, both in mileage and speed.

The "camelback" used for recapping tires and the "war tires" are 100 per cent reclaimed rubber.

Firestone Offers Hope.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 8 (AP).—Harvey S. Firestone Jr., president of Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, said today that motorists probably will be able to squeeze thru on their present tires until synthetic rubber is available in volume.

"At the beginning of the year we had on hand something over 400,000 tons of rubber," said Firestone, in an interview here. "It is estimated, perhaps conservatively, that we can obtain new supplies of synthetic and natural rubber amounting to 275,000 tons."

He said estimated needs for 1943 are 577,000 tons and on the basis of these figures there will be a stock pile of less than 120,000 tons by the end of the year.

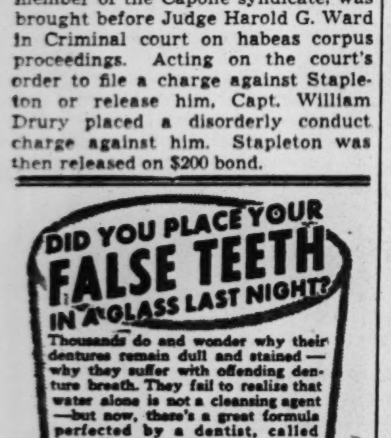
He believes the bottleneck in synthetic rubber production is the petroleum product from which it is made, butadiene. There still is a steady, if slow, importation of natural rubber, he added.

SLAYING SUSPECT TAKEN TO SCENE; IDENTIFIED AGAIN

Thomas Stapleton, seized Sunday in connection with the slaying of Estelle Carey, former dice girl and model, yesterday was identified for a second time by Mrs. Howard Parker, manager of the apartment building at 512 Addison street in which Miss Carey was found beaten and burned to death.

Mrs. Parker had made her first identification of Stapleton at the Town Hall police station Sunday. Yesterday Stapleton was taken to the apartment building and there made to walk thru the courtyard under observation of Mrs. Parker, who sat at the same window from which she said she saw a man enter and leave the courtyard last Tuesday, the day of the slaying. Mrs. Parker repeated the identification.

After the showup, Stapleton, a member of the Capone syndicate, was brought before Judge Harold G. Ward in Criminal court on habeas corpus proceedings. Acting on the court's order to file a charge against Stapleton or release him, Capt. William Drury placed a disorderly conduct charge against him. Stapleton was then released on $200 bond.



DID YOU PLACE YOUR FALSE TEETH IN A GLASS LAST NIGHT?

Thousands do and wonder why their dentures remain dull and stained — why they suffer with offending denture breath. They fail to realize that water alone is not a cleansing agent —but now, there's a great formula perfected by a dentist, called Stera-Kleen that thoroughly cleans false teeth without harmful brushing! Simply put a little Stera-Kleen Powder in a glass of water — soak your teeth — now they sparkle, are really clean and look like the day your dentist said, "Don't they look natural?" Try Stera-Kleen — lasts long — costs only 30¢. At druggists.

COAL DUST MIX MAY HELP EAST IN OIL SHORTAGE

Reduces Consumption of Petroleum Fuel.

New York, Feb. 8 [Special].—New York users of industrial fuel oil who are faced with a 40 per cent war time reduction of their supplies, threatening a shutdown of many plants, including laundries, have found a man who promises to solve the shortage by a method of injecting coal dust into the oil.

J. G. Coutant, a consulting engineer on powder fuels, says he will show the big oil consumers how to make up the 40 per cent difference by simply adding the dust, now heaped in worthless piles around many mines. He is building a 600,000 barrel a year colloidal oil plant here for the Metropolitan Petroleum corporation.

Costs Very Little.

"This coal dust, which has been littering up the mines over the country for years, is perfect for the manufacture of the colloidal oil," said Coutant today. "It costs practically nothing and added to oil it makes a fuel decidedly superior to the scarce No. 6 oil, now used by industries.

Prof. Coutant will stage a demonstration at the Metropolitan plant this week. For more than a month the Metropolitan furnaces have been operating successfully on the low grade oil supercharged with the pulverized coal.

"This colloidal oil with its coal-dust content has the same viscosity of the No. 6 oil," explained the fuel expert. "It is cheaper, yet it develops a higher flame temperature and there are less vapor losses from the stack. And it can be used without any conversion of present oil burning equipment."

Ickes Told of Process.

Early in January, Rep. Fred Hartley Jr. of New Jersey, chairman of a congressional committee investigating the fuel problem, pointed out to Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes the possibilities of colloidal oil as an industrial fuel. He referred to the 50 million tons of otherwise useless coal dust in the anthracite region alone. He said it was the equivalent of 209 million barrels of fuel oil.

On Jan. 19 Ickes wrote Hartley, admitting the possibilities of the dust-laden oil as an answer to the eastern seaboard's fuel oil problems. He told of progress made in the research work along that line during the last war, that progress having come to a standstill after the war because of the abundance of oil at that time.

Saves Much Oil.

Ickes said that investigation had disclosed that it was possible to make mixtures containing up to 40 per cent coal without affecting the flow of the fuel thru the piping, pumps, and injector nozzles. He said it meant a saving of 30 per cent in fuel oil consumption. He pointed out that the change-over to the new fuel could be made without new equipment or even a shutdown of the plants.

To date this mixed fuel has not been considered applicable to oil burners in homes. The colloidal mixture must go to the burner heated to a certain degree, as is required in the use of the No. 6 industrial oil.

FOUR OF TOUHY GANG INDICTED FOR BREAK, FACE 199 YEARS EACH

Four members of the Roger Touhy gang were indicted by a Will county grand jury in Joliet yesterday for aiding in the escape of Edward Darlak from Stateville penitentiary last October.

Touhy, Matthew Nelson and William Stewart will be arraigned at 10 a. m. today before Circuit Court Judge James B. Bartley. Basil [The Owl] Banghart, fourth member of the gang to be named in the indictments, was taken to Alcatraz federal penitentiary after the gang was rounded up here.

Under Illinois law the men, if convicted, face the same 199 year sentence Darlak is serving. Both Stewart and Nelson are now under 20-year sentences.

All five of the men, with St. Clair McInerney and James O'Connor, crashed their way out of the prison. Nelson was arrested in St. Paul, Minn. McInerney and O'Connor were killed when they resisted arrest during the roundup of the gang here last month.

FUEL OIL INQUIRY TO CONCENTRATE ON RATION NEED

State's Available Supply to Be Determined.

BY JOHNSON KANADY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 8.—The special legislation committee to investigate fuel oil rationing in Illinois agreed today its work would deal with basic problems of the oil industry in Illinois to determine whether rationing is necessary and feasible.

Sen. Nicholas J. Hubbard [D., Mount Pulaski] and Sen. R. G. Crisenberry [R., Murphysboro] suggested the committee divorce itself, at least for the present, from consumer and distributor complaints and deal only with the need or absence of need for rationing in this area. His suggestion was approved by the committee.

Sen. Earle Benjamin Searcy [R., Springfield] was named chairman of the committee and Rep. Lottie Holman O'Neill [R., Downers Grove] was elected secretary. Sen. Walker Butler [R., Chicago] was the only committee member absent at the organization meeting.

Hubbard Lists Three Points.

Hubbard's suggestion to examine the need for fuel oil rationing was embodied in three points:

1. Obtain facts and figures on the supply of fuel oil in Illinois.
2. Obtain information on the available means of transportation to deliver oil to dealers and consumers.
3. Find out definitely the needs of the army and navy in respect to fuel oil.

Hubbard said that with this information a picture can be obtained of the need for rationing in Illinois.

"If we find that there is enough oil in Illinois, which I think there is, then we can find out why it isn't getting to the consumers," Hubbard said. "I was in the World war, and if I were in this one I would not want my parents to feel that they have to freeze. I am certain the boys who are in the army and navy feel the same way."

Committee Members Agree.

Other members of the committee who agreed with Hubbard on the first problem to be tackled insisted, however, that even if a certain amount of rationing should be found necessary recommendations should be made to alleviate the present confusion.

Mrs. O'Neill suggested extending the committee's work to look into the actions of local rationing boards to see whether they are handling complaints and general fuel rationing capably.

Members of the senate will meet tomorrow afternoon to pass or defeat emergency appropriation bills now on third reading.

Puerto Rican Legislators Assail New Deal Repealer

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Feb. 8 (AP). —Without waiting for Gov. Rexford G. Tugwell's expected message tomorrow morning, the senate and the house of representatives at a night session adopted a resolution condemning the Crawford bill as inimical to Puerto Rican democracy, and called for its rejection by congress. The Crawford bill, which would annul various Populares laws, phases of Peurto Rico's "little New Deal," was upheld by a coalition minority.

GUN IDENTIFIED AS WEAPON USED IN PUCKETT CASE

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 8 [Special].—Robert Borkenstein, chief laboratory technician at Indiana state police headquarters, testifying as a ballistics expert this afternoon at the trial of Will R. Puckett, 64 years old, charged with murdering his mail order bride, 67 year old Ella May Puckett of Chicago, identified a .38 caliber revolver introduced in evidence by the state as the one that killed Mrs. Puckett last Nov. 6.

Borkenstein said markings on test bullets he fired from the gun were the same as those on the bullet taken from Mrs. Puckett's head. The test bullets were shown to the jurors.

Lafayette police found the old fashioned .38 caliber revolver near the scene of the slaying. One previous witness, Mrs. Elizabeth Klaus, 7839 Kimbark avenue, Chicago, testified that she knew there was a similar revolver in the Pucketts' Chicago home less than three years ago. Joseph P. Renaud, 3708 South Wells street, Chicago, testified that he purchased such a weapon for Mrs. Puckett's first husband 35 years ago. Puckett had told police he had two revolvers of such caliber, one in Chicago and one in Lafayette.

RULES SURVIVOR GETS WAR BONDS OWNED JOINTLY

Judge O'Connell Refuses Estate Claims.

Judge John F. O'Connell of the probate court ruled yesterday that war bonds owned jointly by two persons become the property of the surviving coöwner on the death of the other coöwner, and do not become part of the dead coöwner's estate.

The ruling was considered far reaching, particularly affecting thousands of husbands and wives and others in Illinois who own war bonds together. The United States government was actively interested in the case, and the Swedish government was indirectly interested.

Widower's Estate Involved.

The case was that of August P. Ohlin, 62 years old, of 5301 North Christiana avenue, a widower, who died June 2, 1942, and Mrs. Nanny Forsgren, his housekeeper. Together they owned $12,750 in war bonds, but after Ohlin's death, Harold Vick, administrator of the estate, valued at about $25,000, sought to include the bonds as part of that estate. Vick is a son-in-law of Adolph Ohlin, brother of Ohlin. Adolph Ohlin and three sisters in Sweden are heirs at law.

In court yesterday when the case was argued were Jess Halsted, attorney for Vick; William H. Townsend, counsel for Mrs. Forsgren; G. B. Anderson, representing the four heirs and the Swedish consul, and James J. Lewis, assistant United States attorney.

Halsted asserted that under Illinois law jointly owned bonds go to a deceased coöwner's estate and not to the surviving coöwner, but Townsend and Lewis argued against this contention. Both sides submitted legal decisions from other states and the federal government to support their claims.

Rules Death Ends Interest.

In the end, Judge O'Connell upheld contentions of the government and Townsend. If Mrs. Forsgren had had possession of the bonds at Ohlin's death, nothing could have stopped her from cashing the bonds, he said.

"The interest of the decedent [Ohlin] in these bonds terminated with his death," said Judge O'Connell," and the coöwner is entitled to the bonds."

Eugene W. Sloan, executive director of the treasury department war savings staff, testifying as a witness, told Judge O'Connell that 95 per cent of bonds sold are sold on the coöwner basis and any decision eliminating one coöwner on the death of the other "would render the situation chaotic." Sloan came to Chicago to testify in the case.

ILLINOIS BREAKS BOND SALE RECORD; FAILS TO MEET HIGH QUOTA

Illinois war bond sales for January fell $11,339,334 below the state's exceptionally high quota of $66,100,000 even tho sales reached a record total of $54,760,666. National sales of the "E" bonds totaled $814,928,000, or 90.5 per cent of the 900 million dollar quota. Illinois' sales were 82.7 per cent of the state's quota.

"The January quota," said Normal B. Collins, state administrator of the war savings staff, "was set high because January is one of the biggest investment months of the year. It was anticipated that many persons would buy their yearly limit of bonds during the month. Apparently this did not occur."

Collins discounted the 5 per cent victory tax as a factor in failure of Illinois to meet the January quota. He said 264 more firms were added to the list of 10 per cent buyers, bringing the state total up to 1,974. The Illinois bond quota for February has been cut to $44,800,000. The war savings staff expects to recoup some of the January failure.

Employe of New York News Killed in Aerial Combat

New York, Feb. 8 [Special].—Pilot Officer Stuart Rogers Jr., 22 years old, of the royal Canadian air force, son of Stuart Rogers, assistant city editor of the New York News, was reported killed in action on Sunday. A former circulation department employé, Rogers is the first News employé killed in combat in this war. Rogers may be the one flyer lost in patrols over France and Belgium as reported in a British air ministry communication Sunday.

OPEN PAY BOOST TALKS FOR 3,500 JANITORS IN LOOP

Negotiations for a new wage contract were opened yesterday before Judge Joseph A. Burke of the Circuit court on behalf of 3,500 janitors and janitresses who work in approximately 300 buildings in the loop area.

The workers, represented by Atty. Clifford O'Brien, are members of the Office, Theater and Amusement Building Janitors' union, local 25, of the Building Service Employés' International union of the A. F. L. Judge Burke will report his findings to the war labor board.

The employés seek a closed shop, a wage increase from $135 to $180 a month for janitors, and $20 additional a month for head janitors and firemen. They also seek to reduce working hours from 48 to 40 weekly. The janitresses ask that their wages be increased from 48 to 70 cents an hour. Charwomen want 75 cents an hour. Head floorladies and head janitresses seek an additional 10 cents an hour.

Life in Prison Is Price for Quiet Won by Murder

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 8 (AP).—Francis L. Grady, 34 years old, was sentenced to life imprisonment today for the slaying of a woman last August because her small sons bothered him. Grady said he "saw red" when he shot the neighbor, Mrs. Dorothy Ballard. He said the noise her three minor sons made had kept him awake when he was ill.

BOARD PUTS O. K. ON $18,591,811 COUNTY BUDGET

Not Balanced, but Best We Can Do—Ryan.

BY WILLIAM SHINNICK.

Cook county's board of commissioners adopted a 1943 budget yesterday calling for total expenditures of $18,591,811. Altho this figure is three millions under the 1942 budget, even the board members admitted that it was unlikely the anticipated revenues would be large enough to balance the spending.

"It is not a balanced budget," said Commissioner Daniel Ryan, "but it is the best one we could make under the circumstances."

The same view was expressed by the other 13 members who voted for the budget. The only opponent was Commissioner George F. Nixon, whose only reply was "No!" when he was asked why he did not favor the figures recommended by the board's finance committee.

Based on Collection Hopes.

Last year's operations of the county were at a loss and at the beginning of the fiscal year, on Dec. 1, bills for more than five million dollars had piled up. The deficit for the last year exceeded three millions. To make an apparent balance a year ago the amount of collections of delinquent tax penalties was estimated at seven millions; actually about four millions came from this source.

This time the same method is being used. Tax penalties are figured at six millions and there is a new item of one million which the county hopes to make the City of Chicago and the country townships pay from relief funds to support patients in Oak Forest infirmary and County hospital.

Gain $146,000 on Paper.

In the last few days the budget conferees felt forced to grant pay raises to union help, who demanded the regular scale, and another bit of legerdemain had to be performed. It was decided that the customary 10 per cent of the county corporate tax levy written off for losses in collection was too large and this was reduced to 8 per cent—a paper gain of $146,000.

The total budget, however, is the smallest in years. Some 400 county employés were dropped from the pay rolls. With other cuts in actual spending the board members insist that at least a million and a half has been slashed from the 1942 budget. The other million and a half reduction includes elimination of election expense, $900,000 [there are no elections the county must pay for], the expected transfer of blind relief responsibility entirely to the state and federal governments, saving $200,000, the lessening of the cost of aid to dependent children, $150,000, and the $146,000 adjustment in collection losses.

Several of the board members said that with charity costs going up, the county would have to appeal to the state legislature for more revenue and that if it isn't forthcoming "anything could happen." The possibility of payless paydays was not overlooked.

Wants Close Watch.

Commissioner William N. Erickson explained his vote as in line with his belief the budget was the best one possible. He added that at the next meeting he would suggest there be frequent budget control meetings to call to task any officials who overspend.

Maurice F. Kavanagh, chairman of the finance committee, agreed with Erickson that the county's creditors should be paid something on their bills, pro rata, whenever funds become available. The creditors have had little in months, Kavanagh added, and it is necessary at times to pay cash for sorely needed supplies. Erickson said that he wanted to bar "favoritism" to any creditors.

ASSURE LABOR'S AID IN RED CROSS WAR FUND DRIVE

Organized labor's support of the $8,750,000 Red Cross War Fund campaign was assured yesterday with an announcement by Martin H. Kennelly, chairman of the drive, that a labor committee had been formed to handle solicitations among union workers. Samuel Laderman, business manager of the Pocketbook and Leather Workers' union, is chairman of the committee.

Kennelly reported organization work for the drive, which opens March 1, is progressing rapidly and that he expects to have all vice chairmen to head major solicitation groups appointed this week. Enrollment of volunteer workers will follow, he said, with a goal of 50,000 men and women in Cook, Du Page and the southern half of Lake counties.

NASH 'SOLD OUT' TO LINDHEIMER, MOSS CHARGES

Switch of Democratic Favor Irks 5th Ward.

Bertram B. Moss, 5th ward aldermanic candidate from whom the Kelly-Nash machine indorsement was snatched on Sunday and handed to former County Treasurer Horace G. Lindheimer, charged yesterday that he was "sold out" by Patrick A. Nash, octogenarian boss of the party.

Moss labeled the deal "a treacherous act which the people of the 5th ward recognize as skulduggery of the worst sort, against which they will speak emphatically at the polls on Feb. 23." He announced he will stick in the fight to the finish.

"Sour Grapes," Says Rival.

Lindheimer called Moss' statement "a case of sour grapes." He declared that the indorsement had been tendered him [Lindheimer] because of his accomplishments in the ward and for the party.

"The precinct captains didn't know Moss, and they felt that Moss, as a comparative newcomer in the ward, would stand less chance of being elected than a better known candi date," Lindheimer said.

The sidetracked candidate attributed his plight to these main factors: 1. Payment of a good sized sum of money into the Democratic campaign chest by the Lindheimer camp. 2. The ambition of Al Horan, chief bailiff of the Municipal court and an intimate of Nash, to dominate city politics, and Horan's fear that Moss would not fit in with his south side plans.

Quotes Ward Committeeman.

"I was told by Dave Eichner [Democratic ward committeeman of the 5th] that a lot of money was paid in certain quarters to switch the endorsement from me to Horace Lindheimer," Moss said. "Eichner also told me he had been threatened with loss of his county pension if he didn't go along.

"This move has earned the enmity of every sensible person in the ward and has done tremendous harm to the Democratic party. Fifth warders are up in arms."

Reports were heard that church leaders of various faiths were preparing to sermonize against machine politics next Sunday.

Gambling Angle Scented.

Political repercussions of the deal were evident. John Leonard East, Republican ward committeeman, who had previously made no indorsement, instructed his precinct captains to support any candidate except Lindheimer. The others, besides Moss, are Walter Johnson, University of Chicago history instructor who is backed by followers of former Ald. Paul Douglas, and Gail Strader, radio merchant with a large personal following.

Johnson said yesterday the Lindheimer deal was, in his opinion, the signal for west side gambling interests to move into the ward and start trying to buy the election.

M'KIBBIN WARNS MACHINE EDGES INTO RATION RULE

Charges Politics Takes Over OPA.

George B. McKibbin, regular Republican organization candidate for mayor, warned Illinoisans yesterday to be on their guard against political manipulation of B and C gasoline rationing cards and fuel oil coupons.

Speaking before the City club in the Hotel La Salle, he said that suspicion has been warranted by the appointment of Raymond S. McKeough, a congressional lame duck, as regional director for the office of price administration.

"We willingly accept the rationing of food and gasoline and fuel where needed for victory," said McKibbin, "yet we demand an effective and fair administration of the rationing system.

Indication of Spoils System.

"It is imperative that the office of price administration, from its head at Washington down to the rationing board in the community, enjoy the confidence of the people.

"Chicagoans who have seen the spoils politics of the Kelly machine are alarmed at indications that the machine is trying to take over the OPA in this community.

"Until last week, the OPA here was headed, as regional director for the midwest area, by John C. Weigel, a business man and economist who had a fine record of nonpolitical service under both Gov. Horner and Gov. Green. His sudden removal last week without adequate explanation and his replacement by Raymond S. McKeough, the Kelly-Nash hand picked candidate for United States senator last year, is a matter of concern in this community.

Danger of Politics in Rationing.

"It is a threat of the intrusion of politics into these vital war time controls. The issuance or withholding of B and C gasoline rationing books and the granting or refusing of applications for additional fuel oil open a new field for machine politics beyond the dreams of the most eager spoilsman."

In a radio speech last night, Arthur F. Albert, another Republican candidate for mayor, condemned Gov. Green for failure to have his budget estimates before the general assmbly by Feb. 3.

Mayor Kelly, Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, and Lloyd M. Johnson, commissioner of streets and electricity, joined last night in a radio round table discussion concerning chiefly streets and alleys. This was designed to cite accomplishments of the Kelly administration.

PARKER PETITIONS IN G.O.P. RACE FOR MAYOR RULED OUT

The office of City Clerk Ludwig D. Schreiber yesterday notified the board of election commissioners that it has refused to certify the nominating petition of Harrison Parker, seeking the Republican nomination for mayor.

Acting on a court order, the city clerk's office examined the petition and found that 1,100 of its 3,292 signatures had been obtained by Elmer L. Benton, 251 South Home avenue, Oak Park. The 1,100 signatures were ruled out because Benton is not a resident of Chicago, and therefore was not eligible to obtain signatures for a Chicago election.

This left Parker with 2,192 valid signatures. A minimum of 3,009 is required.

M'VITTIE ASSAILS THE HINK'S REIGN OVER FIRST WARD

Charges Long Neglect of Schools.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

First ward voters were told last night that their ward is not first in the benefits received from the taxes they pay, and particularly not in anything benefiting the school children. James McVittie, nonpartisan candidate for alderman, said the ward is still using a public school built five years before the Civil war—87 years ago—and that the newest school in the ward was built 43 years ago.

At a meeting held in the St. Jerome church hall, 28th street and Princeton avenue, a large audience heard McVittie, George B. McKibbin, regular Republican candidate for mayor, and Roger Faherty, who withdrew his mayoral candidacy in the interest of Republican harmony.

Young Woman Presides.

Miss Genevieve Cacciatore, a young woman who grew up in the neighborhood, presided at the meeting, assisted now and then by Ben S. Black, state lodging house inspector. Present were Hobart Neff and Frank Durham, who with Black are officials of the Business Men's committee.

The Business Men's committee drafted McVittie to run for alderman in opposition to the political ruling powers of the ward that for 50 years has been the happy hunting grounds of Michael [Hinky Dink] Kenna and the late John [Bathhouse John] Coughlin.

"Mayor Kelly went to Washington many times and got millions of dollars for public benefits for the rest of the city but nothing for the 1st ward," Black said. "At present the board of education is preparing a budget of $202,000,000 for the public schools of Chicago — very little of which will be used for the children of the 1st ward.

School Built in 1856.

"The Mosely school at 2358 South Michigan avenue was built in 1856. It is the same now as it was then, except that occasionally it is necessary to nail the boards down again. The only change made was in 1885, when the outside plumbing was discarded in favor of inside plumbing.

"The Ward school was built in 1874, the Haynes school in 1886, and both are still in use. Our former aldermen were not interested in schools. Jim McVittie will be. He'll be the No. 1 alderman in the city council and the No. 1 alderman for the whole city."

REDS FAKE CITY TICKET FOR NEW TRIBUNE ATTACK

The Communist party returned yesterday to its attack on THE TRIBUNE and Illinois Republican leaders in a pamphlet issued supposedly in the interests of Communist candidates for mayor, city treasurer, and city clerk of Chicago.

Inquiry of election authorities brought replies that there would be no such Communist candidates on any ballot for either the primaries of Feb. 23 or the election of April 6. Communist, Fascist, Nazi, and other parties having un-American principles are barred from the ballot by Illinois law.

Under these circumstances, the general conclusion was that in pretending to have candidates at this time the Communists have done so merely to provide a disguise for their attacks on George B. McKibbin, the regular Republican organization candidate for mayor, hoping that thereby they can aid the Democratic cause.

"Will Chicago once and for all deliver a knockout blow to THE TRIBUNE and its cohorts?" the pamphlet asks.

"This and only this can be the real issue in the elections. The greatest crime of all would be to permit the McCormick - Brooks - Green - McKibbin defeatists to gain control of our city."

A free press stands as one of the great interpreters between the government and the people. To allow it to be fettered is to fetter ourselves.—United States Supreme Court.

THE FORGOTTEN WEST.

Mr. John Francis Neylan of San Francisco has called public attention to the failure of Mr. Roosevelt to appoint men from the western two-thirds of this country to important positions.

"In the membership of the Supreme court," Mr. Neylan has said, "the area west of the Mississippi is represented by a justice who spent a portion of his boyhood on the Pacific coast. . . . Not a single member of the President's cabinet comes from west of the Mississippi. With two possible exceptions, there is not a man from the middle west, the west, or the Pacific coast states in a primary administrative post in Washington. . . . While the country is menaced from both sides, one side is without representation in those branches of government making the all-important decisions."

These facts were brought to the attention of the President by Congressman Clarence Lea, who some time later received a letter from Mr. Roosevelt saying "the existing situation should, I frankly admit, be rectified. I have had this matter very seriously in mind and will certainly be influenced by it in future appointments." Nothing, however, has been done about it unless the appointment to the Supreme court of Mr. Rutledge, who taught law at Iowa and other western universities, can be regarded as a recognition that there is a lot of the United States west of the Alleghanies and a lot west of the Mississippi. When it came to choosing an ambassador to Australia Mr. Roosevelt came up with Mr. Paving Block Ed Flynn of New York City.

Mr. Roosevelt's slighting of the west is not to be explained merely as provincialism. He owes his last election in large part to the corrupt political machines in the metropolitan cities, to the support of the CIO, and to the solid south. He hasn't given much in return to the south because he knows—or thinks he knows—it will vote Democratic anyway. He does have to deliver to the crooked political machines and to the radical laborites.

That leaves the west pretty well out of the running because there are few metropolitan cities west of the Mississippi to have corrupt Democratic machines that command large blocks of votes; and, except in a few spots, the vote of believers in revolution doesn't figure importantly west of the Alleghanies. Today the west isn't getting even the pork barrel reclamation and power appropriations that were intended to keep the folks out there happy in the earlier years of the New Deal.

Of course, Mr. Roosevelt isn't wholly neglecting his friends in the west. He paid off the Communists on the coast by freeing Earl Browder from the penitentiary and by the numerous delays in the deportation of Harry Bridges. The prosecution of the Trotskyite labor leaders in Minneapolis has much the same smell.

Mr. Neylan is right in saying that the preponderance of easterners in positions of authority is unhealthy. It has meant that domestic policies of primary concern to westerners are being determined by men who frequently don't know from direct experience what it's all about. Mr. Weiner, the New York lawyer, is in charge of the farm machinery program. Mr. Gay of Harvard and New York seems to be advising the farmers to take off their horses' shoes at night. And so on.

That is bad, but, as Mr. Neylan has intimated, the easterners who are running things in Washington are taking a sectional view of the war and that is a much more serious matter. Their attention is concentrated upon Europe and to them the war in the Pacific is a sideshow, tho it is in the Pacific that the war started for us and it is there that our victory is likely to yield the larger return.

Mr. Roosevelt pretends to be the President of the whole people but in fact has been a narrow sectionalist as his more important appointments demonstrate. In such matters he is at his most ruthless.

ERROL FLYNN ACQUITTED.

The jury that acquitted Errol Flynn seems to have returned the verdict that most people in this country thought was right in the circumstances. A verdict of guilty would have been widely resented as unfair, not because very many people thought for a moment that Flynn was above reproach in the matter but because the statute under which he was tried assumes a lot of things that aren't necessarily true.

The statute says that extramarital sexual relations with a girl under 18 constitute rape. No doubt the legislators who proposed that law felt they had struck a blow on behalf of purity and innocence. No doubt any of the legislators who may have questioned the wisdom of placing the age of consent at 18 were denounced as the enemies of womanhood and the friends of immorality. And so the law was enacted.

Many parallels could be cited. Prohibition of course is one. The Mann act is another. The foes of prohibition were denounced as the friends of debauchery. What right minded man could doubt that alcohol was a home wrecker? To oppose a law forbidding the transport of women across state lines for immoral purposes was denounced as a vote in favor of brothels and brothel keepers.

Only after these laws were enacted did it become apparent how unrealistic were the so-called reforms. Only then was it discovered that public opinion did not condemn drinking to the extent of regarding traffic in alcohol as a serious crime; and only then did it become apparent that the Mann act was to be used rather as an instrument of blackmail than as a measure to prevent the so-called white slave traffic.

Legislators make a serious mistake when they enact laws which seek to establish norms of conduct that idealize mankind. The fact is that there are many young women under the age of 18—and not all of them in California—who by no stretch of the imagination can be regarded as innocents. A law that pretends that such young women are the innocent victims of male depravity is an absurdity on the face of it and no jury is likely to convict the man who happens to be caught. The possibility that such laws will be used for purposes of blackmail is obvious.

The lesson of the Errol Flynn case is one for legislators to heed. Before voting they should consider such facts as the recent revelation that venereal disease is increasing among schoolgirls in New York to the point where public health officials are alarmed. That doesn't argue that the crime of statutory rape should be erased from the books, but it does suggest all too plainly that many young women are dissipated and that a law which assumes they aren't is not likely to work very well. The age of consent should bear a reasonable relationship to the facts rather than the romantic ideals of the society it is intended to regulate.

STABLE CURRENCIES.

On Tuesday Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau announced that his department for some time had been working on a post-war world economic system, including monetary stabilization. Vice President Wallace also has been making plans for the new world order, which will provide a bottle of milk each morning at the back door of every hacienda, kiosk, igloo, and miamia. Other New Dealers have in mind for every person everywhere a bright and shiny automobile complete with two spare tires.

Joseph Davies, who was the ambassador to Russia for a short while, said recently in a speech in Los Angeles that now was the time for the New Dealers to make commitments providing for the high standard of living everywhere—commitments binding upon the government if the present régime is tossed out in 1944. How are the milk and other good things of life to be made so plentiful? And what commitments can Wallace, Davies, and the others make without a congressional say-so?

Mr. Morgenthau's post-war plan seems to be more realistic than the others. He would "take advantage of the lend-lease assets on the books of the allied nations" to further a post-war economic plan. Some assets! If the obligations of foreign nations to us arising out of this war are assets so are the first World war debts. And we never collected anything on them, except when we were making new loans to Europe far in excess of the collections.

With Mr. Morgenthau's statement that there will have to be stabilization of the moneys of the world as a condition precedent to post-war world prosperity, however, all thoughtful persons will agree. It was one of the misfortunes of the Roosevelt administration that the President did not understand that. A world economic conference met in London in June, 1933. The all-important problem to be settled was the stabilization of currencies.

Following Britain's devaluation of the currency in 1931, one country after another had gone off gold and an international competition in depreciation of money had developed, in the mistaken belief that poor money stimulates foreign trade. The United States had at length induced the British and the French to meet with other countries and plan a revival of world trade based upon sound money. Secretary Hull headed the delegation of distinguished experts which went to the 1933 meeting at London. However, when an agreement was about to be attained President Roosevelt sent a cable calling the whole thing off. He instructed the delegates to discontinue all stabilization negotiations and stated that the American policy was to raise prices. He invited other nations to adopt price boosting programs. The wrecking of this conference deprived the world of the beneficial effects of stabilized currencies, which Mr. Morgenthau now declares to be of the utmost importance.

Currencies won't remain stabilized unless the governments of the world spurn the primrose path. Confidence in a country's money disappears when the government spends more than its revenues. That results in the flight of funds to other countries, and the loss of gold as long as the movement of capital is permitted, and in the drying up of international trade. No one seemed to understand that aspect of currency stabilization better than Mr. Roosevelt when he said in one of his communications to the 1933 London conference: "When the world works out concerted policies in the majority of nations to produce balanced budgets and living within their means, then we can properly discuss a better distribution of the world's gold and silver supply to act as a reserve base of national currencies." Too bad that Mr. Roosevelt did not heed his own advice and set the example.

The restoration of world prosperity depends upon sound money, as Mr. Morgenthau says, and sound money depends upon governmental economy, as Mr. Roosevelt so clearly pointed out. WPA's, PWA's, and pump priming generally will wreck any currency. In other words, to be prosperous the world has to get rid of all of the New Deals and the New Dealers. The United States made a good start in the right direction in the election last November. It must be much more far-reaching.

Editorial of the Day

WASHINGTON WAKES UP TO A NEW CONGRESSMAN.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

Washington regularly takes the arrival of young office holders in its stride if it pays any attention to them at all. Twenty-eight year old Marion Bennett, new congressman from the 6th Missouri district, after an unheralded appearance, is now the subject of more than ordinary notice. But altho the politicians and correspondents are finding him personable and alert enough, it is not the newest and youngest member of congress that they are interested in. It is the Republican majority which swept him to Washington on Jan. 12.

Missourians, of course, were quick to see that young Bennett's majority of 14,000 was double that of his late father, Philip A. Bennett, and that the vote did not fall off nearly as much as forecasters predicted. But Washington somehow missed the significance of this first special election since Nov. 3 until the Baltimore Sun made its results the subject of a page one story when the new representative was sworn in. It is putting it mildly to say now that this latest report from what has been called "the most representative district in America" is opening Washington eyes.

No one can know what would happen if there should be a nation-wide election today. But if such an election were held and the results in the Springfield-Sedalia-Warrensburg district were projected over the country, the narrow edge the Democrats have in the house would be wiped out and a large Republican majority would be installed. The Democratic strength in the senate would be sharply cut. For its votes the administration would have to depend on the southern senators, many of whom do not believe in the New Deal and never have, and on holdover Democrats from other parts of the country.

No wonder a curly-haired young man from Springfield, who tried to get into the army last summer and was rejected because he was constitutionally underweight, is a person of interest on Capitol hill. He is representative of more than a congressional district. He is the agent of a political current and, if Washington often misses trends, it usually wakes up to currents.

WHAT PRICE MANSIONS?

Old Mr. Kimball of the pianos built himself a mansion, and a first-class French château it was, on the choicest street in Our Town, not as large as old Mr. Field's and old Mr. Pullman's but a noble piece of architecture which stirred their envy. Some folks say that Mr. Kimball put almost a million dollars into it, with its furnishings. That was in 1892, and it is standing today on the southeast corner of Prairie avenue and 18th street. It still looks like an aristocrat, but it is an orphan of the storm and a stepchild of the blight.

* * *

The house was bought in 1924 by the architects of Chicago as a professional group. Mr. Glessner, dwelling in an even more famous house across the street, had offered his mansion to the architects if they would protect him, during the remainder of his life, against undesirable neighbors. So they clubbed together, almost 100 of them, putting in $1,000 each, and acquired the Kimball house. When Mr. Glessner died 12 years later, the architects decided that with a depression and one white elephant on their hands they didn't want another, so they tossed the gift mansion back to the executors.

* * *

The Architects Club of Chicago was formed, and it settled down to operate the Kimball château as professional headquarters. Chapter meetings, dinners for civic idealists, ordinary club life with lodgings for visiting master builders, a reference library, and an "atelier" for the training of apprentice hands—such was the general line of activities. It was a happy and high-minded scheme, which sounds as if it should have been exempted from taxes; but it didn't work. The club members said that the house was too far away [10 minutes from the loop by street car, bus, or train]; and the assessors thought it was a rich field for harvesting.

* * *

The club abandoned the house in 1937. Since then the premises have been rented to a private school for backward children. The Architects Realty Trust, which holds title to the property, is now preparing to end the gallant adventure, if it can find a bidder. Apparently the only discernible value is the lot, at manufacturing district rates.

* * *

Out of this great old house, designed after the Château de Josselin in Brittany, came the paintings which now hang in the Kimball room of the Art institute.

I AM A SCREW DRIVER.

"To have great poets
There must be great audiences, too."
But the poet must come before the audience—
The poet must create the audience;
And if a poet cannot create a great audience,
Wherein is the greatness of the poet?
I always thought there was something screwy about Whitman;
But to prove the screwiness of Whitman, what must we do?
Answer: We must be screw drivers.

I am a screw driver.
I have been twisting with click-ratchet intensiveness
  thru Whitman's "Leaves of Grass"
To discover one single, solitary leaf,
Without success:
All I can find is only quack grass blades.

Why did Walt tack that quack title "Leaves of Grass"
Onto his volume of screamlined rhetoric?
Merely to challenge a lot of screw drivers like me
To start a-twisting
And give him fame while trying to prove him screwy.

Little Earthquakes in Chicago.

The Rev. Alphonse Schmitt, in charge of the Loyola university seismograph, has investigated the Chicago earthquake of about 35 years ago, mentioned in the Line o' Type column of Feb. 3. He finds that the quake occurred on May 26, 1909, and is described in "Earthquake History of the United States," issued by the department of commerce, as follows:

"In Chicago buildings swayed, this being especially noticeable in the upper stories. Mirrors swayed, beds moved on casters, and there was fear that walls would collapse."

Another quake was felt in Chicago on Jan. 2, 1912. There were two distinct shocks, one of great intensity followed by another less strong. This quake had a force or intensity of five, which means it was felt generally by every one, furniture was disturbed, etc.

Recent Chicago-felt earthquakes were on Feb. 12, 1938, and March 1, 1942. The former was apparently centered near Porter, Ind., and was felt generally on the south side. The latter was apparently centered in Henry county, about 125 miles northwest of Chicago. James Poynton.

A PURPOSE IN THORNS.

If life were made of joy and cheer,
  With naught to pain or grieve,
We might be so contented here
  We wouldn't want to leave.

And who would discipline his soul
  Or solve life's puzzling quiz,
Or set up heaven for a goal
  If satisfied, "as is"?

Perhaps it may be just as well
  That life reminds us so of hell!

Let 'Em Eat Prairie Dogs.

The Mandan Indians occasionally eat prairie dogs. A gourmet can do something with them, as follows:

Prepare the prairie dog as you would a young rabbit. Soak for two hours in a mild salt solution, with juice of lemon. Braise in a hot skillet, with bacon grease and chopped onion. Then stuff with dried fruits, place in a deep, covered dish, sprinkle lightly with salt, add a cup of water and bay leaves. Simmer slowly for three hours.

The meat tastes like young pheasant. Kris.

IN BURNS, KEEP DOWN SWELLING WITH PRESSURE.

EACH YEAR conflagrations exact a huge toll, not only of property but of human life. The recent disaster in Boston will render us more alert, at least for the time being. But fair precautions are not enough. In every home, industry, and public building vigilance must be continuous.

As a result of a goodly amount of attention directed toward burns, a number of lifesaving measures have been developed. The subject has been given additional impetus because war casualties so frequently include mishaps of this character.

If exposure to heat is long enough and the temperature high enough the victim may figuratively bleed to death, altho no sign of hemorrhage may be observed. Blood vessels in the affected area become widely dilated and the liquid which escapes from lymph spaces can never reënter the circulation. Congestion ensues, with distress and beginning collapse.

From recent studies, we have learned that the prevention of swelling is one of the cardinal principles of treatment. Tissues in the neighborhood of the lesion will undergo rapid destruction if it is allowed to persist.

If a large surface has been denuded, first of all, pain is controled with narcotics. Second, pressure bandages are adjusted immediately to prevent the seepage of vital fluid and to retard edema. Then comes the administration of plasma or some other suitable preparation directly into a vein.

Most of us sustain minor burns frequently. While we will not require heroic remedies, nevertheless, healing will be more prompt with less scarring if a definite routine is understood by every member of the household. Alcohol is a valuable solution. It will not only coagulate the upper cells but will serve as a mild antiseptic and dissolve away excess fats. The application—for a few hours—of dressings soaked in this substance is an excellent procedure. Even with large sites, this has been followed by quick healing, especially after pressure by means of bandages has reduced the swelling.

Many victims will become prostrated quickly. The reason is that shock hastens the absorption of toxins from the damaged region. After relieving pain, nothing appears to give more comfort than compresses held in place firmly. These applications cannot be overemphasized. Constriction must be so snug that fluid will not be able to leave the vessels or enter places where it will harm the normal cells.

I was much impressed a few weeks ago by the handling of a patient suffering from an extensive gasoline burn. On arrival at the hospital he was given a powerful sedative and immersed in a tepid bath. The buoyancy of the water permitted the removal of adherent clothing without increasing his injuries. Thin sheets of sterile paraffin dressings were then applied tightly and plasma was introduced by vein. Twenty-four hours later he was alert enough to express the desire for a substantial meal. Convalescence was hastened with high vitamin feedings.

There is probably no one best way to manage injuries of this sort. But we will make no error if home first aid relies upon gauze pads moistened with alcohol.

GAS REFUNDS.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—Users of gas thruout the metropolitan Chicago area and particularly customers of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company are receiving, or some will receive, a refund check on the natural gas consumed from Aug. 1, 1940, to March 31, 1942.

I received in the mail Feb. 4 a check for $2.07, my share of this refund. I was informed by the office of the Circuit Court of Appeals and the Peoples Gas company that this refund was based on the September, 1942, bill and figured on the following basis: Your September bill times the number of months in the above period you received service, and then 10½ per cent of that figure as the amount you are entitled to.

This basis for figuring is very unfair. It just so happened that my September, 1942, bill was $1.02. My total gas bill for the 20 months in question was $183.37, or nearly $10 a month, but still my refund is figured on a basis of $1.02 a month. In other words, had my total gas bill for the 20 months been $20 instead of $183.37 my refund check would have been practically the same amount as received.

The users of natural gas for heating have not received one cent of benefit from this refund. No doubt if I had not used any gas at all during the month of September, 1942, I would not have been entitled to any refund. R. C. Grant.

USE FOR WPA TOOLS.

Lowell, Ind., Feb. 3.—We, too, would like to have one of those snow covered, discarded wheelbarrows. We tried ever so hard to get a wheelbarrow, but were told none was available.

For two years the WPA worked on our road, and for one whole year 200 men were scattered for a mile grading, etc. Our electric pump was going constantly supplying water, for which we didn't receive a cent. We have earned a wheelbarrow.

Thousands of rakes and shovels could be released for gardening, too. They are scarce. Why not turn them over to the farm rationing board for distribution to people who will have to make gardens and can't get the tools?

A SAILOR ASHAMED OF WINCHELL.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—I am a member of the United States navy and an easterner.

I wish that our papers spoke out against such trash as is being handed out by Lt. Comm. Walter Winchell. I believe that the only ships he has seen much of are those ferries which ply the waters from New York to New Jersey. I wonder if Mr. Winchell is drawing only the navy pay and doing the other for charity, or is he on the inactive list of the navy thus retaining his neat little bundle of cash. To date we have not lost any men on the inactive list.

Just a Gob.

DOGS IN THE MANGER.

Miller, S. D., Feb. 2.—Apropos your recent editorial, "The Rubber Problem Solved," it seems to me the title should have been "The Rubber Problem Partly Solved" for the reason that while you know how to obtain rubber by synthetic process you are not able to produce rubber in quantity because the New Deal burocrats prevent you from doing so, and until these burocrats are moved out of your way the rubber problem is only partly solved. H. W. Conner.

ARMY RED TAPE.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 3.—I think the methods used in discharging men over 38 are not only a huge joke, but confirm the average soldier's idea that we are commanded by a group of men whose intelligence is to be questioned. Here is my experience in trying to obtain a discharge:

I read on Dec. 5 that men who could show proof of a job in a defense plant could get a discharge. I immediately wired my company [100 per cent in defense work], asking if they would reemploy me, and answer came back promptly, affirmatively. I was told by my sergeant, "Wires are no good; must have a letter." So I wrote and received the necessary letter. Then my captain said he had no instructions about discharging men.

I was transferred to another camp and immediately submitted my application again. Then I was told letter was no good, wasn't notarized. So I wrote a third time for an affidavit. I got one, signed by an official of the firm. Then I was told that everything was O. K., but had to have an affidavit as to salary I would receive. The letter stated the position I held, which in itself would show I held a responsible job.

The firm I have worked for is working seven days a week on defense work. The officials work long hours. Why must they be burdened with a lot of senseless technicalities? Gen. Marshall said five months ago he was disgusted with all the old men in the army. If he is chief of staff, why doesn't he issue a blanket order to dismiss all men over 38? Nine out of ten will take a defense job because they can make more money there than in other lines anyway.

Here I am trying for two months to get back to my old defense job, and am not worth anything to the army, as I will be let out eventually, but two months of precious labor are lost to industry. Soldier Over 38.

FIFTY TO ONE?

Evanston, Ill., Feb. 3.—Hitler is losing about 10 subs a month at a cost to him of 20,000,000 labor hours and is sinking 1,000,000 tons of shipping a month at a cost to us of 1,000,000,000 labor hours. Clearly we are receiving the short end of the exchange by 50 to 1. In the face of these disproportionate odds our navy continues attempts to lick the sub menace with few attempts at new methods. We Americans don't mind doing and dying to the limit but clearly we should be shown a better grade of odds than 50 to 1. At these prices it should be clear to any school child that we are being short changed somewhere along the line. Man for man we Americans can outshine any axis lineup, but burocrat for burocrat we had better show a better grade of talent mighty soon or we won't have a ship left on the ocean. Albert Klinger.

STATUES OF HEROES.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Is the real reason for the bronze drive among school children an excuse to garner under pretext of necessity the bronze statues of our past heroes? What an easy way to eradicate from the minds of youth their national inheritance and supplant it with the glaring posters of the hammer and the sickle? Rose W. Larson.

FROM A SHIP'S OFFICER.

Stevens Point, Wis., Feb. 3.—I read your article on activities of merchant seamen in war time. I suppose a merchant seaman is a little different from the run of the mill. He drinks a little to excess and goes out with the lower class of women when in a foreign port. Don't get me wrong, as there are some who don't do this, but most of the old timers have had their fling at it. He's a member of a union, but if one will see what this has done for him they would not object. It has got him good food, quarters, and pay whereas before the union he was given nothing but dirt.

If people think a merchant sailor as he is is no good, let them look at the figures. There have been a greater percentage of men lost in the merchant marine than in any other service—army, navy, or marines—and yet how many quit after being torpedoed? I've seen men on the ship alongside us burned to death in two seconds, and the few that did get out are going back again.

We don't get a chance to fight and yet we keep getting killed because we aren't protected enough. We know that the navy is doing everything to stop the U-boats, so we don't yell like some of the people ashore. All we do is sit and wait and maybe the ship will get thru.

Maybe my set does act a little ornery at times but there is not a man that I know that has failed to perform his duty, and in face of danger, while going to Malta, Murmansk, Alaska, or the Solomons. Merchant Marine Officer.

AMERICA AND THE PACIFIC.

Monticello, Ill., Feb. 5.—I was pleased with your editorial, "The Philippines Could Have Been Held." I have thought that from the beginning of the war we should have concentrated our effort on saving and relieving our Pacific islands and our soldiers who are now prisoners.

Our next President should be a man who understands the far east and is more concerned with our interests and obligations there than with what may be taking place in Europe. What a different world we might have if Gen. Leonard Wood, one-time governor of the Philippines, had been elected President in 1920. One thing is sure. We would not have sunk our navy. George P. Harding.

CONSENT REQUIRED.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Legal Friend of the People.]—Can a young man of 18 get married in Cook county without his parent's consent? S. T.

Males must be 21 years or over; females, 18 years or over, but males between 18 and 21 and females between 16 and 18 may procure license thru the sworn consent of parent or guardian. In cases where males are only 21 or where females are over 18 and under 21, their presence before the county clerk will be required, with proper proof of age. In other cases, both of the contracting parties must appear and make affidavit as to name, residence, age, and other facts necessary to determine the legality of the proposed marriage. 1. An alternative would involve which of these numbers?
   2 3 4 5.
2. Approximately how many tons of steel are required to build a medium sized tank?
   8 18 28 38.
3. Which one of these farm animals is the most particular as regards the things it eats?
   Cow Sheep Horse Hog.
4. At which of these public gatherings would you most likely hear the expression "oyez?"
   College dance Courtroom Church Theater.
5. A gilt belongs to which of these types of creature?
   Hog Pheasant Turkey Sheep.
6. Match the characters in the left hand column below with the places where they would normally be imprisoned. You deserve one point for each correct judgment.

[a] Disobedient soldier	[v] Reform school
[b] Mutinous sailor	[w] Concentration camp
[c] Petty thief	[x] Guardhouse
[d] Incorrigible child	[y] Brig
[e] Alien enemy	[z] Jail

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

YOUNG PAROLEE SENT TO PRISON AFTER 11 THEFTS

Judge Refuses Plea to Call Him Juvenile.

A 17 year old parolee from the Illinois State Training School for Boys, near St. Charles, who, after serving a year for 27 burglaries, immediately looted 11 more north shore stores, was ordered graduated from the ranks of juvenile offenders yesterday by Chief Justice John A. Sbarbaro in Criminal court.

The parolee, George John Ellis, 819 Oakton street, Evanston, pleaded guilty, and an assistant public defender recommended that he be returned to the training school for additional discipline, because he is "too young" to be sent to prison.

Graduates to Prison.

"Absolutely not," Judge Sbarbaro replied. "By those 11 burglaries he graduated right into state prison."

Judge Sbarbaro sentenced the young burglar, who specialized in transom entrances since 1938, to 1 year to life on each of three indictments.

Granted his conditional freedom from the training school last Aug. 17, Ellis admitted that he started his perennial series of crimes without much delay.

But he kept a transom ahead of Chicago north side and Evanston police for nearly six months before he was apprehended Jan. 3 while looting the bakery of Sam Davidson at 1617 Howard street.

He was eating a pie and surveying the cash register when captured.

Devine said Ellis admitted two other burglaries which were omitted from the indictments.

MOTHER RESCUES THREE; 4TH CHILD DIES IN FLAMES

Mrs. Caroline Edwards, 32 years old, saved three of her small children yesterday when fire swept thru their basement flat at 1559 Orchard street, but smoke and flame prevented the rescue of a fourth child, William, 2, who was found suffocated on the floor of the living room.

The blaze started, Mrs. Edwards said, after she had kindled a fire in the living room stove. A short time later, she said, she noticed that the stove pipes had become redhot and suddenly flame enveloped the room. Still in her sleeping gown, she pushed and dragged three of the children, Donald, six months, Charles, 5, and Thomas, 4, out in the snow, but a sheet of flame prevented her return for William.

When the firemen arrived a few minutes later they found Mrs. Edwards still trying hysterically to enter the room, her face and hands covered with burns. Two other children, George, 8, and John, 10, were on their way to school. The father, John 37, a war worker, had left for work.

GEMS AND CLOTHES STOLEN.

Jewelry and clothing valued at $1,100 and $200 were stolen from the apartment of Joseph Maggiore, 301 Evergreen avenue, he told police yesterday.

A PRINCESS OF MANY TRAILS (MRS. F. D. R.) LAUNCHES WAR CANOE

Camden, Me., Feb. 8 (AP).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the President, was given the Indian name "Ow-Du-Sees-Ul"—meaning "Princess of Many Trails."—in a Penobscot tribal induction ceremony today after she had sponsored the first of a series of wooden barges to be launched at the Camden Shipbuilding and Marine Railways corporation.

Princess Watawaso of the Penobscots placed a band of wampum around Mrs. Roosevelt's head and said: "My song is for your protection on your many trails." The name "Pine Tree" was bestowed on the 194 foot barge by Mrs. Roosevelt as she smashed a bottle of champagne on its prow.

Before the launching, Chief Watawaso and Princess Watawaso sang an Indian song asking "the Great Spirit's protection for the big war canoe."

JURY IGNORES TRIANGLE DEATH; 2 WOMEN FREED

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 8 (AP).—Two women, charged by police with the triangle slaying of Victor Caproni, 29 years old, in a hospital bed were released from jail today after the Hamilton county grand jury had failed to mention them in a report to Judge Chase Davies.

Prosecutor Carson Hoy said the charge against the two, Mrs. Eleanor Caproni, the victim's wife, and Mrs. Pearl Leonard, who lived with the Capronis, could be brought up later. Both women are 26.

PSYCHOLOGICAL WARFARE VITAL, MacLEISH SAYS

Archibald MacLeish, poet and librarian of congress at $10,000 a year, told a Chicago audience of more than 1,000 yesterday that his hobby, "psychological warfare," is the most important phase of the world conflict. He addressed the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations in the Palmer House.

MacLeish on Jan. 30 retired as assistant director of the office of war information. He previously headed the office of facts and figures and thus commanded an army of 266 men and women, including 20 who received $8,000 a year.

"Psychological warfare is the whole of warfare, of which other actions may be part," he said, altho conceding that military action remains the most convincing to most people.

"It can be conducted only by those who direct the total effort of the entire nation—those who can commit the nation by their words and make their acts its acts.

"In democratic countries, and to a certain extent even in dictatorships, it can be conducted only with the support and understanding and participation of the people as a whole."

Junior League Hears Talk on World Future

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE Chicago Junior League's winter meeting yesterday at the Ambassador East was characterized by the spring like touches that bloomed on most of the costumes worn to the meeting. Tho the leaguers' dress was a bit on the frivolous side and in keeping with an unexpectedly beautiful day, the talk that they came to hear, "Racial Color in the New World Order," received serious attention.

Edwin R. Embree, president of the Julius Rosenwald fund, was the speaker. His talk, leavened with some lively humor, left league members with new ideas to mull over.

"I have no doubt of the outcome of the war," Mr. Embree said, "but I have the gravest doubts of setting up a decent world order. I'm afraid that we're going to try to set up a white man's European league, and it's too late for that. The Chinese, Malayans, South Americans, and Russians won't endure a world that is controled by the United States, Great Britain, and possibly France or other European countries."

Voices Hopes for Unity Among Diverse Peoples.

"The most pressing problem before the human race in the next generation will be how diverse peoples may live together happily and effectually in a shrinking world," Mr. Embree continued. "If we can learn that people with power and ability must be treated with the same respect as us, it will be a miracle of wisdom, and I hope for a peace in which the United States, China, Russia, and Great Britain will form a nucleus of all races in governing the world."

Mrs. George W. Ryerson, who came in from Winnetka for the meeting, pinned a single yellow daffodil to her wool gabardine topcoat. The hat worn by Mrs. Cyrus H. Adams III., Junior league president, was a riot of multicolored birds and bright flowers perched above one eye. Mrs. John R. Hurley's dress was of trim gray wool with a white pin stripe, and with with it went a little cap of gray piped in white. Mrs. Justin A. Stanley and Mrs. Paul W. Oliver were among the busy knitters in the audience. Mrs. Robert A. Carr, Mrs. Edwin W. Sims Jr., Mrs. Robert G. Walker, Mrs. Richard M. Lamport, Miss Barbara Buchanan, and Miss Peggy Rich, in white hats; Mrs. John R. Howland, Miss Jean Kellogg, Mrs. Anthony Potocki, and Mrs. John P. Wilson Jr., were a few of the others in the crowded meeting room.

Children's Aid Society Benefit Plans Are Told.

That the Directors room of the Palmolive building may become one of the most fashionable meeting rooms in town, not excluding the Casino, Racquet, and Arts clubs, was evidenced yesterday when the trustees of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society met there to announce plans for a "phantom ball." The attractive pine paneled room, completely filled with comfortable overstuffed armchairs, proved to be a conveniently located meeting place, and one which the society members undoubtedly will be seeing frequently during the coming two weeks that they will be working on the benefit.

This benefit party that won't be given, as the name implies, will raise money to carry on the society's work in its 60th year. Chauncey McCormick, chairman of the board, told of the society's work in looking after 128,743 children over 59 years, and said pridefully that its laws had been copied in 43 of the 48 states.

Mrs. Jacob Baur, chairman of the ball committee, and her co-workers will gather today in room 628 of the Palmolive building to be ready in two weeks to issue invitations, illustrated by the CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S cartoonist, Joseph Parrish, to contribute money to the society. The "phantom ball is really a drive for money that will save gasoline and tires that would be used if the party had a destination. Mrs. A. H. Patterson attended yesterday's meeting but is leaving today for sunny Palm Beach. Mrs. James M. Hopkins was absent, for she and Mr. Hopkins are in Tucson, Ariz., where Mrs. Rensselaer Cox also is on a vacation. The Sterling Mortons are at Smoke Tree ranch in Palm

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY.

Nosey Parker.

"I note one of your readers contends that the girls are growing more sensible in their attire. Immediately I was prompted to continue my gratuitous research for the white collar girl column. At the risk of being picked up by the police, this last week I have gazed upon, stared at and followed some 100 girls with the following results:

"Of this number 40 per cent wore hoods, wool scarfs, or hats with snoods over their heads while displaying [a] bare legs with short socks; [b] thin mesh hose and shivery knees; [c] no galoshes and open toed sandals slushing thru the snow.

"Of this same number 42 per cent wore galoshes or fur topped boots while displaying [a] bare heads; [b] bare heads with hair bows; [c] bare heads with sleet dampened velvet flowers.

"Of the 100 young women, only 6 per cent were covered at both ends, as it were. However, this department of my research was complicated by an observation difficult to classify. A young woman sat beside me on the bus warmly clad in wool slacks, fur coat, stout oxfords, heavy gloves, wool scarf over her head, and a blouse open to the chilly winds approximately 12 inches below her chin. I say approximately, because my calculations were interrupted when the young lady in question announced loudly to her companion [a sweater girl] 'This guy's a masher!' unfortunately misinterpreting the scientific character of my research.

"NOSEY PARKER."

Heavenly Hosts.

The customer telephoned the book section to order a copy of "Lords of the Levee" and found a brisk young sales clerk who knew immediately where she could find it. "I'll transfer you to the religious section," the clerk told her crisply.

Young America.

"Cedo, sister of Monica Anne [army nurse in India], spent a recent week-end with Chicago relatives. 'Winnie the Welder' we call Cedo now. She's working at her trade at the shipyards but still keeps her lovely figure and radiant skin, altho she has worked outdoors at 19 below! She finished the 7 week course [7 days a week] in 25½ days! That's my niece and one reason why I again sign myself 'Proud Aunt Elizabeth!'"

Sounds Like a Bet.

"PEPPERWORT, PEPPERROOT, and PEPPERTREE—words of 10 letters each that can be written on the top row of letters on a typewriter keyboard in addition to TYPEWRITER and PROPRIETOR. [Ask David J. A. Hayes; he paid handsomely for them last week.]

To Fit the Times.

"I think PRIORITIER should take priority over all other 10 letter words written on one row of keys. Of course, the dictionary does not give such a word but we white collar girls coin our words to fit the times.

"AMY FROM ROCKFORD."

Heads Diocese Auxiliary.

The woman's auxiliary of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago has elected Mrs. Rollin T. Chamberlin, 9300 South Pleasant street, as president. Mrs. Chamberlin succeeds Mrs. C. Colton Daughaday, who has retired after serving for five years.

Today's Brides Face Dearth of Home Utensils

The bride who marries today and gallops toward an army camp tomorrow travels without the traditional trappings of a honeymoon house. The electric iron, mixer, toaster, waffle iron, and fan which used to be standard equipment for a first home now are as rare as museum pieces, bridal consultants in large Chicago stores said yesterday.

Even needles, pins, thimbles, and scissors, tools for turning out the frills to make a rented room a home, are disappearing from the market. "If I could get a box of needles I'd spread them out one by one on a strip of black velvet in my display window," one merchant said. "The list of metal articles placed on the priority and critical lists from time to time has gradually almost completely eliminated all the wifely weapons."

A bridal secretary who holds sway in a bower of pink and blue ruffles reported the loudest wail is for irons. While a bride can get along without most other electrical equipment, no girl can keep her trousseau in shape by slipping it under a mattress to be pressed.

Aluminum and copper based pots, pans, and coffee pots are being replaced with utensils of glass or earthenware. Broiler grills are taking the place of toasters.

Friends of the bride lost their best bet in wedding gifts when manufacturers of flat silver discontinued some of their patterns until the war is won. To protect both the bride and a large source of sales, one department store is keeping its bridal preference file open until the items the bride requests are available. Thus instead of an unwanted gift the bride may receive a note from the store saying, "Miss Blank has selected six silver forks for you which will be delivered when peace comes."

Some patterns of imported china are no longer available, but new designs in domestic makes have attracted many. A scarcity of all wool blankets is being met with wool and cotton mixtures. Bolts of fine linens are being used for party cloths and towels, while breakfast sets, hand and dish towels, and bridge sets are made of all rayon or rayon and cotton mixtures.

Pictures, crystal, card tables, and small end tables are currently the most popular gifts, but any bride who receives a piece of electrical equipment will cherish it to the extent of keeping it on display, consultants say. Just a year ago she might have sneered at such a practical gift.

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

For the first time in recruiting history men will campaign to enlist women in the military services. The men are business leaders in Chicago, aided by a feminine contingent, and the women they are seeking are candidates for the WAVES, whose quotas have been trebled.

At a luncheon meeting yesterday at the Union League club plans were outlined for an intensive campaign which will start on Feb. 22 and continue for 45 days. Elmer T. Stevens, president of the State street council, and David Mayer Jr., chairman of the council board, presented a program which had been evolved by Lieutenants Thomas Denton and Charles L. Kluss of the navy, aided by top flight advertising executives. Working with other business leaders, these men will publicize the women's reserve thru various mediums.

The committee, which will total around 50 with subcommittees, was formed at the request of Capt. E. S. Root, director of the office of naval procurement for the 9th naval district. The district provides 35 per cent of all navy personnel.

Mrs. Arthur Chang, a member of the staff of the oriental institute of the University of Chicago, will address a dinner forum for business women at 6:15 o'clock Friday evening at the Loop Center Y. W. C. A., 59 East Monroe street. Mrs. Chang was formerly Y. W. C. A. secretary in Shanghai.

The La Salle Street Women, an organization formed a year ago to foster friendship among women in the investment field and to present organized participation in war work, will hold its first annual meeting and election of officers for the new year Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A., 19 South La Salle street. To date, members have contributed 10,000 hours of volunteer war work, and 19 of them have put in more than 100 hours.

Girls to serve as hostesses at the Grant park recreation center for service men are in demand, Miss Gladys Aspelmeyer, director, said yesterday. The center, formerly operated by the WPA, is located at 1249 South Wabash avenue. When WPA support was withdrawn the center was kept going thru donations by various organizations and by private citizens, Miss Aspelmeyer said. Girls—unmarried, between 16 and 25 years old, and of good character—are requested to apply at the center for hostess duty.

Boom in Babies Brings Wail for 3 Cornered Aid

BY MARTHA MURPHY.

The boom in babies is baffling the Blue Cross Plans, an organization of hospital plans which opened its three day winter conference in the Drake hotel yesterday. The rapidly rising birth rate is crowding the maternity wards of hospitals to such an extent that the Blue Cross urges three cornered coöperation to relieve the congestion.

"If mothers, hospital authorities, and volunteer workers will coöperate closely the period of hospitalization in maternity cases may be decreased," E. A. van Steenwyk of Philadelphia, chairman of the hospital service plan commission, said yesterday. "Nurses and other hospital personnel can train mothers to care for their babies more quickly, mothers can follow closely the suggestions of visiting nurses and doctors, and volunteer workers can relieve attendants of such time wasting chores as arranging flowers and ushering visitors to the rooms."

Last year 150,000 prepaid babies were delivered under the hospital service plans. This year the plans expect to provide for the birth of 175,000 babies. In 1941 18 per cent of the plan patients admitted to hospitals were maternity cases. Last year the rate was 22 per cent. Tonsillectomy cases rank second to maternity cases in percentage ratings.

Expansion and extension of the voluntary hospital service and medical plans were urged by Louis H. Pink, president of the Associated Hospital Service of New York and former insurance commissioner of New York state, in discussing social security and the Beveridge plan.

"The wise extension of social security is not to be deprecated," Pink said. "But we must realize that social insurance is only one segment in the effort that must be made toward freedom from want.

"Passing a more extensive law is easy. Is it necessary at this time to add materially to centralization and burocracy? The best answer is for the voluntary plans to prove by their works that adequate service can be provided without government interference."

A more comprehensive hospital plan than any ever offered before was outlined by John R. Mannix, of Detroit, vice chairman of the commission. It was approved by the 200 delegates attending the conference. The plan will be reciprocal in 35 states and three Canadian provinces. This area includes 2,500 hospitals, or about 80 per cent of the hospital bed facilities.

Dr. C. Rufus Rorem of Chicago, director of the commission, said there were 11,070,000 participants in the plans last year. More than 50 million dollars was paid by the plans to hospitals for the care of a million patients, whose stays averaged eight days.

Talk on Flowers.

The garden department of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, meeting at 10:30 o'clock today in federation headquarters, will hear a talk on "Color in Flower Arrangements," by Mrs. Richard C. Johnston, 10th district garden chairman.

Front VIEWS and PROFILES

BY MARCIA WINN

Small Fry.

Two eight year olds stood on the hill, one at the top, the other at the bottom.

"Come on, come on!" the one at the bottom called. "Slide down just like I did. If you don't do it now, you never will."

"But I've got my glasses on," the one at the top cried.

"O, don't think of the worse of it. Think of the fun!"

Relocation.

Maybe you didn't know about the war relocation authority here, generally known as the WRA [wurrah], but it is very busy these days trying to find jobs in the Chicago area for Japanese. It is a rather curious procedure, for the prospective employer merely says, "Yes, I'll hire a Japanese. By heaven, I'll hire any one!" or words to that effect, and pretty soon up comes an employé. All on the blind date principle.

The Japanese so employed come here from relocation centers to which they were evacuated from the Pacific coast. None can come, however, until he has a guarantee of a job and a place to live. Each one is a citizen, has been screened by the FBI and is a trustworthy worker, often a highly educated one. The Japanese is given an indefinite leave from his center, but the leave can be revoked. To date, thru the coöperation of the Y. W. C. A. and the American Friends with the wurrah, about 20 have been placed around here.

So far, there has been only one complaint. Once the Jap has a job, he often starts looking around for a better one. This is all right with the WRA, the Y. W. C. A., and every one except the Jap's employer. Out on the north shore, for instance, where some Japanese girls have gone to work as domestic servants, housewives are outbidding each other for their services. One Highland Park lady went to considerable trouble to get one at $15 a week. "I arranged her room and coaxed my husband to pick her up in the car," she moaned, "and then I found to my sorrow some one else had outbid me. She took the other job, and left me holding the bag."

It's Not Regulation.

We have just learned of the Chicago girl, Jane Lowry, who joined the WAAC two months ago. Before she joined, she took a chance on a squirrel jacket. Last week she won the jacket.

Total War.

News item written by a marine corps combat correspondent:

"Camp Pendleton, Cal.—A barber who for years dressed the hair of such movie stars as Greta Garbo, Marion Davies, Norma Shearer, Fred Astaire, and Ted Lewis declared today, 'I'd rather give marines haircuts that anybody else. . . . Pvt. Joseph Zingarelli was the first man to shampoo Greta Garbo's hair after the Swedish beauty came to this country . . . [and says] he has greater opportunity [now] to study skulls than he would have touching up screen star pompadours."

The Glory That Was Penuche.

A lady we know opened a box of brown sugar the other day. The sugar had been in the pantry a year, but within was a recipe for walnut penuche which to rationed eyes looked like something from Mary Custis' cookbook. It called for two cups of sugar, one-third cup of cream, one-third cup of strong coffee, two tablespoons of butter, and one cup of chopped walnut meats. Away with all that!

Library Report Tells of War Time Decline in Chicago's Reading

Chicagoans, under the strain and work of a war year, found considerable less time to read, the 71st annual report of the public library disclosed when it was submitted to the city council by the library board yesterday.

"Everything has dropped—fiction, philosophy, and even science," Carl B. Roden, chief librarian, pointed out in presenting the report. "But we still are circulating more books each year than any other public library in the world."

The grand total circulation for the year was 11,284,975 volumes. This is a drop of nearly a million volumes from the 1941 issuance of 12,176,172 books on all subjects.

New Topcoats Are Short but to the Point

BY REA SEEGER.

New topcoats are certainly shorter than such pre-spring models have been in years. The war time length is the smart youthful silhouette that ends or rather swings around the knee line, depending, of course, on individual height. Because of this definitely shorter length, toppers are staging a terrific come back in 1943. The colors help too; for the bright Killarney greens, fire reds, daffy yellows, pale leaf green, violet, soft silver gray, and the exciting tans and off-whites provide all the selections ever dreamed about.

Many of the coats boast four pockets, two on each side in vertical lines just like the pockets in a sailor's pea jacket. Others have the regulation patch pockets with flaps. All have the swanky tailored topcoat details of other seasons, wide stitched seams, smooth fitted collars, cuffs, gargantuan buttons and easy to slide into linings. With these coats the skirt of your dress and suits shows a good twelve to fourteen inches, so that your juggling acts with pattern and color are even more impressive and important!

Most of the materials used are of the soft velour or clipped fleece varieties, appreciably lighter in weight than the winter models and considerably more slenderizing.

Equal to smart double duty wear, these are coats which will delight career girls and college and high school shoppers. Any of these spring toppers can be worn for day time as well as with decorative evening clothes.

"Chinese Shawl"

By Patricia Wentworth

Copyright: 1943: by Patricia Wentworth Turnbull

CHAPTER 18.
CRUMPLED NOTE.

"What do the silk threads suggest to you, Randal?" Miss Silver asked.

"Quite a lot," March said. "My mother had one of those Chinese shawls—she has it still."

Miss Silver nodded.

"O, yes, I remember it."

"Yes. It had a deep fringe all round it, about 8 or 9 inches long—in fact, about the length of those silk threads. I suppose you can describe Laura Fane's shawl to me?"

Her needles clicked.

"O, yes. It is black, very beautifully embroidered with colored flowers and butterflies."

"And it has a black fringe about 8 inches deep?"

"Yes, Randal."

He threw up a hand in an exaggerated gesture.

"You can't refuse to look facts in the face just because you have taken a fancy to Desborough and Laura Fane! Threads from the fringe of her shawl were between the dead woman's fingers. They were stained with blood, and the shawl itself has disappeared. Why? The obvious answer to that is that it, too, was stained and had to be disposed of."

Miss Silver looked up calmly.

"And how do you imagine that it became stained?"

"You mustn't think that I am convinced of Desborough's guilt or of Laura Fane's. I only say they could be guilty. They had motive; they had opportunity, and those threads from the missing shawl, and the fact that the shawl is missing are nasty bits of evidence to explain away. As to how the shawl may have got stained, I think that is quite easy.

"There is a quarrel between the three of them. Laura Fane may have interposed. There may have been a struggle in which these threads were broken off. They were caught in the setting of a ring which Miss Lyle was wearing. Well, she gets frightened and makes for the door into the church. Desborough shoots her, and she falls, as we know she did fall, from the top step.

"Laura Fane is horrified—I'll grant you that. She runs down the steps, kneels beside the body—some one did kneel there—the grass was all pressed down. When she realizes that Miss Lyle is dead she comes back. She is concerned to save Desborough. They wipe the pistol and put it back in the drawer. They wipe the inner handle of the sitting room door—probably the outer one, too, because there are only Dean's fingerprints on it. Then one of them notices that the shawl is stained. What are they going to do about it? What did they do? Burned it in the furnace most probably. The only thing we know for certain is that she was neither wearing nor carrying the shawl when she returned to her room. She said so herself, and Miss Adams——"

Miss Silver interrupted, a thing quite against her code of manners. She did it quietly and deliberately.

"O yes—may I hear what Lucy has to say about it? I should be interested."

He said, "Of course. It's quite short. . . . Yes, here it is. I'll read it to you."

He read from Lucy Adams' statement:

"'It was such a terribly windy night that my sleep was very much disturbed. I kept on waking up. I have a constitutional dislike for the sound of wind.'"

He looked up with half a laugh. "There was a good deal more on those lines, but I'm afraid I cut it out."

"Lucy has always been inclined to think too much about her feelings," said Miss Silver.

Randal March resumed.

"'My rest became more and more broken. I could only sleep in snatches. No, no, no—I did not hear any shot. I only heard that terrible wind. I became too nervous to stay in bed, so I got up and walked about my room.'"

"Lucy has little self-control," said Miss Silver.

March went back to the statement.

"Here we are. She says, 'I opened my door and heard a footstep coming from the direction of the stairs. I drew the door to, but left a crack because I wanted to see who it was. At the same time I switched out my own light because I did not wish to be seen.'"

"Lucy is a prying old maid," said Miss Silver.

He very nearly laughed. It might not have been forgiven him if he had. He went on reading rather hastily.

"'I saw Laura Fane coming along the passage from the stairs. There is a light at the other end outside my cousin's room, and I could see her quite plainly.

"'Laura's door is very nearly opposite mine. She came along the passage and went into her room. She was wearing her night gown and a dressing gown over it. She had slippers on her feet. She wasn't carrying a candle, or a book, or anything. I couldn't imagine why she should be out of her room like that. She went into her room and shut the door. I was so much upset that I was quite unable to sleep.'"

Miss Silver's lips were firmly pressed together.

"Lucy ought to be ashamed of herself."

He laughed.

"I'll take your word for it."

Miss Silver put down her knitting and looked at him earnestly.

"Do you really suspect them, Randal?"

He said, seriously indeed, "I don't know, but I'm going to make it my business to know. And the first thing I'm going to do is to find out what has become of that Chinese shawl."

* *

Randal March had done his best to be as good as his word, but he had failed. The house had been gone thru with the proverbial fine tooth comb, but there was no discoverable trace of Laura Fane's Chinese shawl.

March set Sergt. Stebbins and Police Constable Pollock to the loathful task of sorting thru the dust bins and the furnace ashes.

"They must have burned it," he said, encountering Miss Silver in the hall. "There's about a millionth chance of finding a shred or two."

He put a hand on her arm and walked with her to the study.

When they were inside with the door shut he said, "We didn't find the shawl, but we did find something else. Look at this."

He gave her a shred of crumpled paper. She smoothed it out, looked at it, and read aloud, her cool, prim voice making a strange contrast with the scribbled words.

"'All right, darling, come down to my sitting room as soon as the coast is clear. Not before 1—Aunt A. reads late.'"

He said, "There's no signature. Can you identify the writing?"

"O, yes—Tanis Lyle's. Where did you find it?"

"In the breast pocket of Alistair Maxwell's dinner jacket."

"Dear me!"

"It's undated of course. I am going to show it to him and ask him if he's got anything to say about it. You can stay, if he doesn't object. I will explain that you are representing the family."

Alistair Maxwell objected to nothing. He had the dazed, half stupefied appearance of a man who is exhausted from shock and lack of sleep. His usually fresh complexion was dull and patchy. His fair hair was rough and his eyes set in his head. They stared at the bit of paper which the superintendent offered him.

"Yes, it's mine. Where did you find it? I thought I had put it in the fire." He spoke in a dry, toneless voice, standing by the table.

Thru the Looking Glass

Bath frills such as dusting powder, cologne, bath oils and exquisitely scented soap delight women of all ages. And it seems to us that in a grim world they're especially welcome. It also occurs to us that they're charming valentines; their very choice makes the recipient feel that she's perishable and cherishable, if you get what we mean. Men won't understand about that, but women will!

Some of the sweetest, in the literal and figurative sense, are a whole family of these bath glorifiers in forget-me-not motif. The fragrance is delightful, not heavy, but pretty and a natural charmer for the woman of truly feminine tastes. There's a tiny note of white lilac in it, unless our nose deceives us, and that's a welcome one right now, when spring seems to be so tardy in arriving.

The packaging has spring-like charm, too, and is frankly sentimental in its style—all fresh white spattered with little blue forget-me-nots, and some of the most charming bottles designed in years. You can buy charming combinations of the whole family, consisting of cologne, bath oil [that foams!], dusting powder, talc or soap. Or, if you prefer, you can send just one of the series, with your love!

These forget-me-not delectables are among some of the nicest to be found, but they're pearls of little price. They have quality, charm and a lightly romantic note that the average woman will find irresistible.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

In many situations the "percentage play" unfortunately conflicts with other important considerations and then declarer is faced with an unpleasant choice of evils. At other times, however, "probabilities" and safety measures become allies. Note today's deal:

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 no trump	Pass	3 no trump	Pass
Pass	Pass

West opened the seven of spades, obviously the top card of his holding. Winning in dummy, declarer had to consider the best line of play for nine tricks. In sight were three top spades and three hearts. Obviously the diamond suit offered the best opportunity for further tricks, inasmuch as it would be optimistic and dangerous to try for two tricks in clubs. The only problem, then, was to play the diamond suit to the best advantage.

Many players with this particular diamond holding lay down the ace and then lead toward the queen-ten. This is rarely the best method, however. The real danger in this hand is that East may hold both the king and jack of diamonds with one or more guards. If he has, and the A-Q-10 of clubs lay very badly for declarer [as they did], it will be fatal to cash the diamond ace and lead toward the Q-10. East would win and return a club to dummy's weakness.

The correct line of play combines an excellent chance to hold the defenders to one diamond trick, with a maximum of safety. It must be noted that if declarer finds either the king or jack of diamonds in the East hand [a three to one chance] two successive finesses thru East are bound to fulfill the contract.

Having reached the correct solution by the above analysis, declarer played the ten of diamonds from dummy, and after that his contract was safe. East could win only one diamond trick and could make only one lead thru declarer's club holding.

Springs, Cal., so Mrs. Morton missed the gathering.

Alumnae of Connecticut college will turn out en masse at a luncheon today at the Chicago College club to welcome Miss Kathryn Moss, alumnae secretary of the college, who is making a tour of the country, speaking to alumnae groups. Miss Moss will speak on "Connecticut College in War Time." The club's officers are Mrs. John Stewart, Miss Evelyn Gardner, Mrs. Nathan Cohn, and Mrs. L. Gifford Gardner.

Count Carlo Sforza, the first statesman to resign from an Italian government post when Mussolini came into power, will be the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations' next speaker. He will speak on Feb. 19 on "Free Italy."

Mrs. William F. Petersen will be hostess at the guest table at the Woman's Athletic club today, following a lecture by Ely Culbertson, famed bridge expert, on "International World Peace."

Drama League Will Fete "Life with Father" Cast.

The Chicago Drama league's meeting today is a double event, a play-review of "The Skin of Our Teeth" by Hope Summers and a "welcome back" luncheon for the cast of "Life with Father." Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock at the Arts club after Miss Summers has spoken there at 10:30. The special guests will be June Walker, Percy Waram, Anne Henderson, and Edsel Hughes from the "Life with Father" company. Miss Henderson and Miss Walker are Chicagoans.

Mr. and Mrs. Edouard Dethier of New York and Blue Hills, Me., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Margot, to Lt. Howard Lockhard Fogg Jr., of army air force, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fogg of Summit, N. J., formerly of Wilmette. Miss Dethier attended the Brearley school and was gradated in June from Bryn Mawr college. Lt. Fogg was graduated in 1938 from Dartmouth college and studied art in Chicago.

The Eugene Corcorans [Nancy McNulty] announce the birth of their third child, Timothy, on Jan. 28 at the Michael Reese hospital. Mr. and Mrs. William G. H. Acheson [Daryl Marsh] of Scarsdale, N. Y., became the parents of a daughter, Daryl, on Jan. 29. The baby's grandparents are the Fressenden Pierson Marshes of Chicago.

Author to Conduct Writing Forum for Fiction Guild

Nelson Algren, author of "Never Come Morning," will conduct a forum on "Realism in Writing, Its Pros and Cons," for the Chicago Fiction guild when it meets Thursday evening in the Hamilton hotel. All attending will be invited to participate in the discussion.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Weise of Evanston announce the engagement of their daughter, Mildred, to Duncan North MacDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reed I. MacDonald of Downers Grove. Miss Weise attended DePauw university. Her fiancé is a junior at Northwestern university's institute of technology. His mother, whose professional name is Jessica North, is editor of Poetry magazine.

Miss Ina Catherine Latta's engagement to Richard Charles Strasser is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Martin Latta of Goshen, Ind. Miss Latta was graduated from Penn Hall in Chambersburg, Pa., and from Northwestern university. Mr. Strasser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland J. Strasser of Evanston, also was graduated from Northwestern university and is an instructor in the geology department of the university.

Dr. and Mrs. Albert T. Lundgren of Lake Shore drive announce the engagement of their daughter, Irene Munson, to Robert Gerard Wiltgen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Wiltgen of Park Ridge. Miss Lundgren, a graduate of Northwestern university, is attending the Catholic University of America in Washington, D. C. Her fiancé is a member of the naval reserve officers' training corps at Northwestern university.

Miss Doris Irene Cassells' engagement to Ensign E. Huston Olds, son of Mrs. Edgar H. Olds of Evanston, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Griffith John Cassells, also of Evanston. Miss Cassells is in her senior year at Northwestern university. Ensign Olds, a 1942 graduate of Northwestern university, is on active duty in the Pacific.

Double-talk explained by experts

Double-talk, that satta atta sfatta sutta language, was recently discussed by three experts. One contends that the easiest way to learn this peculiar form of speech is to start out by saying "Buy Buy War War Bonds Bonds." Another claims this form, "Buy War Bonds Buy War Bonds." The third favors "Buy War Buy War War Bonds War Bonds." However you may wish to say it, Buy War Bonds—all you possibly can—today. For a nutritious diet, try to include these foods every day:

1. At least three cups of milk for children, at least one or two for adults.
2. An egg for each child [three or four a week for adults].
3. A serving of meat, poultry, fish, or dried beans.
4. A citrus fruit or tomatoes or raw cabbage for vitamin C, and at least one other fruit.
5. Two or more vegetables, stressing green [especially leafy] and yellow ones.
6. Whole grain cereals or enriched or whole wheat bread.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1943: By The Chicago Tribune.]

And the cream is growing thinner all the time. The other day two persons at my home drank two full glasses of cream, thinking it was milk! They discovered their error next day, when somebody noticed the half gallon of milk hadn't been touched, and there was very little left of the quart of cream. Oh, well, we'll all get streamlined together!

Most of the food value of milk and cream is in the milk, which is why nutritionists long have recommended that children use milk instead of cream on breakfast cereal. More calcium and phosphorus.

Speaking of cream, the prize recipe editor says she wishes contestants would stop sending in recipes which call for whipped cream. She got one delectable sounding recipe the other day which called for a quart of whipping cream, 2 cups of maple sirup, and 8 eggs! She gets thousands of recipes, but all too few are the war time kind. And this makes the job of sorting and testing difficult. So, please, dear readers, won't you come across with your favorite 1943 recipes? We've got lots more fine five dollar prizes to pass out!

The shortage of imported spices like cinnamon, mace, nutmeg, and ginger is being met by new synthetic flavors which closely resemble the real thing. So we won't be without spices when we run out of the supplies we now have.

The evaporated milk industry reports that it has ample capacity to take care of all 1943 requirements which can be foreseen, and declares that the reason some grocers have run out of supplies was "stocking up" on the part of housewives. New stocks are coming in now to replace some of these shortages.

New book on mushrooms: "Common Edible Mushrooms, How to Identify and Cook 45 Varieties," by Clyde M. Christensen, University of Minnesota Press. The book is illustrated thoroly, and pictures as well as describes edible and poisonous mushrooms. The cost is $2.50.

What's wrong with this menu, proposed by a newspaper writer on foods [a man, I'm happy to say!] recently: Italian spaghetti, cheese stuffed tomato salad, fruits and cheese for dessert. Yes, you've got it! The spaghetti recipe called for a pound of parmesan cheese, and canned tomatoes. Tomatoes were repeated in the salad, and they were stuffed with cream or cottage cheese. Then there was more cheese for dessert. Cheese and tomatoes are fine foods, but who wants them twice and three times in one meal?

TODAY'S $5 PRIZE RECIPE

Maple Cup Custard.

[Serves four.]

1 pint milk, scalded
2 eggs, slightly beaten
⅓ cup maple sirup
⅛ teaspoon salt

Scald milk and combine remaining ingredients. Pour milk gradually into eggs, stirring while adding. Turn into four large or six small custard cups and set in pan of hot water. Bake in moderate [350 degrees] oven until custard has set, about 30 minutes. If desired a marshmallow or a tablespoon of maple sirup may be placed in bottom of each custard cup before custard is poured in.

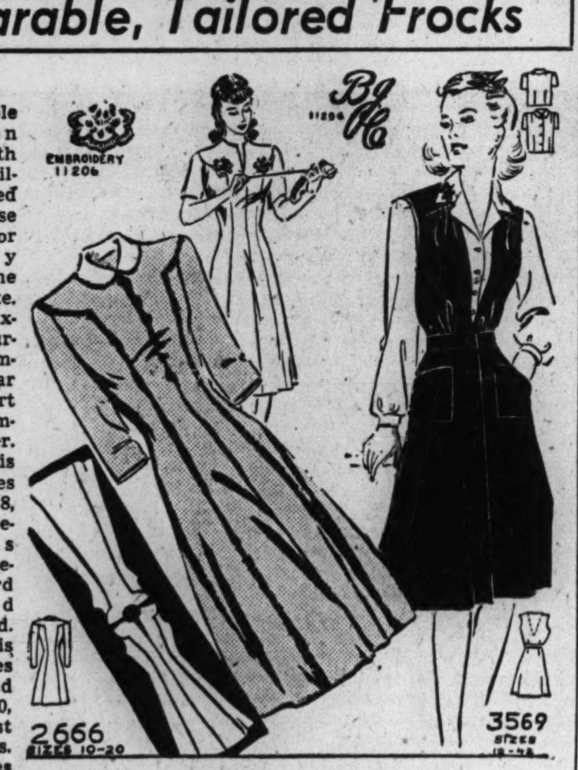
Wearable, Tailored Frocks



TAILORED DRESSES. These wearable models soften tailored lines with feminine detailing. The paneled dress may use pattern 11206 for embroidery touches at the shoulder yoke. The same auxiliary design furnishes monograming for the collar of the casual shirt which accompanies the jumper.

Style No. 2666 is designed for sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 3½ yards of 39 inch material with ¼ yard contrasting and 2½ yards of braid.

Style No. 3569 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20 and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inch bust measurements. Size 36 requires 2⅝ yards of 39 inch material for jumper; 2 yards of 39 inch for blouse.

Style No. 11206 must be ordered separately.

Each pattern costs 10 cents, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost (coin preferred—wrap it carefully), for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT: Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired and write your name and address plainly. The Clotilde pattern book costs 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with a pattern.

Lee Tracy's 'Hail and Farewell' to Films Called Mediocre Opus

"THE PAYOFF."

Presented by Producers Releasing Corp.
Directed by Arthur Freifuss.
Presented at the Oriental.

THE CAST.

Brad McKay	Lee Tracy
Guy Norris	Tom Brown
Phyllis Walker	Tina Thayer
Alma Dorne	Evelyn Brent
John Angus	Jack La Rue
Publisher Norris	Robert Middlemass
Moroni	John Maxwell
Police Inspector	Ian Keith

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

"The Payoff" is Lee Tracy's "hello" and "good-by." "Hello"—because he hasn't been in pictures for a long time. "Good-by"—because he left immediately the film was finished to become a lieutenant in the army corps of the military police, stationed at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.

This excellent and likable actor was deserving of a better comeback movie than the mediocre racketeer-murder, newspaper opus which is "The Payoff." In it he plays one of those remarkable creatures, half sleuth, half reporter, whose lair is the never-never land that's the movie industry's idea of a newspaper office. . . .

Practically unaided he solves the mystery surrounding a trio of murders, indulging off and on and very casually in a spot of romance or a side swipe at nobility. And, of course, he calls everybody "Sweetheart."

The women in his reportorial-hound life are represented by Evelyn Brent—remember her?—who spells the romance, and Tina Thayer, whom he protects for the sake of a boy friend who also is his publisher's adored son. Miss Brent plays suavely. Miss Thayer is a chubby child with a hair mattress coiffure and a generally naive Red Riding Hood attitude. "O, Grandma, you have such great big teeth!" sort of thing.

Ian Keith as a police inspector, Jack La Rue as a nasty man, and Tom Brown as an eager and unsullied youth are all they need to be. Direction was all right. It's the story that creaks.

See you soon.

Looking at Hollywood

—By Hedda Hopper—

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 8.—David Selznick went east to buy full control in United Artists and, if and when he gets it, he'll have the biggest producing organization in Hollywood—and here's why. He'd not only have the pictures made by Hunt Stromberg, Jimmy Cagney, and Eddie Small, besides the people he already has under contract, such as Alfred Hitchcock, Ingrid Bergman, Joan Fontaine, Jennifer Jones, Dorothy McGuire, Joseph Cotten, Alan Marshall, and half a dozen writers, but he'd be able to corral most of the top free lance players, help finance their pictures, act as their coördinator. This would take in directors like Howard Hawks, whose "Air Force" is a smash hit everywhere; Sam Wood, whose "For Whom the Bell Tolls" will be; to free lance stars like Cary Grant, Gary Cooper, Ginger Rogers, Charles Boyer, Ronald Colman, and if that isn't a list to stagger one's imagination! They're the people who draw crowds to the boxoffice and when they begin making their own the old order of things will be changing in this town. Some former czars will be taking a back seat—and about time, too. David is also considering two radio shows—one to produce and take part in and the other to do a job similar to that of De Mille on Lux. He's as full of plans as a dog is fleas and they've got him hopping.

Own Talent Scout.

Ran into Howard Hawks at lunch with a newcomer named Ella Raines. She's a beauty—brunette, personality plus, and before I left them discovered she's already got the only feminine lead in Howard's new picture. He and Charles Boyer signed her under joint contract. She's had training in summer stock, small parts, etc., and is something to shout about. . . . Cary Grant won't do "Claudia" and here's why: Twentieth hopes the first will catch on. If it does they'll turn it into a series like "The Thin Man." Cary doesn't want to start a series—he has too many other plans. At present he's planning to give camp shows back east, then go overseas with Don Barclay. They've worked out a honey of a sketch together which got a howling okay at the Hollywood Canteen. . . . Incidentally there's no truth whatever to that unfounded rumor that all is not well with Cary and Barbara. I lunched with her last week and she told me she was never happier.

Give Him a Hand.

Now that 10 top pictures have been selected for Academy awards, and "Yankee Doodle Dandy" is one of the leaders, I think it only fair to give credit to Sid Skolsky. Two companies turned it down. Sid went personally to George M. Cohan, suggested Jimmy Cagney as star, and Cohan agreed. So let's give a nod to Sid for making it a personal issue. . . . Bill Paley, head of C. B. S., is here for a 10 days' visit and look-see. . . . Speaking about Academy awards, they're helpful and healthy for our industry, so why doesn't the radio adopt the idea and have an Academy of radio and allow the public to have a voice in what they consider the best show of the year and why? It would be a healthy trend. Then, too, we'd really find out what the public wants. How about it, fans?

Brighter Side.

Judy Garland isn't taking her separation too seriously. She and her sister were at Ciro's the other night with a couple of male escorts. . . . At same place Mary Martin gave a farewell party and Margo was celebrating her return. Lt. George Vanderbilt hovering over Rochelle Hudson. . . . Bob Hope, Dolores, and half a hundred others turned up at Bill Lawrence's housewarming cocktail party.

Miss Lindskog's Recital Displays Her Rich Voice

Lillian Lindskog, who possesses an exceptionally beautiful mezzo-soprano, appeared at Kimball hall last night in a recital that did her no more than half justice because talent was marred by faulty technique. Miss Lindskog's voice is not so much large as voluminous; it seems to be sheathed in luminosity, which is a lovely wrapping for any musical instrument.

That her voice is sensitive she proved by the delicacy of her coloratura in Purcell's "Hark! The Echoing Air." That it has imagination and the ability to soar she indicated beyond doubt in Duparc's "L'Invitation au Voyage" and Lalo's "La Chanson de l'Alouette." That it is both curious and ambitious was unmistakable in her voice of unhackneyed songs, including the lament, "Aus der Tiefe des Grames," from Bruch's "Achilleus."

But of all this potential beauty only a part was realized. Miss Lindskog hampers her own best efforts by faulty production that limits her voice in both range and volume, by a lack of support that lets her falter at a carefully prepared climax, and by an insecurity of vocal line that permits a naturally true voice to wander perilously from the pitch.

These flaws are easily diagnosed and curable by hard work. Miss Lindskog owes it to that voice to make it as secure as it is senstitive.

Bishop Is Appointed for Greek Orthodox Diocese of Chicago

Word was received from Istanbul, Turkey, yesterday of the appointment by Benjamin I., patriarch of the Greek Orthodox church, of the Rev. Dr. Gerassimos Elias of Savannah, Ga., as bishop of the Orthodox diocese of Chicago. The announcement was made by the Rev. Dr. Athenagoras Kokkinakis, pastor of St. Andrew's Greek Orthodox church. Father Elias will succeed the late Rt. Rev. Bishop Callistos, who died in 1940.

Father Kokkinakis said Father Elias will be consecrated at 10 o'clock next Sunday morning in the Church of the Annunciation, 1019 North La Salle street, by the Most Rev. Archbishop Athenagoras, head of the Greek church in America.

Motifs for Gift Towels

BY NANCY CABOT.

Fruit and flower embroidery motifs are favorite designs for gift towels. Cross-stitch and outline stitch are two of the simpler embroidery stitches used in this type of needlework. The hot iron transfer pattern contains 15 motifs, measuring from 2 by 4¼ to 3 by 4½ inches.

Mother Advised to Give Talks Only on Topics She Knows Best

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Every so often letters appear in my mail from mothers who have been asked to write a paper or give a talk before a group of women on a subject selected for them. Very often they say, "I know nothing about this. Can you help me to write the paper or suggest where I might get the necessary information?" Sometimes the subjects are large in scope; sometimes they are on small details of child management.

My answer to these writers is usually the same, and I hope it is welcome, because, altho it may not sound so, it is given with the best intention in the world. What I say, in brief, is:

If you do not know anything about the subject you are asked to do a paper on, reject the subject, and offer instead to write or talk on an aspect of child guidance you have personally learned something about. Of course, occasionally an academic sort of subject might be given you, such as "Give summaries of the newest books on child psychology," or "List and describe new books for children up to three," and that you could probably do well, because it is not information that persons have. It has to be garnered. But if you are asked to write a paper "Establishing the 'Dry' Habit in a Baby" and yours isn't born, or "What Rules as to Hours and Dates Should Be Laid Down for Adolescents?" and your Joan and Billy are twins two years old, I believe you should refuse the invitation. Experience, backed by thought and observation, are what you need to give value and authority to your address.

Offer your mother's club or parent-teacher group a substitute subject, and let it be one you know something about. It doesn't matter how small it is. If you have been successful in some special way with the children and know why, or if you have made a mistake, been jolted into an appreciation of it and mended your ways as a mother with good results, then present that experience. It will ring with conviction, and have more value and make a more live meeting than if you did an indifferent job on a big sounding subject.

A young woman said to a noted author, "I'd just love to write, but I don't know what to write about." To which he replied, "Write about something you know about."

Stassen Urges Aid in Church Education Field

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota yesterday assumed the presidency of the International Council of Religious Education. In his presidential address he called upon newspaper men, radio artists, advertising men, and laymen in other fields to put their professional talents to work for the church. The annual conference of the council opened a two day session at the Morrison hotel.

Gov. Stassen made his appeal as he outlined a twofold national program of religious education under the auspices of the council, which represents 42 denominations and many city and state church federations. One side of the program proposes to reach half of the children in the country with religious training, many in new defense areas, who are not now being trained. The second point calls for interpretation of religious ideas not only in relation to personal lives of church people but also to problems of community, national, and international life.

At a luncheon in his honor Gov. Stassen amplified the second point by urging the representation of organized religion at the peace table after the war thru both clerical and lay voices.

"I do not propose that we violate the fundamental principle of separation of church and state," Gov. Stassen explained in his presidential address, "but, if religion is to be vital, the decisions of state, the decisions of community, and of the commercial world must not be shut off from the fundamental precepts of our religious life.

"What should our attitude be toward the axis nations after the war, toward coöperation with the other nations? Can we smugly wrap the cloak of our rich resources around us and go blithely on our way, heads up, looking neither right nor left, east or west? Or do the concepts of our religion mean that we must take a responsibility toward men and women and little children on another continent in establishing a machinery of justice and coöperation?"

Gov. Stassen called for "ingenious devices" to help reach youths not under religious instruction. Booklets were suggested which could be made attractive by the professional advertising or newspaper man.

Maynard L. Cassidy of Washington, D. C., member of the national organization's section of the office of civilian defense, asked the council for the coöperation of churches in OCD activities in the fields of child care, recreation, youth programs, consumers' education, and social protection.

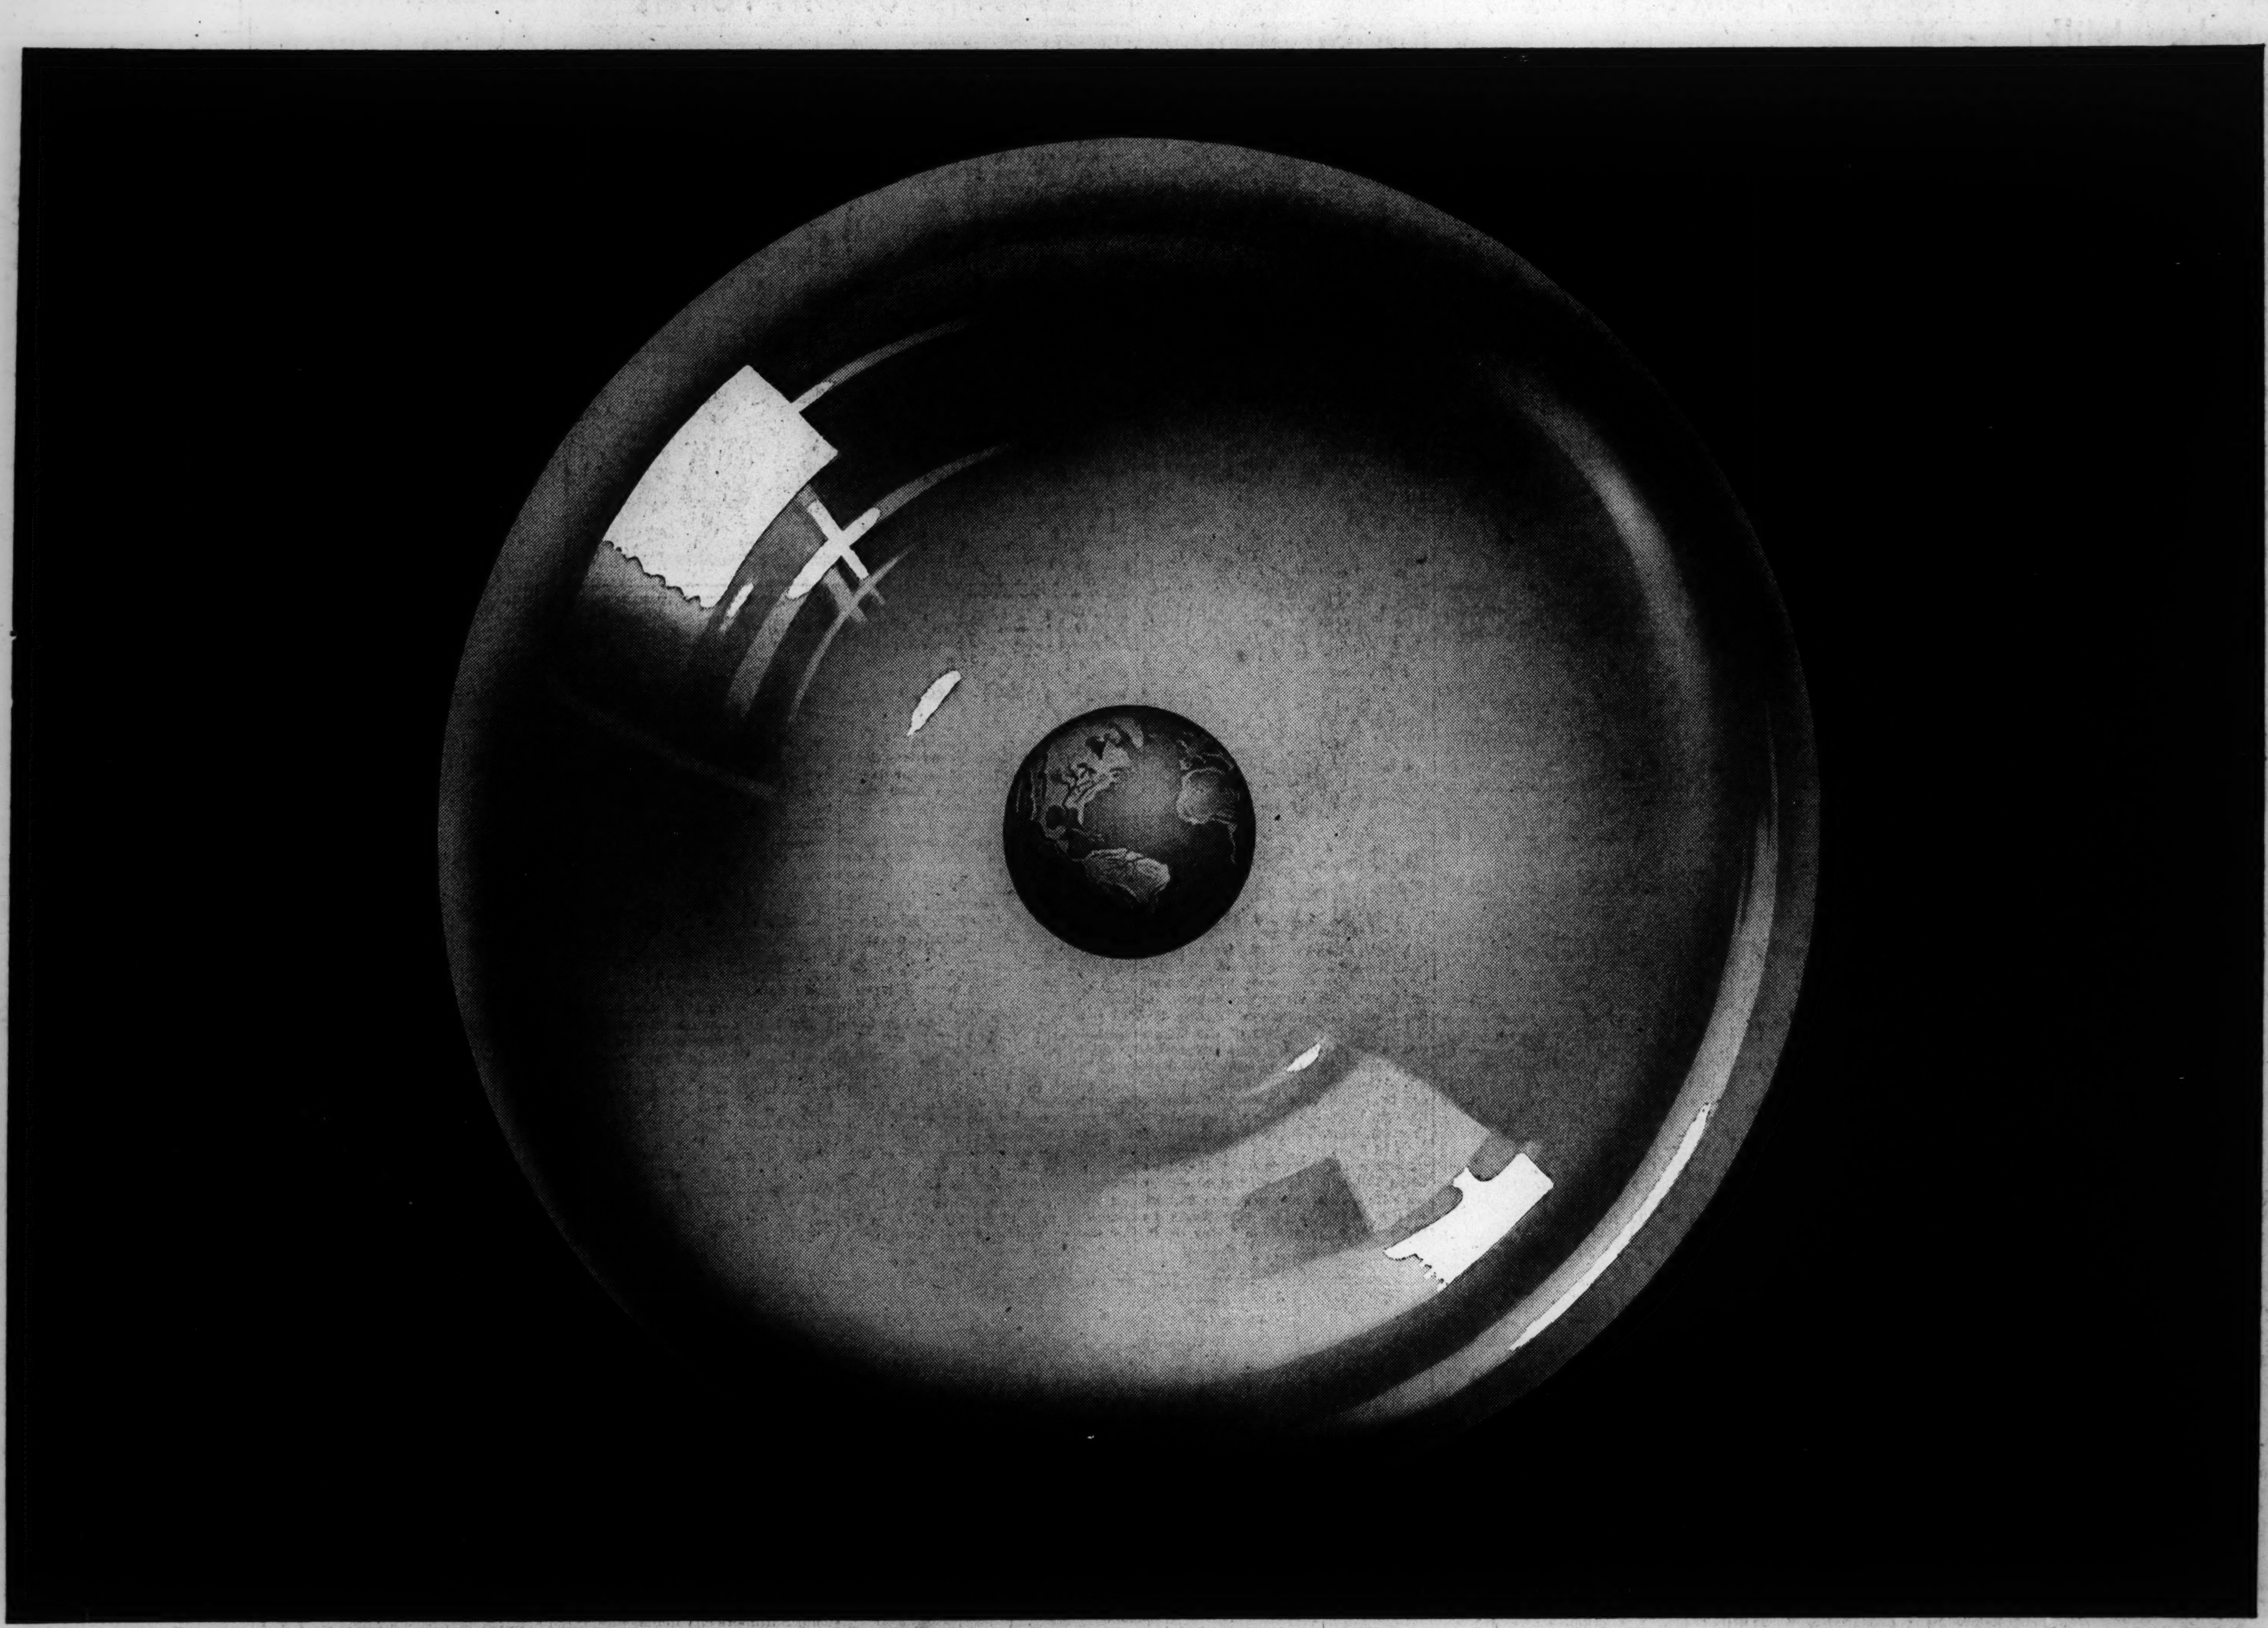
DOCTOR, HOW IS HE?
MY CHILD, WE ARE DOING EVERYTHING POSSIBLE—BUT BEING HUMAN, WE CANNOT CONTROL THE HAND OF FATE—
UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES, I THINK IT ADVISABLE YOUR SISTER JOAN WERE HERE, TOO—



WE SUBMIT THIS CONCEPTION OF OUR CHANGED WORLD AS THE BASIS FOR OUR

WAR-THINKING

We exist upon one globe, and inside another globe.

Our planet-earth is the center of a larger air-globe . . . It is like a small spherical kernel within a large spherical shell. Both globes, as one unit, follow the same orbit. We take our air with us—and always have.

The new factor that changes our world is the use of air as the only universal realm for transportation. In ratio as we do use it, we change the proximity and accessibility of all places, and effectively we make the world smaller.

* * *

With this conception as the basis for our war-thinking the world could make Peace permanent.

Not that human nature will change that much, that quickly, but because, after centuries of recurring wars, the human race now does possess the physical means of enforcing Peace.

Consider the protective possibilities of air:

Since air is everywhere, it is not possible for any person, clique or nation to hide anywhere upon the earth from air surveillance. If we have mastery of the air, we can reach the spawning grounds of the war plotters and prevent their preparations for war.

* * *

Consider the productive possibilities of air:

Today, all world markets are much closer neighbors than cities of the United States used to be. Air transportation makes possible a quicker post-war rehabilitation and a better world economic system.

* * *

World War I was a localized war. It was won by surface strategy. World War II is a universal war where there are no safety zones, because every inch of the earth's surface is a potential target for bombs from the air.

The world geography of 1918 is as obsolete as that of the ancient flat-world. That is why the post-war world will present problems as great as does this war-world—and why we will need aviation more after this war than during it.

After the Peace Conference we will have a much more vulnerable nation, because it is no longer an isolated piece-of-land, but an integral, inseparable and indivisible part of today's air-world. The waters of our two oceans could no more prevent air attack than did the cement of the Maginot Line.

* * *

The pre-air conception of the world was one of nations protected by vast oceans. All world economic, political and military thinking was predicated upon that surface-conception. Aviation has turned the page on that era!

Of course nations will continue to have boundary lines and will use land and water methods of transportation. But aviation changes all relative values; it nullifies the buffer nations, and makes possible that which has, for all man's prior history, been impossible.

* * *

Since it is primarily the use of air that makes this a Global War, it must follow inevitably that a dominant use of air can maintain Global Peace.

* * *

The United States has the beginning of the aviation machinery necessary to implement its democratic ideals and prevent a repetition of the war-crime by any nation.

Attain the most powerful position in the air and automatically we will become the greatest Power for Peace.

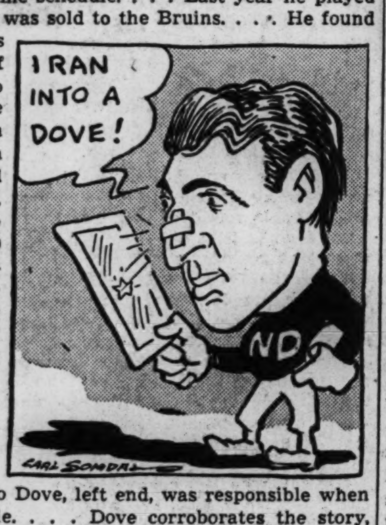
GREAT LAKES, INDIANA AND ILLINOIS TRIUMPH

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

LT. COMM. JIMMY CROWLEY, former Fordham football coach who last fall handled the Navy's Pre-Flight team at Chapel Hill, N. C., is in service in the Pacific. . . . Dutch Hiller, the bespectacled forward of the Canadiens, is said to be the only National Hockey league athlete who ever played 50 games in a 48 game schedule. . . . Last year he played 26 games with the Rangers and then was sold to the Bruins. . . . He found the Bruins had half their 48 games to play and he participated in all of them to bring his season total to 50. . . . If the Big Ten conference waives the rule barring freshmen from intercollegiate competition Northwestern's swimming team will gain the services of Henry Kozlowski, former Lane Tech free style star who has bettered the college 50 and 100 yard dash records in recent workouts. . . . Harry Wright, Notre Dame right guard, who acquired something of a reputation last fall as one of football's bad boys, has taken a lot of ribbing from campus pals over the broken nose he received playing against Ed Stamm and Chuck Taylor of Stanford in the East-West game at San Francisco New Year's day. . . . Wright insists that his teammate, Bob Dove, left end, was responsible when they collided trying to make a tackle. . . . Dove corroborates the story, claiming that they met with such impact that he was stunned. . . . Harvard never has won an Ivy league basketball championship. . . . Dwight Eddleman, Illinois freshman athlete, is a candidate for Phi Eta Sigma, honorary scholastic fraternity. . . . He led all the Sigma Chi pledges in scholarship at the 12 week period. . . .



I RAN INTO A DOVE!

The Hinkley, O., High school basketball team, all boys under 18, enlisted in the navy in a group and went to Great Lakes on the same train to enter boot training. . . . Before the rubber shortage it took an average of 10 pucks a match in hockey games at Chicago Stadium. . . . Souvenir hunters never returned a disc knocked into the stands. . . . In midseason a year ago a few stubborn fans resisted the appeal to throw back the pucks, but in the last 26 games only 26 pucks have been needed. . . . Cotton Price, who carried away all of the Detroit Lions' passing attack when he enlisted a year ago, is in charge of naval recruiting at Bowling Green, Ky. . . . Fred Corcoran, on leave of absence as tournament manager of the Professional Golfers' association, is director of a Red Cross service club in England. . . . More than 40 former professional wrestlers are working in California war industries. . . . Ivan Rasputin, one of the ex-terrors, is a foreman in a welding plant. . . . Despite gasoline rationing, basketball attendance at college games in the south has increased approximately 25 per cent.

To a Puzzled Nation.

O, the White House and 10 Downing street
Are far apart no more,
They've accomplished a sort of merger
Upon a far off shore;
But if you know the meaning
Of that Casablanca name
You'll know the rendezvous took place
In the "White House" just the same.

Wild are the conjectures—
"Do you think?" "Do you suppose?"
But to me the reason for the flight
Is as plain as your very nose;
All that gaff about Eleanor's gadding,
Thinks F. D. R., "I'll stop it,"
And the only way I can do it
Will be just to step out and top it!"
—Jazbo of Old Dubuque.

A Mother's Prayer.

Dear Lord, forgive me if I'm bold
And seem to tell You what to do,
But, if You can, please keep the gold
And leave me with this star of blue.

However, Lord, Your will be done,
Whatever comes I'll know You tried,
And if You have to take my son
I'll change the blue to gold with pride.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8 (AP).—Whether baseball will be classed as nonessential so that players will lose their dependency draft deferment status even if they have children remains undecided, Paul V. McNutt, war man power commissioner, told a press conference today.

He did say, in answering a direct question, that morale building qualities of a line of work might be a factor in determining whether such work should be added to the list of occupations made nondeferrable on dependency grounds.

Fenwick High Swimmers Defeat Sullivan, 52 to 23

The Fenwick High school senior swimming squad won its fourth consecutive dual meet by beating Sullivan of the City league, 52 to 23, in the Fenwick pool in Oak Park yesterday.

SAILORS AVENGE EARLY DEFEAT BY N. U., 57-36

Davies' 13 Points Lead Scorers.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Great Lakes won its 25th basketball game last night on its home court, a conquest the Bluejacket squad had anticipated since the day after New Year's. Last night, the Sailors whipped Northwestern, 57 to 36, before 5,000 recruits and now feel they can lift high their heads along the north shore for they have avenged the 59 to 47 licking they received in Evanston Jan. 2.

Few doubted that Great Lakes would take the second game in the series despite the Wildcats' brilliant victory over Purdue Saturday evening, for the Bluejackets have been undefeated since the reverse by Northwestern. That defeat and a four point beating by Illinois in an early double header in the Stadium are the only blots on Great Lakes' 27 game record.

Battle Plan Backfires.

The Sailors' shock troop plan backfired for the first time in five weeks. The shock troops left the game after 12 minutes with a 14 to 8 advantage over Northwestern. This was according to plan, but at the intermission the Sailor varsity led only 22 to 18 and the Wildcats had come within two points of a tie just before Forrest Anderson finished the scoring for the half with a long goal.

While Northwestern was only ahead in the game on Bud Hasse's free throw that opened scoring, the Wildcats closely chased the Sailors thruout the first half. Five times they trailed by two points and were within a point of a tie at 7 to 8.

Davies Tops Scoring.

Northwestern's guards stopped Bob Davies for the concluding eight minutes of the first half but in the second half Davies racked up six field goals, half of them on long shots, and added one penalty throw, to lead both teams with 13 points. Lineup:

HE'LL BE PUNCHING THURSDAY!

A real fighting name has Lewis Kick of the Libertyville Boys' club, and his father, Horace Kick, (left) is his biggest booster. Lewis, north side novice featherweight champion, will meet Donald Day of the south side Thursday night in one of the 16 city Golden Gloves championship bouts in the Armory, 16th street and Michigan avenue. He's a sharp puncher and shifty boxer.

A FITZSIMMONS TRAINS HIS EYES ON CITY GOLDEN GLOVES CROWN

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The Chicago Golden Gloves finals, which will be held Thursday night in the Armory, 16th street and Michigan avenue, will be featured by so many top rate bouts that the fans are assured of brilliant entertainment at every stage of the show. Sixteen fights are on the program—eight novice and eight open — and the schedule for both divisions is packed with prospects for sensational encounters.

In the heavyweight and flyweight—at the top and bottom of the open division competition — are bouts which promise to be good enough for feature attractions on any amateur card. The battle for the heavyweight title will pit Russ Fitzsimmons, hefty sailor from Navy Pier, against George Moore of the Savoy A. C. The flyweight pairings will bring together James Saranella, a west side Italian boy, and George Adams of the Savoy A. C.

Moore Has Edge in Experience.

The Fitzsimmons-Moore bout is expected to bring out some tremendous action. Moore, who won the Golden Gloves novice title last season, is considerably more experienced and ringwise than his navy opponent. Fitzsimmons, however, showed himself to be a rough, tough fighter when he beat the gigantic Dave Brown for the north sectional championship last week. After getting the worst of it in the early stages, Fitzsimmons knocked Brown thru the ropes onto the floor and continued to give his opponent a severe pummeling after the colored boy had gamely returned to the ring.

The Adams-Saranella engagement will bring two thoroly seasoned 112 pounders against one another. There's sure to be some mighty fast action and some fine maneuvering when this pair starts sparring for openings. Adams made a strong bid for the city open title last year only to drop a close decision to the veteran Al Noto in the finals. Saranella has met and defeated Adams by a close margin in a club show, but this was some months ago. The rivalry between these youngsters for supremacy among the city's flyweights is particularly keen so their followers will be looking with eager interest to the outcome of Thursday's showdown.

They're Evenly Matched.

The lightweight struggle between Melvyn Johnson of the C. Y. O. and Tim Dalton of the Madison A. C. is expected to go down as one of the historic battles of Chicago Golden Gloves competition. And so thruout the open division nearly every scheduled encounter is very evenly matched.

The novice division has brought out some exceptionally good fighters this season. Two boys from Johnny Coulon's gymnasium—Bill O'Donnell and Cliff Fossman—are just about the straightest punching novices to come up to Golden Gloves in some years. They hold the welterweight and middleweight south side titles, respectively. They'll be matched against two C. Y. O. boys, Fossman facing Al Preslinger and O'Donnell engaging Tom Reilly.

Winners to Represent Chicago.

Lewis Kick of the Libertyville Boys' club attracted considerable attention with his sharp punching and ring strategy while he was winning the north side 126 pound novice title. Another novice who won quite a following was Buck Hammer, an army boy who took the south side lightweight novice title. He drew some of the toughest opponents of the tournament, but came thru one hard fight after another, still on his feet.

In Thursday's bouts the open division contestants will be fighting for the right to represent Chicago in the Tournament of Champions which will be held Feb. 22, 23, and 24 in the Stadium. There they'll meet the best fighters mustered from the vast Golden Gloves territory in which newspapers are coöperating with Chicago Tribune Charities in the sponsorship of eliminations.

Joint Racing Season Is Plan for Maryland

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 8 (AP).—The Maryland Racing commission announced today it had laid plans for a joint spring racing season at Pimlico, within Baltimore city limits, with days divided between Bowie, Havre De Grace, and the host track.

The racing will be conducted within hours set by the Baltimore Transit company, the commission said, so as to insure noninterference with transportation of war workers.

Details of the season, including division of dates, are to be ironed out at a commission meeting tomorrow.

Laurel, the fourth major Maryland oval, was not considered in the discussions since it normally operates only in the fall.

Frank Small Jr., chairman of the commission, however, spiked recurrent reports that 100 days of racing, the whole Maryland season, would be held at the Baltimore plant.

Bowie Cancels Racing.

Small said street cars passing Pimlico, home of the Preakness, could handle a fair crowd and thus avoid violations of office of defense transportation rulings forbidding use of taxicabs, special trolleys, or buses.

Earlier today Bowie had announced it would hold no racing at its plant this year in compliance with an ODT request for cancelations where cars were the chief means of transportation.

One obstacle to the Pimlico plan yet to be overcome is a statutory bar against more than 30 days of racing at any one of the mile circuits, but race followers were optimistic that the general assembly would remove this obstacle.

DERBY FATE IN DOUBT

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8 (AP).—The fate of the Kentucky Derby remained in doubt tonight, with sponsors of the historic horse race reported working on some plan to make it a street car affair in an effort to soften the objection of Joseph B. Eastman, defense transportation director.

There appeared no certainty, however, that Eastman would approve even if steps were taken with a view to eliminating long distance travel.

COAST DECISION TODAY

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 8 (AP).—Fate of Bay Meadows' proposed spring racing meeting will be decided tomorrow when the state commission reconvenes. The board expected to consider the Bay Meadows question today but Chairman Jerry Giesler adjourned the meeting after a telephone call. He said the call pertained to the Bay Meadows issue and the board needed more time to consider the matter.

Fight Decisions

At Marigold Gardens—Al Reasoner beat Al Gomez [12], Jimmy Joyce beat Jackie Nichols [6], Jack Hill beat Tito Taylor [5], Elbert Adams and Young Ted Lewis drew [4], Al Nedoff knocked out Bobby Lee [1].
At Newark, N. J.—Pat Comiskey stopped Wallace Cross [7].

Iowa	1	5	.167	266	349
Chicago	0	5	.000	133	282

Bloomington, Ind., Feb. 8 [Special].—Indiana's basketball team won its 15th straight victory here tonight by whipping Michigan, 48 to 33, after building up a 14 point half time lead. It was Indiana's eighth triumph in Big Ten play and enabled the Hoosiers to maintain a half game lead over Illinois, title defender.

The Hoosiers' markmanship slumped in the last half, eight minutes of which was played by the reserves, but Indiana's fast breaking quintet swung back into a scoring groove from which it slipped on Saturday night in a 32 to 24 victory over the Wolverines.

After 12 minutes in the first period Indiana held a 20 to 10 margin and closed the half leading 26 to 12.

The Hoosiers widened the margin early in the final period. Capt. Irvin Swanson, Indiana's stocky guard, clinched the game a few minutes later when he made two long range shots and added a free throw, increasing the score to 36 to 17. The Indiana barrage continued in high gear with Johnny Logan getting two field goals and Ralph Hamilton sinking two free tosses to run the advantage to 42 to 17. Here the Indiana reserves made their appearance.

Hamilton Gets Only 6 Points.

Ward Williams, sophomore Indiana center, tied Swanson in scoring with 12 points. Hamilton, who had made 105 conference points for Indiana up to tonight, took only eight shots, but bagged three field goals.

Dave Strack, from Shortridge High school in Indianapolis, got four one handed goals and added a free throw for the best scoring job by a Wolverine.

Michigan had 66 chances from the field and hit 12, while the Hoosiers made 21 in 64 tries. Lineup:

INDIANA [48].	B	F	P	MICHIGAN [33].	B	F	P

LOYOLA, 46; NAVY PIER, 38

Bob Tietz scored 17 points last night to lead the Loyola university basketball team as it beat Navy Pier, 46 to 38, in Loyola gymnasium. Coach John [Hicks] Connelly used every member of his 14 man roster as the Ramblers gained their 10th victory in 15 games.

Loyola led at the half, 20 to 13, and by the middle of the final period the Ramblers had increased their margin to 38 to 19. In the last 10 minutes, however, the Sailors launched an offensive which continued until the game ended. Lineup:

ARMY REJECTS AUGIE GALAN FOR PHYSICAL ILLS

New York, Feb. 8 (AP).—The Brooklyn Dodgers announced today that Outfielder Augie Galan had been rejected for military service because of physical ailments.

Galan sent the following telegram from his home at Berkeley, Cal.:

"I have been rejected from the army because of extension and flexion of the right elbow and left knee limited."

Galan, a utility player, is single and the Dodgers had presumed that he would not be available this season.

BUCKEYES HOLD ANDY PHILLIP, BUT LOSE, 50-44

Badgers' 74 Points Set Big 10 Mark.

Columbus, O., Feb. 8 [Special].—Ohio State succeeding in slowing down Andy Phillip tonight, but with its high scoring star held to eight points, the Illinois basketball team made it two straight over the Buckeyes, 50 to 44. It was the seventh consecutive Big Ten victory for Illinois, which is unbeaten in the conference.

Phillip had averaged 21 points in six previous Big Ten games. Tonight he was shackled so thoroly that he managed to make only two field goals in each of the periods. His 134 points for the season keep him far in the lead of conference scoring pursuers. Tonight Gene Fekete did an able job in guarding Phillip.

The Illini pulled away late in the first half for a 26 to 19 lead at the intermission and built up a 31 to 19 margin early in the second half. The Buckeyes cut down this lead on a late scoring drive.

Mathisen Gets 17 Points.

With Phillip's point total held down, Capt. Art Mathisen of the defending champions came thru with seven field goals and three free throws for 17 points. Ken Menke was next with 13 points. Jack Dugger threw in seven baskets for the Buckeyes. Illinois whipped Ohio State Saturday night, 60 to 48.

Illinois always was in the lead after breaking a 14 to 14 tie early in the first quarter after the score had been deadlocked seven times. At this point the winners gradually pulled away for their 26 to 19 intermission lead.

The Illini quickly made five points as the second half opened, all by Mathisen. A few minutes later Phillip dribbled the length of the floor for a field goal and the champions had their biggest lead of the game, 35 to 20. Andy pulled this trick again after the Buckeyes had made six straight points on baskets by Ken Eichwald and Dugger and two free shots by Max Gecowets.

Buckeyes Creep Up.

The Buckeyes rallied with the count 38 to 28 against them, coming up within five points of a tie on a free toss by Fred Miller, and field goals by Gecowets and Dugger. The latter stole the ball from Menke under the Illinois basket and dribbled all the way for a short counter.

Illinois met this challenge with field goals by Jack Smiley and Menke, went on for a 48 to 39 lead, and then unconcernedly watched the Buckeyes try to catch up. Lineup:

ILLINOIS [50].	B	F	P	OHIO STATE [44].	B	F	P

Free throws missed—Menke, Phillip, Mathisen, Vance, Eichwald, Dugger [2], White.

Referee, Bill Orwig [Michigan]. Umpire, Russell Rupp [Lebanon Valley].

BADGERS WIN, 74-30

Madison, Wis., Feb. 8 [Special].—Wisconsin set a Western conference team scoring record of 74 points for a game when the Badgers defeated the University of Chicago basketball quintet tonight, 74 to 30. The Badgers, paced by Johnny Kotz, who scored 25 points, never were in trouble.

After taking a 41 to 21 lead at the half, Wisconsin piled up a 65 to 21 margin before Chicago was able to score in the second period. The Maroons' free throw at that time came after 13 minutes of play.

The new Big Ten scoring mark surpassed the previous record of 71 made this season by Indiana against Iowa.

FEW SHELLS, LOTS OF TACKLE FOUND IN MISSISSIPPI

Southerners Will Fish for Food in '43.

BY BOB BECKER.

Shotgun shells are just as scarce in the Mississippi quail and squirrel country as they are in northern states, judging from our checkup last week in a number of towns from Jackson, Miss., eastward thru Leake, Clark and Smith counties where the pointer and setter are the two most popular and widely used breeds of dogs.

But stocks of fishing tackle are good in most of the stores down there and W. F. Dearman, director of the Mississippi department of conservation, said that he expected more families to use fish for food this year than ever before in the history of the state. Cane pole fishermen do not have to buy a license so whole families have no overhead when they go after a mess of fish for the table. Only fishermen who cast artificial lures have to purchase a state fishing license.

Urge Harvest of Game.

We found Mississippi sportsmen very much interested in the recent recommendation to the war production board and the Defense Supplies corporation that these organizations provide essential ammunition for important civilian uses. In this connection it was stated that wild life crops should be harvested in order to release a still further supply of domestic meats to the war effort and to accelerate control of predatory animals and rodents.

Judging from our observations in three Mississippi counties, that state has a big supply of quail, squirrels, and rabbits which are being wisely used by residents. While hiking thru some of the quail country with the conservation director we saw something we never have seen on any previous trip.

Quail Waits for Hunter.

Coming thru a beautiful stand of pine woods not far from the village of Ludlow, Spot, a steady little pointer dog, froze on point near a log. Dearman called out for us to come up easy and take a look. There was a quail sitting on top of a 12 inch log in plain view. We walked up within 8 or 10 feet to get a look at it, while the dog held his point. Not until we got very close to the bird did it flush.

MICHIGAN TRACK TEAM, SPARTANS TO MEET TONIGHT

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 8 [Special].—Michigan and Michigan State track teams will meet here tomorrow night in the first dual engagement of the season for the Wolverines. Michigan is favored in most track events and the Spartans are expected to dominate field competition.

A sample of Michigan track power was given in the Millrose games Saturday when the Wolverines won the two mile relay and Capt. Dave Matthews and Bob Ufer picked up seconds in the half mile and 600 yard run. Ufer will run in the 440 and mile relay against State.

Spartans standouts include Capt. Bill Scott, Miller, and Jim Milne, high jumper. This will be the fifth dual meet between State and Michigan, and the Spartans will be seeking their first team triumph.

NAVY PIER FIVE ENTERS QUEEN OF ANGELS TOURNEY

Navy pier's basketball team, the Aero-Macs, has entered in the ninth annual Queen of Angels city-wide A. A. U. tournament to be held Feb. 21 thru 27 in the parish guild hall, 4412 North Western avenue. The entry of the sailors brings the starting field up to eight quintets. Other entries over the week-end were Durso Produce, Elston Laundry, and the Danleys.

The seven day meet is open to college, high school, industrial, church, fraternal, service, and independent teams, according to the Rev. John P. Sullivan, tournament director. Teams wanting entry blanks are asked to call the Rev. Sullivan at Longbeach 5118.

Al Reasoner Wins Decision from Gomez

Al Reasoner, Hines, Ill., lightweight, conquered Alvin Gomez in the 12 round headline bout in Marigold Gardens last night. The decision by Referee Tommy Thomas and Judges John Bray and Harry Busscher was unanimous.

With the exception of the first round, when Gomez scored a one-count knockdown, and the third, when Alvin piled up points by adept use of left hooks to the body, Reasoner had the upper hand.

Joyce Wins from Nichols.

By the end of the eighth round the 1,413 spectators, who filled the arena to capacity, were convinced Reasoner would capture the decision unless Gomez rallied.

Jimmy Joyce beat Jackie Nichols, lightweight rival from Gary, in a fast six round semi-windup. A cut eye Nichols received in the third round was a factor in his defeat.

Nedoff Wins by Knockout.

Jack Hill, Bloomington, Ill., middleweight, scored two knockdowns in the fifth round to defeat Tito Taylor in a five round event. Elbert Adams, last year's city Golden Gloves featherweight champion, held young Ted Lewis to a four round draw.

Al Nedoff, Gary 135 pounder, suffered an eight count knockdown before flooring Bobby Lee for the count in the first round of the opener, set for four rounds.

◆

Lee Savold arrived yesterday to finish preparations for a 10 round bout with Lem Franklin in Chicago Stadium next Monday. The Paterson, N. J., heavyweight came from Greenwood Lake, N. J., where he has been training since knocking out Nate Bolden in the Stadium on Jan. 22.

Savold will open boxing workouts in Ringside loop gymnasium this afternoon. He weighs 191 pounds, three and one-half pounds less than he carried in his impressive conquest of Bolden. Lee is confident he will obtain revenge for a knockout Franklin scored over him in a previous meeting four years ago.

◆

Charles [Gorilla] Grubmyer and Jack Zeravich will meet Pierre La Belle and Mel Peters in an Australian tag team bout heading the wrestling show in Rainbo Fronton tomorrow. . . . Ray Steele will face Chief Little Wolf in the windup bout of Promoter Billy Cepak's mat card in Cicero stadium Friday.

Pier Boxers Defeat Camp Grant, 5 to 3

Navy pier boxers defeated Camp Grant, 5 bouts to 3, in the pier auditorium last night and displaced the losers as the leading team in the Service Men's Amateur Boxing league. It was the first defeat of the season for Camp Grant, whose record also includes six victories and two ties, compared with Navy pier's seven victories, one defeat and two ties.

Russ Fitzsimmons, Navy pier heavyweight who last week won the north side Golden Gloves title, won a split decision over Joe Chuckro of Camp Grant in the final bout which sewed up the team victory for the sailors. Another north side champion, Dick Roache, Navy pier, 118 pounder, lost, also by a split decision, to Gene Roberts of Camp Grant. Results:

112 pounds—Sergt. Al Noto, Camp Grant, won by forfeit.
118 pounds—Gene Roberts, Camp Grant, beat Nick Roache, Navy pier [3].
126 pounds—Marine Joe Wilkerson, Navy pier, beat Herb Mashino, Camp Grant [3].
135 pounds—Frank Sidote, Navy pier, beat Clinton Hirata, Camp Grant [3].
147 pounds—Ken Werner, Navy pier, beat Corp. Edwin Marsh, Camp Grant [3].
160 pounds—Mike Birskovich, Navy pier, won by forfeit.
175 pounds—William Zfelke, Camp Grant, beat Al Wills, Navy pier [3].
Heavyweight—Russ Fitzsimmons, Navy pier, beat Joe Chuckro, Camp Grant [3].

INTERSTATE HAS SIX TEAMS; WILL PLAY 140 GAMES

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 8 (AP).—The six clubs of the Interstate Baseball league agreed today to play a 1943 schedule of 140 games and left the door open to enlargement of the circuit to eight teams.

A York, Pa., club advised the annual league meeting that it was "interested" in joining this year if another team could be recruited. President Arthur H. Ehlers of Baltimore said, however, that an eighth team had not yet been sighted, and that he would oppose a seven team league.

Ready to open a 1943 campaign next May 11 were the Allentown, Pa., Cardinals, a farm team of the St. Louis Cards; the Trenton Senators, who have agreements with the Philadelphia Phils; Lancaster, Pa., Red Roses; Harrisburg Senators, in the farm system of the Pittsburgh Pirates; Hagerstown, Md., Owls; and the Wilmington, Del., Blue Rocks of the Philadelphia Athletics farm system.

NORTH CENTRAL FIVE DEFEATS MILLIKIN, 51-43

North Central scored its 10th basketball victory in 11 Illinois College conference games by defeating Millikin, 51 to 43, on the North Central court in Naperville last night. Tom Wedsworth, who has been North Central's leading scorer all season, dropped in 10 field goals and three free throws. North Central led at half time, 24 to 18. Lineup:

CITY BOWLING MEET WILL CLOSE THIS WEEK-END

Al Nawrocki's 686 Leads Singles Competition.

BY C. H. BEUKEMA.

Fewer than 500 bowlers have an opportunity to gain places among the leaders in the Chicago Bowling association's 39th annual tournament on the Windy City lanes, the tournament being scheduled to close Sunday after a run that started Dec. 12. Members of two Classic league teams, the Ambrosias and U. S. Beers, are to roll singles and doubles, along with Andy Melant, Herb Hrebic and others of the Miami Lounge team in the South End Traveling league; Chick Schroeder, Herb Gumz, Joe Aubert, Mel Pofahl, Happy Procunier, John Casti and Marcel Barles of the Greater Chicago Traveling league; Jerry Peck, Jim Danek, Mike Marinello, Steve Owens, and others of the Windy City circuit. The Joseph L. Gills already have won the team event.

1,357 Leads Doubles Totals.

The 1,357 total piled up by Leo Logothetti and Eddie Mueller, largely on the strength of Mueller's 738, leads in the major doubles, as do Al Nawrocki's 686 in the singles and Ad Carlson's 2,027 in the all events. Bill Rick and Stan Skutak lead the handicap doubles with 1,331; Harvey Haberkamp's 714 is high in the singles and Skutak's 1,983 paces the all events section.

Air Cadet Carroll Hooe, killed in the army plane crash at Clinton, Ill., Saturday, was the son-in-law of Louis P. Petersen, Petersen classic sponsor.

Schwoegler Wins in St. Louis.

Connie Schwoegler, national match game champion, who finished in a tie for 39th place in the recent Petersen Classic, won Emil Waibel's event, also an eight games across 16 alleys assignment, in St. Louis Sunday.

Wells Juniors Defeat Kelvyn Park, 62 to 30

The Wells High school juniors tightened their hold on second place behind Marshall in the City league west section basketball race yesterday by defeating Kelvyn Park, 62 to 30, on the loser's court. It was Wells' fifth victory in six games, the single defeat being by Marshall. Wally Mroz scored 22 points for the winning team.

The Crane Tech juniors beat Foreman, 65 to 29, in another west section game in which Wally Schousen and Mike Sosnicki made 14 points apiece for the winning team. Lineups:

Blackhawks Revise Hockey Record Book

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Statisticians spent yesterday rewriting the National Hockey league record books as they reflected on Sunday night's 8 to 4 Chicago victory over the New York Rangers. The historical wake of the Sabbath match involved considerable research by Blackhawk statisticians, in both the league archives and those of the Hawk team itself. Here are some of the findings:

In performing the "hat trick"—three goals apiece—Doug Bentley and Bill Thoms became the first players on one National league team to accomplish triples in a contest. To protect their record further it can be set down that they both play on the same line.

Doug Ties Hawks' Goal Mark.

Doug Bentley's three goals raised his total to 25 which ties the Blackhawks' all time season goal record, set by Babe Dye in the 1926-27 season. It also lifted his point total to 51, putting him in a second place tie with Lorne Carr of Toronto in the current National league point standings. Altho Max Bentley registered four points with four assists in Sunday night's orgy, he is now a point behind Brother Doug and Carr.

Doug Bentley and Thoms completed the week with the best individual scoring records of the span, each with four goals and four assists, to top Bill Cowley, the league leader, who scored three goals and four assists during the week.

Rangers Set Record, Too.

The Hawks enabled the Rangers to set a National league record. A total of 187 goals has been scored against the Rangers this season, one more than the total season record, set by the 1940-'41 New York Americans. The Rangers have 13 more games in which to add to the record set Sunday night.

Despite the rise of the Bentleys in the individual standings, they still are quite a span behind Cowley. Here are the leaders:

	Goals.	Assists.	Pts.
Cowley, Boston	17	41	58
D. Bentley, Chicago	25	26	51
Carr, Toronto	26	25	51
M. Bentley, Chicago	19	31	50
Boll, Boston	25	23	48
Patrick, New York	16	29	45
Taylor, Toronto	13	32	45
A. Jackson, Boston	21	23	44
Howe, Detroit	18	24	42
Benoit, Montreal	18	22	40

Thoms, handicapped as a scorer because of a term on defense, is 13th on the list with 14 goals and 23 assists, a total of 37 points.

4 RETURN GAMES ON CAMP GRANT CARD THIS WEEK

The basketball record of the Camp Grant Warriors, which stands at 23 triumphs in 24 games this season, will be boosted to 27 out of 28 by the end of this week if the Warriors play up to form in their four games in the next five days.

They are scheduled to play Bradley Tech in Rockford tonight and Lawrence in Appleton tomorrow, then rest a day before home games with the Peoria Tractors Friday and Fort Sheridan Saturday. The Warriors have defeated all of these rivals in earlier games this winter.

NATIONAL LEAGUE BOARD PONDERS PROBLEM OF PHILS

May Remove Nugent from Presidency.

New York, Feb. 8 (AP).—Members of the National league turned their attention again today to the problem of the Philadelphia Phils with indications that the meeting of the league tomorrow would bring about the long awaited showdown on the future control of the club.

While Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis, President Will Harridge of the American league, W. G. Bramham, and many other baseball leaders were leaving town with their memories of last night's dinner of the writers, the board of directors of the National league held a conference on the Phils.

Consider Bid for Club.

What recommendation the board might make to the full league tomorrow was not disclosed, but there were reports that a bid for the club was being considered and some members of the league asserted that in any case action would probably be taken to remove direction of the club from President Gerry Nugent.

The Phils owe nearly $200,000 to the league and have various other debts. Their continual last place finishes in the pennant race also have created a weak spot in league competition.

Nugent, who has been president of the Phils since 1933, controls 52 per cent of the stock, and the remainder is in scattered blocks. This divided ownership, it was understood, has complicated attempts to sell the club.

Unless a prospective purchaser is lined up tomorrow, it was indicated the league might seek to take over management of the club as a trustee for all stockholders and creditors and possibly place Bill Terry in charge until an outright sale can be arranged.

Immediate Action Necessary.

Spokesmen for the league said, however, that if this course was undertaken there might not be an announcement made tomorrow because it was believed that a legal stockholders action would have to be started to accomplish the purpose. There also would have to be negotiations with whoever would be given control.

As matters now stand Nugent has been asked not to sign a manager, or close contracts with players or for a spring training site. Since baseball law provides that all players must be offered contracts by Feb. 15, and since the start of the training season is only five weeks away, it was evident that immediate action of some kind must be taken.

BANKERS FIGHT FEDERAL FARM CREDIT REVIVAL

Proposed Move Held Inflationary.

BY PHILIP WARDEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—Charges were made against the department of agriculture today that the proposed revival of the regional Agricultural Credit corporation for the purpose of providing 225 million dollars of additional farm credit this year was inflationary in character, another step toward socialized credit and wholly unnecessary.

The charges were made by W. L. Hemingway, president of the American Bankers association, in a memorandum to Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard. Hemingway said that the bottlenecks in food production were labor and machinery shortages rather than credit.

Bankers Surprised at Plan.

Hemingway told Wickard that "it was with deep regret and considerable surprise" that the bankers learned of plans to revive the credit corporation.

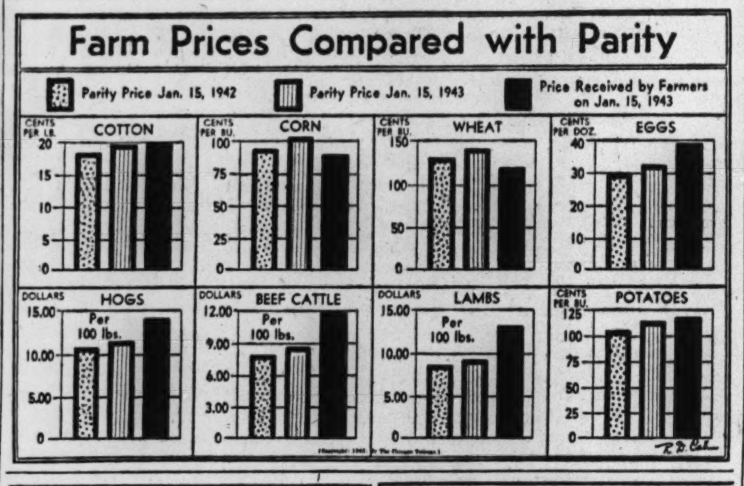
"No group of citizens appreciates the need for food production more than the country bankers," he said. "They have demonstrated this appreciation by the way they have promoted the food for freedom program in their own counties and communities the nation over, and by the way they have supported it with their credit facilities.

"They are ready and anxious to do as much or more again this year. But they look with concern upon this plan to use the war situation to add another wholly unnecessary government lending agency to those already in existence."

Called Against Public Interest.

Hemingway said the association was opposed to socialization of credit. He said it was realized that direct government relief may be necessary in times of stress as "a temporary expedient" but the association "maintains that it is not in the public interest for the government to engage in the lending business where credit is available in adequate supply and at reasonable rates."

He said it was "strange" the department of agriculture should "undermine" the country banks by "increasing its already considerable subsidized competition with them."



Farm Prices Compared with Parity

Propose to End FDIC Fee on U.S. Deposits

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—Chairman Robert F. Wagner [D., N. Y.] of the senate banking and currency committee announced today that he would introduce on Thursday a bill to suspend for the duration of the war and six months thereafter the law requiring banks to pay assessments to the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation on United States treasury bank balances derived from the sale of war bonds.

Wagner said the bill also would suspend the law requiring member banks to maintain reserves with federal reserve banks against these deposits.

A similar measure was introduced in the house last Thursday by Chairman Henry B. Steagall [D., Ala.] of the house banking and currency committee, and administration forces believe the bill is assured of quick passage.

Banks Hold 40 Per Cent.

Steagall told the house approximately 40 per cent of all government securities are held by the banking system. In the 12 billion dollar December war financing approximately 42 per cent, or 5 billion dollars in government securities, were sold to the banks, exclusive of the amount sold the public thru banks.

He said a large portion of the proceeds derived from the sale of these securities are carried in the banking system in the so-called "war loan" accounts to the credit of the treasury pending disbursement by the government.

Must Pay Assessment.

The banks have been required to pay an assessment to the FDIC of 1-12 of 1 per cent a year on these balances the same as on other deposits, altho the treasury balances remain in the banks to the credit of the government for only a short time.

Supporters of the Wagner-Steagall bills hold that suspension of FDIC assessments will enable the banks to make a little money on government deposits and will encourage them to increase their purchases of government bonds. Removal of reserve requirements on government deposits, they said, will free large amounts of bank funds for investment in war bonds.

PICK WILLIAM STREET AS GENERAL MANAGER OF FIELD IN CHICAGO

William S. Street.

William S. Street is the new general manager of Marshall Field & Co.'s Chicago and suburban stores, Hughston M. McBain, president, announced yesterday. Street has been president and general manager of the company's second largest retail store, Frederick & Nelson, in Seattle. He succeeds McBain in the Chicago post.

McBain, who had been first vice president of the company and general manager of the Chicago and suburban stores, was named president of the company Feb. 2 to succeed Frederick D. Corley, who resigned.

Street joined Marshall Field & Co. five years ago as general merchandise manager of the Frederick & Nelson store. He is 38 years old and was born in Oakland, Ca. He attended the University of California and later was connected with Hale Brothers stores in California and the Boston store in Milwaukee, Wis., before he joined Frederick & Nelson.

The appointment of Street is effective immediately, but he will not occupy the Chicago office until early in March, McBain said.

Incomes Paid to Individuals Near 114 Billion

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8 (AP).—Income payments to individuals soared to 113 billion 824 million dollars last year, 23 per cent more than in 1941, Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones reported today.

This was the highest total for any year since the commerce department began keeping records on income payments and sent the department's index soaring to 190.4, compared with the 1935-'39 level of 100.

Three Components Gain.

Jones said that four-fifths of the total increase in income payments in 1942 was contributed by manufacturing wages and salaries, federal government pay rolls, and the net income of farm operators, three components which constituted only one-third of total income paid to individuals in 1941.

The net income of farm operators last year reached the unprecedented total of 9 billion 500 million dollars, Jones said, 53 per cent larger than in 1941. Altho total wages and salaries increased 27.9 per cent from 61 billion 913 million to 79 billion 171 million, manufacturing pay rolls advanced 41 per cent to 30 billion 400 million.

Federal Pay Roll Doubles.

Federal government pay rolls more than doubled last year. Pay rolls in industries affected less directly by war time spending—trade, service, finance, and public utilities—advanced about 12 per cent. Work relief wages were cut about 50 per cent to 586 million dollars.

"Not only has the volume of income payments expanded greatly during the war period," Jones said, "but the composition of the total has changed materially.

"Wages and salaries advanced from 65 per cent of total income payments in 1939 to 70 per cent in 1942. Dividends and interest, on the other hand, dropped from 13 per cent of the total in 1939 to 8 per cent in 1942."

RUBBER PROGRAM 'MOVING NICELY,' JEFFERS REPORTS

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 8 (AP).—Rubber Administrator William M. Jeffers said today that the government's synthetic rubber plant building program is "moving along very nicely now," altho it has been behind schedule because of delay in getting certain materials.

"We're trying to build a tremendous industry in a year that in normal times would take a decade," he told a press conference when he arrived to address the Engineers' Society of Western Pennsylvania and to visit a large synthetic rubber plant.

PRUDENTIAL-CIO PACT BRANDED ILLEGAL BY AFL

Blanket 51 Per Cent 'Deal' Assailed.

Daniel D. Carmell, American Federation of Labor attorney in Chicago, charged yesterday that a contract signed in New York last Wednesday between the Prudential Insurance Company of America and a CIO union, covering 18,000 industrial insurance agents thruout the country, was illegal.

The United Office of Professional Workers of America, a CIO affiliate, made an agreement with the company to poll the agents on a nationwide basis. Cards were sent to all agents. Any card returned constituted a vote for CIO affiliation. An unreturned card was a negative vote. There was no provision made for AFL or independent union preference.

CIO and Company Agree.

The company and the CIO also agreed that if 51 per cent of the votes were favorable, the CIO union should be designated bargaining agent for all 18,000 agents. Efforts to have the cards counted by the United States department of labor and the New York state mediation board fell thru. They finally were tallied by an independent group, the American Arbitration association, which reported the CIO polled the required 51 per cent.

Meanwhile, the Industrial and Ordinary Insurance Agents' council, an AFL group, had filed petitions with the NLRB asking that it be designated bargaining agent for Prudential agents in several localities. A petition covering the 1,000 Chicago, Oak Park, Blue Island, and Evanston agents was filed Dec. 15.

AFL Wins in Toledo.

After an NLRB election in Toledo Jan. 21, in which the vote was 82 to 6, the AFL union was certified as bargaining agent for Prudential agents there. The AFL protest was loud when it was learned that this group of agents might be the only ones not included in the new CIO contract which blankets the nation.

"For the company and the CIO union to take it upon themselves to determine the question of an appropriate bargaining unit without submitting that question to the NLRB, which is the only tribunal having authority to determine that question, constitutes most outrageous discrimination against the AFL and in favor of the CIO," said Herbert S. Thatcher, a member of the staff of the AFL general counsel.

Carmell said the AFL would file charges of labor law violation against the company. He also charged that the CIO obtained a top-heavy vote in its favor from the New York and New Jersey agents, who number about 3,000 and are affiliated with the CIO.

AFL spokesmen also said some agents in Ohio, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Indiana are affiliated with independent unions which have had no voice in proceedings leading to the blanket contract.

The CIO union, in a New York announcement, hailed its new contract with Prudential as "the largest union contract covering white collar employés," and as a step giving "the CIO a significant organizational advance among the 350,000 employés in the insurance office field."

Stop Worrying, Food Shortage Not Likely, Says Distributor

Nathan Cummings.

Consumers and those within the industry who are concerned that a food shortage will develop were urged yesterday by Nathan Cummings, president of the Sprague Warner-Kenny corporation, to "stop worrying." The American people will have to revise their food habits, he said, but they may be assured of nutritious and well balanced diets.

Cummings addressed midwest food executives at a luncheon of the Chicago Association of Manufacturers' representatives in the Hotel Sherman.

Confident of Supplies.

He said he is confident there will be an adequate food supply for the United States, despite the increasing drain on food resources for military and lend-lease purposes.

Food distribution is as important as food production, asserted Cummings, and he warned food men against bottlenecks in the distribution field that may "detract from the good work the foodstuffs growers are doing." He urged coöperation with the government's program by manufacturing and distribution sections of the industry.

There is nothing to "fear" in point rationing, he said, and the industry is fortunate the system has been tested in England and the "bugs" taken out.

Ration Plan Called Simple.

He asserted the United States rationing plan is simple compared with that in other countries, particularly in Sweden, where he said a housewife with a family of 14 must take along 350 ration books when she goes shopping.

"Probably the most important thing the food manufacturer, wholesaler and retail grocer must prepare themselves for is to be flexible," said Cummings. "The man who is flexible in his thinking and procedure will survive and may be stronger when this is all over, while the man who feels that because he has never sold pork and beans in a waterproof bag he won't sell them that way if they become available tomorrow, is going to the wall."

Offers Bill to Eliminate 'Death Sentence' Provision

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8 (AP).—Rep. Evan Howell [R., Ill.] introduced in the house today a bill suspending indefinitely the provision of the securities commission act which compels utility holding company systems to simplify their corporate structures. The provision which would be nullified is known in financial circles as the "death sentence."

2 BIG CHICAGO BANKS AID IN 30 MILLION WAR FINANCING FOR PHILCO

Twenty-one banks, including Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company and the First National Bank of Chicago, have agreed to make a 30 million dollar credit available to Philco corporation, Philadelphia, officials of the radio manufacturing company announced yesterday.

The loan, for three years, is 80 per cent guaranteed by the war department under the reserve board's regulation V and was arranged to provide additional working capital to finance the company's large production of electronic equipment for the army and navy, Larry E. Gubb, chairman, and James T. Buckley, president, said.

The company, with plants in Chicago, Philadelphia, Trenton, N. J., and Sandusky, O., completed its conversion to war work several months ago, the officials said.

Pay Raise for Gary Street Railway Workers Approved

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8 (AP).—The war labor board approved today an agreement between Gary Railways company, Gary, Ind., and the AFL Street Railway workers, for a wage increase of six cents an hour, retroactive to Oct. 5.

EXPORTS FACE NEW SHACKLES WHEN WAR ENDS

Official Says Peace Won't End Curbs.

America's world trade will not be freed of its war time curbs when the peace treaty is written, 500 exporters and importers were told yesterday at the annual Chicago world trade conference in the Hotel La Salle.

Instead, many of the present government regulations will be continued in the post-war reconstruction period, and new and permanent controls will be added, said one of a number of speakers from federal agencies in Washington, D. C.

Lynn R. Edminster, vice chairman of the United States tariff commission, who predicted the new regulations, also said the objectives of the Roosevelt-Churchill Atlantic charter would be used as the basis for America's part in world reconstruction.

Raps Nationalist Policies.

The nationalist policies of world powers contributed much to the world depression and laid the groundwork for the war, he asserted, and trade barriers of all kinds must come down thru reduction in tariffs, elimination of quotas, and removal of other restrictions.

Edminster applauded the philosophy written into the lend-lease agreement with England to pledge the United States against forcing England to repay this country for the vast amount of materials supplied.

"Not international generosity but enlightened self-interest dictates that we take into account the adverse effects which insistence upon the repayment of vast sums would have upon Britain's capacity to pay for current imports from the United States," he said.

Maze Causes Concern.

The trade conference, sponsored by the Export Managers Club of Chicago and the Chicago Association of Commerce, attracted foreign trade executives of several hundred midwest and eastern business organizations.

A question and answer period illustrated the concern of exporters over the maze of governmental regulations, issued principally by the board of economic warfare, that has enveloped lend-lease and other phases of world trade.

Chicago Title and Trust Company is handling things for me here

That Supervised Agency account takes care of the "home front"!

Men honored by their country's call often have personal business cares that can neither be handled at a distance, nor relinquished. For such problems, Chicago Title and Trust Company offers many services. A Supervised Agency account is perhaps the most generally welcomed plan, by which investments, real estate and business interests are supervised, with full information placed in the hands of the owner for ultimate decisions. A Supervised Agency plan can be set up for "the duration." Or it can be continued at will for the rest of a man's life—when he finds how greatly it relieves him of needless cares, freeing him for more valuable assignments.

If you are about to enter service—or take on government administrative work—we invite you to discuss your problems with one of our Trust Officers, with your attorney. We shall do our best to aid you.

STOCKS DECLINE; INVESTORS WARY OF 'CORRECTION'

Long Rise Leads to Theory Prices May React.

New York, Feb. 8 (AP).—Stocks today turned slightly lower, altho gains were scattered liberally thru the list. Such buying as did crop up apparently was based mainly on war news. Commitments were trimmed in some cases, however, on the theory a further "technical correction" might be in prospect.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 0.1 to 44. Traders expecting a reaction were mindful that this composite is a full 12 points above the low of last April. Dealings, lively at the opening when prices were moderately higher, slackened as prices eased.

Discuss Speculation Curb.

Reported proposals of SEC staff members for drastic restrictions on speculation in securities were the main subject discussed in Wall street, but their effect on the market was questionable. Margin trading, said brokers, has been exceptionally meager for some time, purchases being about 90 per cent for cash. Brokers' loans, used mainly for carrying speculative customers, stood at approximately 331 million dollars Feb. 1, against the record high on Oct. 1, 1929, of about 8½ billion.

Sears Roebuck made a new 1942-'43 top but finished with a net loss of 1½ points. Western Union and Pullman retained small advances at their best quotations in more than a year. General Motors edged into new high ground, but closed unchanged.

Losses, on the whole, were in minor fractions.

CHICAGO MARKET MIXED.

Chicago Stock exchange prices were irregular yesterday. Trading totaled 27,000 shares, and 18 stocks reached new 1942-'43 highs on fractional advances. Volume leaders included Central and South West Utilities, unchanged; Chicago corporation, RCA and Aviation corporation, each up ⅛. In the final half hour Butler Brothers advanced ⅛ and Swift was up ⅜ from the New York close.

BONDS ARE IRREGULAR.

New York, Feb. 8 (AP).—Bond prices moved irregularly today as more profit taking pressure was felt again in the lower priced rail issues. The Associated Press average of 20 rail bonds dropped 0.2 to 67.8. Volume shrank to $8,200,000 face value, compared with $8,999,900 Friday.

United States government loans were quiet and about steady. Foreign bonds were mixed.

SMALL SUPPLIES LIFT HOG PRICES TO WEEK'S HIGH

A wide reduction in the supply of hogs thruout the nation yesterday lifted the prices in the Chicago stockyards to the highest level since Monday of last week and within 10 cents a hundred pounds of the highest February price in 24 years. Aggregate receipts were 21 per cent below a week ago.

Prices rose mostly 5 to 10 cents, only a few of the top loads failing to gain. Buyers paid an average of $15.30, a gain of 5 cents.

Large buying orders from eastern regious most affected by the beef shortage again held the market for good steers and yearlings firm. Other grades moved slower and some sales indicated weakness. Steady prices were paid for most heifers, beef cows, canners, cutters, calves, and bulls.

Lambs sold steady to 15 cents higher.

MARKET CURBS NOT PLANNED BY SEC, SAYS CHIEF

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 8 (AP).—Ganson Purcell, chairman of the securities and exchange commission, said today the SEC has no intention of "exercising its authority to close the securities exchanges."

Purcell said published reports that closing of exchanges had been proposed to the commission, along with other measures designed to curb a "boom" market, were based on "a confidential document of a routine nature prepared by members of the staff."

The memorandum "had not received the approval of the commission," Purcell said. "In fact, it had not even been discussed at any commission meeting."

PERSONAL INCOME TAX—16.

Every taxpayer is allowed a deduction called the "earned income credit" in determining the amount of his income subject to normal tax. If the taxpayer's net income [the amount shown as item 19 on return form 1040] is not more than $3,000, the earned income credit is simply 10 per cent of net income.

If the taxpayer's net [item 19] is more than $3,000, the earned income credit is either 10 per cent of the net income, or 10 per cent of the earned net income [item 1], whichever is smaller, but the credit is not less than $300 in either case.

Earned net income is defined as "earned income" less "earned income deductions." Earned income consists of salaries, wages, bonuses, professional fees, and other compensation for personal service, while earned income deductions are the necessary and ordinary expenses incurred in connection with the earning of such wages, salaries, and other compensation.

The provision that the earned income credit shall be not less than $300 so long as net income is larger than $3,000 means that all income up to $3,000 is regarded as earned income. Thus, an individual might have an income of $10,000, all of it from interest and dividends, yet he would be allowed to consider $3,000 of his income as earned.

The maximum earned income credit allowed any one is $1,400. This maximum would be attained only when both the net income and the earned net income amounted to $14,000 or more.

While earned net income ordinarily is the final figure entered as item 1 on return form 1040, an exception occurs when the taxpayer is in business for himself or is a member of a partnership. If the trade or business is one in which both personal services and capital are necessary to the production of income, as in manufacturing or farming, a "reasonable allowance" for services actually rendered by the taxpayer may be considered earned income. This reasonable allowance, however, is limted to a maximum of 20 per cent of his share in the net profits.

A partner who did not actually render personal service to the business would not be permitted to deduct an earned income credit on any part of his share in the partnership profits. Salaries drawn by members of a partnership are treated as part of the partnership profits, so that a partner drawing $5,000 salary and whose share in the profit was $2,500 would have a maximum earned income credit of $150 [20 per cent of $7,500 is $1,500, and 10 per cent of $1,500 is $150] on his partnership income.

In a profession or business in which capital is not a material income producing factor, the entire net income usually is considered earned income.

The taxpayer who uses the simplified return, 1040A, need not worry about the earned income credit; it is already taken into account in the computation of the tax tables on the back of the return form.

[Wednesday's article will discuss the computation of the income tax.]

EXPORTERS FACE NEW SHACKLES WHEN WAR ENDS

U. S. Official Says Peace Won't End Curbs.

our shirt away," said W. H. Stanley, conference chairman and vice president of the William Wrigley Jr. company, "but I'm afraid we'll need a shirt after the war."

Hector Lazo, assistant director in charge of the BEW office of exports, said the United States will play a dominant rôle in rebuilding the bankrupt post-war world, and asserted the present controls, which he admitted were irksome to business men, are necessary to carry on the war.

Defends Shipments Abroad.

"As shortages have grown in the United States," he said, "and as these shortages have begun to pinch at home, there has arisen the quite natural cry for conserving 'for the home front' those things of which we now have short supplies. As the war goes on, supplies may be shorter and increasing objections raised against shipping any civilian goods overseas which could be used by our people at home."

The public would not object, Lazo contended, if it were realized that such shipments are part of America's broad plan for economic justice thruout the world as outlined in the Atlantic charter.

"Realistic German business leaders, even tho they will lose the fighting war, will attempt to nullify our gains on the battlefield, and turn defeat into victory thru control of the economic sinews of the world," he said.

Wants Regional Offices Kept.

E. E. Schnellbacher of the United States department of commerce said foreign trade still approximates the 3 billion dollar annual volume of pre-war years. Private exports and lend-lease shipments aggregated 7 billion dollars in the first 11 months of 1942, he said. Exporters were advised to maintain their foreign contacts thru advertising.

The conference adopted resolutions opposing reported plans in Washington to drop the 15 regional United States department of commerce offices, and favoring extension of the reciprocal trade agreements act when it expires next June. Directors of the Chicago Association of Commerce also have gone on record against the reported curtailment program. The trade conference announcement said the Chicago office has been helpful in maintaining foreign trade, handling more than 500 inquiries weekly.

WILSON BELIEVES IN WIDER USE OF SMALLER PLANTS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8 (AP).—Charles E. Wilson, vice chairman of the WPB, told the house small business committee today his policy was to use small plants wherever possible "because I think they can be a more important factor in war production."

"I think it's silly, foolish, to allow the large plants to put in equipment to do what small plants can do, when small plants can be found to do the work," Wilson declared.

Wilson promised to investigate a complaint by Rep. Walter C. Ploeser [R., Mo.] that duplication of facilities in shipyards was threatening the economic ruin of small business establishments equipped to do the work, and was adding as much as $500,000 to the cost of 2 million dollar cargo vessels.

SHIFT INVENTORY CURB OFFICES TO NEW YORK CITY

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8 (AP).—The inventory control program for retailers and wholesalers will be administered from New York City instead of Washington, the WPB announced today, in order that government officials may be near the "major merchandising centers."

The space problem prevailing in Washington likewise will be alleviated by placing in New York the consumer goods bureau, which administers the stock limitation order, it was explained by Lewis S. Greenleaf Jr., bureau director. The offices will occupy the 14th floor of the Columbian Carbon company building at 42nd street and Madison avenue.

Egg Futures in Chicago Climb to Peak Since 1929

Fresh egg futures reached their highest levels since 1929 on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday as February and March deliveries closed 0.05 and 0.10 cent higher, at 35.60 and 36 cents a dozen. Demand was stimulated by announcement the government has purchased more than 5 million pounds of egg powder for lend-lease and other purposes. Firmness of the Chicago cash market was another factor. February onions dropped 3 cents to $1.90 a 50 pound sack. March potatoes remained inactive at their ceiling.

Shawnee Country Club Reorganization Approved

Federal Judge John P. Barnes yesterday approved a new plan to reorganize the Shawnee Country club, 911 Michigan avenue, Wilmette. Creditors and other interested parties were given until March 8 to file their acceptance of the plan, which provides an option to a new membership to buy the club's assets for $85,000 two years after the war.

Steel Production Is Cut 0.2 Per Cent This Week

New York, Feb. 8 (AP).—The steel industry has scheduled operations for this week at 99.3 per cent of capacity, the American Iron and Steel institute reported today. Last week's rate averaged 99.5 per cent.

People and Events

James C. Hart, former executive vice president of the Federal Machine and Welder company of Warren, O., yesterday became president of Taylorcraft Aviation corporation, Alliance, O., following sale of controling stock by Fairchild Aviation corporation to Alird, Bissel, and Meeds of Wilmington, Del.

Thad W. Hamilton, police superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad's western region, has been promoted to superintendent of the road's eastern region with headquarters in Philadelphia. He formerly was in Chicago.

Lowell W. Payne, assistant superintendent of the Indiana Harbor Belt railroad at Gibson, Ind., has been appointed superintendent to replace William P. Lamb, retired.

Personnel changes of Chicago and Southern Air Lines include promotion of Bernadine Zorn, Palmer House ticket office manager, to chief clerk of traffic with headquarters in Memphis, Tenn. She succeeded Mrs. Freddie Robertson, who has been appointed superintendent of manuals.

The American Warehouseman's association will hold its 52d annual meeting and industry conference tomorrow thru Friday in the Edgewater Beach hotel. The National Association of Refrigerated Warehouses and the merchandise division, groups within the warehousemen's association, will hold separate sessions.

RYE PRICE BREAK CAUSES DECLINE IN OTHER GRAINS

Affected by Hoover's Long War Forecast.

Liquidation developed in rye futures yesterday which pushed prices down about 2 cents to the lowest level in nearly three weeks on the Chicago Board of Trade. The close was at the bottom with losses of 1 to 2⅛ cents, the latter in July futures. Commission houses with eastern connections sold on the way down and some stop loss orders were uncovered on the break.

Former President Herbert Hoover's testimony before a congressional committee suggesting that the war might continue for several years had some effect, as it was taken as an indication there was little prospect of export business in rye for some time.

Rye Affects Other Grains.

Other grains were affected by the action of rye. Wheat declined ⅝ to ⅞ cent; corn, ⅜ to ½ cent, and oats, ¾ to 1⅛ cents. Soy beans last 2 cents in limited trading.

At the low May rye sold at 79⅝ cents, or 4¾ cents below the high reached slightly more than a week ago.

Buying by cash interests gave wheat a firm undertone in the early trading, but an upturn to above $1.40 for May was followed by increased selling thru hedging and profit taking and prices at one time were off about 1 cent from the high.

Indicate More Farm Sales.

Large receipts of cash wheat at southwestern and western terminal markets attracted considerable attention from traders as reports indicated that farmers were selling more freely.

Reports that the commodity credit corporation would ask congress for authority to sell additional quantities of wheat for feed purposes failed to have much effect.

Sears Sales Fall 18.6 Pct. Below Year Ago in January

Sears, Roebuck & Co. reported yesterday January sales declined 18.6 per cent to $56,698,833, compared with $69,626,863 in the corresponding 1942 months. Sales in the 12 months ended Jan. 31 were $904,944,043, against $975,712,422 in the preceding 12 months, a decrease of 7.3 per cent.

OPA Raises Top on Beehive Coke to Avert Shutdowns

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8 (AP).—In order to avert threatened shutdowns among producers of beehive coke, essential to steel production, the OPA today authorized a ceiling increase of 50 cents a ton in the price of beehive oven furnace coke produced in Pennsylvania.

WHAT THEY EARNED

Profits of the Chicago Flexible Shaft company, manufacturer of electrical appliances, excluding subsidiaries, declined slightly to $1,141,505 in the 52 weeks ended Dec. 26, the company reported yesterday. Profit was $1,512,756 in the preceding year. Earnings per capital share were $6.35, against $8.41 in 1941.

The General Finance corporation, Chicago, reported net earnings for the 12 months ended Nov. 30 at an all-time high. Profits totaled $989,786, or $1 a common share, compared with $726,022, or 75 cents a share, in the preceding 12 months.

Owen L. Coon, chairman of the board, said increased profits resulted from the acquisition of a manufacturing subsidiary and the financing of war industries. Profits in 1942 were 36 per cent larger on a 40 per cent smaller volume of business, he said.

ARMY AND NAVY KNEW OF PACTS, BENDIX REPLIES

Newark, N. J., Feb. 8 (AP).—Agreements made by the Bendix Aviation corporation, which the government charges were in restraint of trade, were made "with the full knowledge and sometimes at the request of the war or the navy departments," the company said in an answer to an anti-trust suit filed today.

Counsel for the corporation, Vincent Bendix, former president, Charles Marcus, former vice president, and Francis A. Stanton, New York patent attorney, answered a suit brought by the government last Nov. 19. The government charged that international agreements made by Bendix were in violation of anti-trust laws.

WPB PLANS USE OF IDLE PLANTS IN GRAND RAPIDS

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 8 (AP).—In an action designed to utilize a surplus of labor and idle industrial facilities, the WPB announced today that approximately 30 million dollars of war contracts would be let soon in Grand Rapids.

A. J. Stenger, acting manager of the local WPB office, said the contracts would be awarded principally to furniture and woodworking firms. Hugo A. Weissbrodt of Detroit, WPB deputy regional director in charge of the small plants division, he added, would come here this week to confer with about 100 manufacturers and conduct a survey of industrial facilities.

Normal business is 100% with automotive and aircraft industries.

Modern plant and equipmen located in central western town with excellent educational and living conditions.

If not presently engaged in War work and you are interested in a position where your own ability will be the only limit to promotion and advancement, write us at once, giving age, experience, and salary expected.

All applications will be treated as confidential and a personal interview will be arranged for at your convenience.

Now women as well as men may borrow from $10 to $300 on the strength of their jobs. Both office and factory workers are entitled to "while you wait" service if they phone ahead or come in with proper identification and evidence of employment. Even war workers on new jobs are eligible. Based on our monthly rate of 3% on balances of $150 or less and 2½% on that part of the unpaid balance above $150, the cost on short term loans, as illustrated above, is quite reasonable.
